A QUARTER OF A CENTURY AGO

There is not a more well known citizen in this county than Mr. John Stewart, one of the wealthiest and most influential citizens in the county. In a recent letter he says "I had been suffering from pains in my back and general kidney complaint for some time and had used many remedies without any but temporary relief. The pains in my back had become so severe that I was prevented from attending to my work and could not move without the use of a cane. Hearing through a friend of the wonderful cures of Foley's Kidney Tea, I was induced to try a box, and from that very first dose I found instant relief, and before using half the contents of the box the pains in my back entirely disappeared. I have every faith in the virtues of the Oregon Kidney Tea, and can conscientiously recommend it to my friends. I would not be without it for any thing."

Oregon Kidney Tea cures headache, insomnia, retention of urine, brick dust sediment, burning or painful sensation while urinating, and all affections of the kidney or urinary organs of either sex.

SALMON PACK.

The Commissioners Make Their Report.

CONVICT DIES IN PRISON.

State Board of Agriculture Report—Changes Made—New Election Laws—Lumber Company.

SALEM, Dec. 3.—In the supreme court to day A. E. Currie, resp. vs. the S. P. R. R. Co., appellants, appeal from Linn county, was argued to-day on the side of the appellants.

The Myrtle Point Lumber Co. was incorporated to-day with a capital stock of $3000. The incorporators are J. R. Benson, J. H. Bryan, David Drew, W. R. Stewart and Wm Page.

The state board of building commissioners advertise for plans for remodeling the hall of representatives in the capital. The board has $10,000 to expend in this improvement. The change is for the purpose of remedying the acoustics defects in the hall.

The state board of agriculture's report for the year ending Nov. 30th, is in the hands of the governor. This is the seventh annual report and shows improvements and repairs made to the grounds and buildings during the year to be nearly $4000. These are all made with a view to permanency. The amount paid in premiums at the last fair was $5422.70. Speed programme, $10,543. The receipts were $27,716 and the balance $1288.

The election laws, a compilation of which has been in the hands of State Printer Baker since Thanksgiving, are now going through the press and will be ready in a week. They will be issued in pamphlet form and include the new Australian ballot bill passed at the last session.

Oscar Delagarde, a ten-year prisoner from Clatsop county, died of consumption at the state pen to-day. He has been there three years. His crime was manslaughter. There 382 men in the prison, no women. The terms of sixteen expire this month.

The state fish commissioners have made their fifth annual report to the governor for the year ending Nov. 30. The report shows that during the season twenty-three arrests were made for illegal fishing. The commissioners do not think there is any cause for alarm as to the future supply of salmon. They have faith in the propagation of salmon. During the year salmon, as shown by the report, was packed in tins as follows: Columbia river, 11,786,400 pounds; $122,750. Nehalem, 179,000; $14,000. Tillamook, 3800; $15,400. Siuslaw, 3500; $14,000. Coquille, 4000; $16,000. Rogue river, 210,0; $105,000. Total, 13,500,400 pounds; $1,392,150. Number of cases, 281,400. Fishing apparatus is valued at $214,000, and cannery buildings at $239,000. The commissioners close their report with regret that Oregon has taken no action to represent her rich fishing interests at the world's fair.

HOLIDAY SHOPPERS.

His stock is now in and holiday shoppers should lose no time in seeing his wonderful array which is not surpassed by any on the coast either in elegance or prices.

He also carries a gigantic stock of beautiful hanging lamps, stand lamps, bicycles, tricycles, safeties and velocipedes, which he guarantees to sell as low as any place in Oregon.

His assortment of fine teas and coffees is always complete, as well as a general stock of family groceries. He buys his goods direct for net cash and sells them the same way.

Christian Church at Roseburg.

One of the finest church buildings in the city of Roseburg was dedicated last Sabbath, for the Christian society of that city. The Review gives a report of the ceremonies and says that Elder J. F. Stewart, of Albany, made a short address at the morning session following the dedicatory sermon. The report of the building committee showed that the building had cost over $4000, and a collection was taken up to liquidate the outstanding indebtedness against it. About $900 was raised, and probably $500 will yet be necessary to free the church from all obligation. In the evening the keys were presented to C. A. Sehlbrede by Architect Perkins and that gentleman as chairman of the building committee made a very able and appropriate address. Dr. C. H. Hall, of Salem, Prof. E. B. McElroy, Hon. A. M. Crawford and Judge E. B. Preble each made a brief congratulatory speech. The church is without question one of the finest in Southern Oregon, and has been finished and furnished completely in every particular It is a credit to the city and speaks well for the enterprise and perseverance of its projectors and the congregation which will occupy it.

A STRANGE VISIT.

TO THE EDITOR OF THE HERALD.

Not many moons ago as I wandered wearily along my path way, with the surroundings disturbed only by the rustling of the wind, I sat me down beneath a sturdy and leafless tree, to ponderate and rest. There was no light save the moon, with its brilliancy now and then hidden from view, by the driving clouds, and in the stillness and cover of the night, I was soon lost in deep and solemn meditation. The hour hand on the dial of the city town clock I could not see, but it was nearing midnight, and whilst thus robbing nature of blessed sleep, I was startled by a strange voice that spake unto me in a strange and mysterious manner.

This stranger appearing thus as if from some phantom sleep, seemed a giant in strength as he did in height, with long white silver hair and beard, and was enrobed in a garment of snowy white. He spake unto me of many strange things; and among others he spake thus: "Behold in my hand a book, and of its precepts good and true, shall I read unto you, that you shall know of them and do them, for unto them that heareth and doeth them not, shall they be buried in the grave of their own sins."

He then opened the book, and with a trembling hand and tearful eye did read thus: "Many things, many things, my son, have I committed into the keeping of thy people and they have kept them not." Here this strange old man wept bitterly. He spake unto me of our city fathers, and of their doings and when in solemn council assembled, how they had denied the "Right of the People to Petition." A principle for which our forefathers declared their independence, and shed their blood on the snows at Valley Forge.

He spake also of the appropriation and management of the general funds by our stalwart city fathers and asked of me many queer and strange questions and said: "what hast the good city fathers made answer unto these things?" I replied nay; I know of no answer that hath been made.

He then spake of a great day coming when all would be right, when great multitudes would assemble, and go hence unto a place by law prepared for them, and would rebuke these unrighteous things, saying "they were not done in accordance with the will of thy people and their will must be done." This strange man with a word of assurance, that he would at some future day return, and with a wave of the hand as if by magic, disappeared in the darkness and went his way and was seen no more.

PECULIAR SERVANT.

She Wanted the Mistress' Husband for Herself,

WAS POISONING THE LADY.

A Fortune-Teller Set Her On.—Discovered In Time—The Diabolical Plan Spoiled.

RACINE, Wis., Dec. 3.—The attempt of some person to kill Mrs. E. W. Burrell by placing poison in her tea and coffee is a most peculiar case, and is surrounded by many sensational facts. Mrs. Burrell is the woman who created so much attention several months ago by fasting for thirty days for dyspepsia and was cured. The woman had never been sick much before this time, but since her recovery from dyspepsia she has had many sick spells, and for months she was unable to keep anything upon her stomach. Now she believes that her food and drinks have been poisoned all these long months. Mrs. Burrell has received anonymous letters of the vilest character, and one of them threatened her with death unless she left the city. She has no idea who wrote these letters. It seems that a servant girl who was employed in the family for many years had fallen in love with Mr. Burrell, although he had never paid the slightest attention to her. The girl went to a fortune-teller some time ago and was told that she would marry a man who lived in the same house as she did, after his first wife died. An analysis of the poisoned tea and coffee discloses the fact that there was strychnine administered in sufficient quantities to produce death had not the care received prompt medical aid. As Mrs. Burrell has entirely recovered, the servant has not been arrested and probably will not be.

ARRESTS IN LANE COUNTY.

A Correspondent from Walton, Lane county, writes under date of Dec. 1:

Since my last letter two of the citizens of Wild Cat have been arrested and are now in that foul hole that answers the purpose of jail for Lane county. Rumor has it that one of the White boys filed a pre emption right on a piece of land in the same section that Mr Allen, who was then serving a term in the asylum for the insane, held a claim, through mistake, commenced cutting shingle timber off from Mr. Allen's claim, and when he returned from the asylum, he had the men arrested for cutting timber off of governments land. That is he preferred charges, and the U. S. marshal has captured Wilson White and Walter White, and they go thirty days each in the county jail. Arthur White, and one McCalister are still wanted by the marshal. The sympathy of the majority of our citizens are with the Whites.

Yesterday and to-day we are having the worst weather of the season.

Mr. Atkinson is out on the road to Junction and return for a load of flour for Whitaker.

King of the Mound Builders.

The party which, under the direction of Chief Putnam of the department of Ethnology, of the Exposition, has been making excavations of the mounds in Ohio for three months or more, met with rare success on November 14 near Chillicothe, in making one of the richest finds of the century in the way of prehistoric remains. While at work on a mound 500 feet long, 200 feet wide and 28 feet high, the excavators found near the center of the mound, at a depth of 14 feet, the massive skeleton of a man incased in copper armor. The head was covered by an oval-shaped copper cap; the jaws had copper moldings; the arms were dressed in copper, while copper plates covered the chest and stomach, and on each side of the head, on protruding sticks, were wooden antlers ornamented with copper. The mouth was stuffed with genuine pearls of immense size, but much decayed. Around the neck was a necklace of bears' teeth, set with pearls. At the side of this skeleton was a female skeleton, the two being supposed to be those of man and wife. It is estimated that the bodies were buried fully 600 years ago. The excavators believe they have at last found the king of the mound builders.

Great Content.

In the exuberance of its good feeling the Eugene Guard says: The cattle graze contentedly on Skinner's butte within the limits of the city of Eugene. Green fields, fall flowers, greet the visitors to our Willamette valley. Western Oregon, from the southern limits of Jackson and Josephine counties to the northern boundaries of the Columbia river, cannot be surpassed.

Annihilating Sunday.

The Daily Astorian has been taking lessons in geographical science, and finds that if one starts from Astoria and journeys westerly, he will gain fifteen minutes of time for every degree of longitude traveled, and if he continues his trip around the world until he arrives at Astoria, the place where he started, he will have gained 360 degrees times fifteen minutes of time, or a whole day. His Sunday will come a day earlier than it did when he left Astoria. Schoolboys are familiar with these facts; and so is Dr. G. C. Lorimer, a noted Baptist divine, recently of Chicago, now in Boston. He boldly takes the position that there is no such thing as a divinely appointed Christian Sabbath. He approves of celebrating the first day in the week with religious worship, as a commemoration of the resurrection of Christ, but absolutely denies that the day has any sacred character.

The Question of Free Passes.

CHICAGO, Dec. 3.—The committee of presidents appointed Tuesday to draft the anti-pass legislation will recommend that exchange annual passes be issued only to officials of roads twenty five miles in length, to not more than three officials of fast freight lines, to one official of car lines, and to no one else. Trip passes are to be issued to employes, and in exceptional cases to other persons where it can be distinctly shown that it in no way influences business. A fine of $100 for each pass, annual or trip, not included in the above will be imposed. A secretary and executive committee are to be appointed, to whom applications for passes will be referred, together with the opinion of the road as to whether the pass should be granted. None of the roads are making preparation for passes for 1892 until the matter is settled.

The Judge Shed Tears.

UNION, Or., Dec. 3.—Judge Fee, of the circuit court, last night sentenced Evan Carver, who was found guilty of murder in the first degree, to be hanged, the execution to take place in the jailyard on January 21, 1892. This was the first sentence of death ever passed by Judge Fee, and his honor was unable to refrain from tears. Carver is a young man about 21 years of age. He had nothing to say, and took the sentence quite coolly. This is the first instance of a criminal being sentenced to be hanged in Union county.

Parnell's Mother in New York.

NEW YORK, Dec. 3.—Mrs. Delia Parnell, who expected to sail for Europe yesterday by the steamship Majestic, to be present at the settlement of the business affairs of the late Charles Stewart Parnell, was detained in New York. She is stopping with friends at 770 Amsterdam avenue. She said last night that her son John, who was to sail with her, had gone out on Tuesday, was away over night, and returned too late to catch the steamer.

Gas Explosion in Glasgow.

GLASGOW, Dec. 3.—There was an explosion of gas in the new underground railway beneath Anderson Cross in this city to-day. The force of the explosion was so great that the street was blown up compelling a suspension of traffic. Six persons were injured.

Hanged for Murder.

PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Dec. 3.—John McManus was hanged this morning for the murder of Eugene McGinnis February 21, 1890.

A Wedding of Antiques.

A notable wedding took place in the village of Smyrna, Aroostook, Me., the other day The groom, Moses Clark, had buried two wives and reached the respectable age of 70 years, but he was lonesome and longed for a third companion to make things smooth for him on life's homestretch. Accordingly he lavished his ripe and discreet affections upon Mrs. Robbins, the survivor of two husbands and seventy-two summers. The affection was mutual, the courtship lasted just one day, and on Sunday the well-preserved two were made a happy one. On the following evening a big crowd from the surrounding towns, headed by a brass band, serenaded the elderly couple at their residence. The old gentleman treated all hands generously and contributed to the general entertainment by dancing a reel.—New York Sun.

In the Morning.

"You are charged, sir," said the police magistrate, "with attempting to kiss this woman on the street. Do you plead guilty or not guilty?"

"Your honor," replied the bleareyed prisoner, taking a good look at the prosecuting witness, "I plead insanity."
