He still has plenty of beautiful holiday goods, but he cannot tell how long they will last, and some items are already sold out.

Log School Houses.

The Salem Journal says that in the great state of Oregon there yet remains ninety-six log school houses. Of this number Lane county leads, having the small number of sixteen. Grant county comes in next with ten. Many of the other counties have from one to four or five. The counties that have no log school houses are, Curry, Malheur, Marion, Morrow, Polk, Wallowa, Linn and Yamhill. Some of the counties east of the mountains could not build log school houses if they so desired, unless they build them with sage brush. The leading counties in the valley have gotten beyond such structures for educational purposes.

Additional Particulars.

The following additional particulars of the recent fire at Halsey are obtained from the Weekly News of that place: The fire broke out in O. Howell's store about 4:45 o'clock, and was soon beyond control. The flames soon spread to the billiard hall, which stood about twenty feet away. Both buildings were a total loss. They belonged to Mr. J. Wigle, and we were unable to learn whether they were insured or not. By hard and continuous work the flames kept from spreading any further, although for some time it looked as though the old Exchange hotel, meat market and blacksmithing store would burn. R. Crawford succeeded in removing everything of value from the billiard hall and his loss will be light. The house hold goods belonging to M. H. Wallace were stored over O. Howell's store, and were a total loss. The fire appeared to have started in the center of the room, and had every appearance of being incendiary. The losses as near as we can learn are about as follows: Jake Wigle, two buildings, $2,000; O. Howell, stock of goods, $2,000, insured for $800; R. Bamford, damage to goods, $75. M. H. Wallace, household goods, 500.

Mr. Grant's Lectures.

Last evening Mr. Grant's lecture in the W. C. T. U. hall related to Mohammedanism in prophecy, showing that the Ottoman empire is near its end; and that, consequently the Gentile times are also near their close. When Jerusalem will cease to be trodden down, and Christ will come to introduce the millennium, it is very evident that Mr. Grant has given the subject special attention. Those interested in Bible prophecies cannot well afford to lose the opportunity of hearing these lectures. The meetings are continued every evening, Sunday excepted, Thursday, Question box answered. Subject tonight, "Is the Pope the Anti-Christ?" All bible school each afternoon from 3 to 4.

Change in Business.

From Jan. 1st, 1891, we will change our business to a strictly cash system, thereby enabling us to buy for cash and get our discounts, whereby we can, and will, give our customers the benefit. Our M. C. H. Mueller, while east, made arrangements to buy goods direct from the manufacturers at the lowest cash prices, and we will sell pure goods at the lowest cash figures. Believing that the people will appreciate a store where they can get goods at cash figures. We remain, Respectfully Yours,

MUELLER & GARRETT.

Store Closed.

The grocery store of Blackburn & Pironi was closed late last night on an attachment in favor of Portland creditors for $900. The stock had been previously turned over to J. J. Dubruille, who was security for the firm for $600. It is thought the assets will be ample to cover all indebtedness, and the financial trouble of the firm will be only temporary.

TEACHERS MEETING AT LEBANON.

They Demand a Change in the School Laws of the State.

Following is a report of the proceedings of the teachers meeting held at Lebanon last week, which has been furnished the HERALD for publication:

TUESDAY EVENING.

The meeting was called to order with Superintendent Russell in the chair, and a large number of teachers and citizens present.

Remarks by Prof. Russell, pointing out the good to be derived from the teachers meetings in general.

Song, "America." Recitation.

Suggestion by Prof. Wright that we have a query box, adopted.

The address by O. P. Coshow, jr., on "English as she is taught," brought out the fact that much of the school work of to-day consists of cramming the child's mind with a conglomerated mass of knowledge that can never do him any good.

Song, "Cricket on the Hearth," by Miss Dodd.

Quite an interest was taken in the questions in the query box.

Recitation by Miss Torbit. Song "Homeward Bound."

Meeting adjourned at 10 o'clock.

SATURDAY MORNING.

A large number of questions were taken from the query box. A very great deal of discussion followed, participated in by nearly all present.

Miss Utley gave a class exercise in calisthenics, which was good.

There were twenty-five teachers present.

Miss Abbie Fry gave a recitation. Song by the school. Adjourned for dinner.

AFTERNOON.

General questions of importance were discussed. The committee on School Law Amendments presented the following resolutions:

We, the undersigned members of the committee appointed by Supt. Russell, at the meeting held at Brownsville, Or., Nov. 21 and 22, 1890, to prepare recommendations asking for changes in our present school laws, do hereby submit the following:

1st. That in cases where teachers, who have held county certificates, are not permitted to teach in the interim of public examinations, that the law be so changed as to allow county superintendents to issue temporary certificates to such teachers as may, upon examination, prove themselves qualified to take the grade required under the present law at public examination.

2d. Also, that when a certificate has expired by limitation before the holder thereof has taught under it the length of time required by law to enable him to a higher grade, the county superintendent may, upon examination and approval, issue to such teacher another certificate of equal grade.

3d. Also, that the county superintendent may hold public examinations in different sections of his county to accommodate bodies of teachers.

4th. Also, that teachers obtaining certificates from county superintendents shall not be required to pay any fee therefor.

5th. Also, that a copy of these resolutions be furnished to each of the county papers for publication and a copy sent to each of the senators and representatives of Linn county, Oregon.

A. J. CONNELL,
Z. T. FRITES,
L. V. COFFMAN.

The resolutions were adopted as above.

Mr. M. A. Miller, mayor of Lebanon—in behalf of the citizens—gave the teachers a cordial invitation to come to Lebanon again. A vote of thanks was tendered the citizens of Lebanon for their hospitality. Adjourned.

Coming Jan. 10.

The National Ladies Concert Co., consisting of eight beautiful young girls possessing marvelous voices, will appear at the opera house in this city on Jan. 10. The Evening Journal says of them: Central Music Hall was literally packed from parquet to pit last evening by an audience composed largely of the Swedish inhabitants of Chicago, who had been attracted thither by the free announcement for the benefit of the Linnean monument fund. The novel feature of the evening's concert was the first appearance in Chicago of the Swedish Ladies' Octette. This company of singers hails from Stockholm, and consists of eight ladies who were trained and first secured in Germany [illegible] than Tennessee Anderson's Ethiopian Opera Company, the Boston Ideals, the Royal Opera at Stockholm and English concert company. [illegible] been [illegible] quality, and [illegible] been [illegible] Of the ladies appearing as soloists, Miss Norelius made the best impression, [illegible] "Mother's Wish, Norway Ver" with good effect. The deep contralto voice of Miss Hedenstrom was startling in the extent of its range and peculiarity of quality. Seats on sale at Will & Link's.

M. E. Church Dedication.

The new Methodist church, of this city, will be dedicated Jan. 4, 1891. Rev. J. W. Hamaker, D. D., of East Portland, will preach the dedicatory sermon at 11 a. m. and Rev. C. C. Stratton, councilor of the Willamette University, at 7 p. m. Dr. Hamaker has the reputation of being a very able preacher. He preaches somewhat on the Talmadge style. Dr. Stratton is one of the finest orators on this coast. All are cordially invited to come and hear these very able preachers.

LAND OFFICE BUSINESS.

Unfair Strictures Answered And Refuted.

A correspondent to a Chicago paper enters a serious complaint against the western land offices, especially those of Vancouver and Oregon City, making accusations that are upheld by the facts in the case. A part of these accusations are as follows:

"The officials sitting as a court of justice at Vancouver, Washington, and Oregon City, in this state, have decided that the public have no right to look over the maps, plats, etc.; that such privilege can only be granted upon the payment of a fee of 25 cents for each section of map looked at. In Dakota, Nebraska and other states, formerly one could obtain a township map showing the land taken or unoccupied upon the payment of $1. Under the present ruling of these two offices, instead of its costing an applicant $1 to look at thirty four sections in a township, the cost is raised to $8.50, as you are required to pay 25 cents for each separate map furnished, and as the offices in question only furnish a section on each map it requires thirty-four maps to complete a township, at a cost of $8.50 instead of $1. Another matter needing investigation is the land offices furnishing locators, or, at least, sending applicants to favored parties and dividing profits with them.

Mr. J. A. Bawden, of Portland, who has had extensive business with both of the offices named, very emphatically contradicts these statements.

Speaking of the office at Vancouver he says: "They permit any applicant to look over the plats and their books themselves.

If any person wishes a plat of any township showing vacant lands and the course of streams, he gets it made outside of the office, by parties who do that kind of work, for the sum of $1. They charge less if they make several plats, and their plats are the same size as the government plats, a twelve inch township plat. They never make plats showing a single section unless so ordered. When we call a sectional plat is a township plat drawn upon any scale and marked off into thirty sections and numbered.

At the Oregon City office the register, Mr. Apperson, has a man in his office who makes plats for anybody who desires them. This man also furnishes information about vacant lands. He furnishes a township map for the sum of 50 cents. He furnishes a twelve inch plat showing streams as well as vacant lands for 75 cents. He furnishes a twelve inch plat, made on tracing linen, showing lands filed on, name of party filed, kind of filing and also showing who has filed on their lands for $1. I do not think Mr. Apperson gets any of the receipts from the making of the plats.

The plats of the Oregon City land office are in very bad condition. Some of them are so mutilated that they will not bear much handling, and therefore Mr. Apperson does not permit the plats to be handled by applicants. As for Mr. Apperson's being established with large salaries and filing profits, no Oregonian will believe any such a statement. No man who shows him, during his honesty, there is a man of decided views, and intend to maintain them while he is there.

The receiver, Mr. Booth, is a democrat, and the law of rotation, they say, answers all charges against him."

A personal acquaintance of many years standing, with both Capt. Apperson and Mr. Booth, gives the lie to the statement of the Herald. I only know, that as long as [illegible] against the [illegible] City office are concerned, Mr. Hardesty is entirely right in saying they are false. Personal [illegible] the office, too, gives us the right to say that the business is conducted in the most gentlemanly and accommodating manner, and with justice and accuracy. The fullest information is placed before every applicant for statements in regard to vacant lands, and equal justice accorded to all.

Why is it that Klein Bros. can afford to sell boots and shoes so reasonable? Because they are both practical shoe makers and make their expenses by working on the shoe bench, and any boot or shoe every bit of them, no matter what kind it is, man, woman or child's, that rip, run over or the sole rips loose, they repair them for you free of charge, and as they do all the work themselves they don't charge you 25 to 50 cents a pair extra for a warranty to pay some shoemaker to repair them for you. They also make a specialty of repairing rubber boots.
