Local News.

Mr. E. Hawkens' son has been sick with the chills for the past few days, but is getting along nicely now.

The U. S. surveying cutter, Gen. H. G. Wright, has been making soundings about St. Helens bar this week.

Dr. Davis, of La Centre, will purchase Indian relics—especially rare ones, and will pay a good cash price for the same.

We hear good reports of superintendent E. E. Quick. He is said to be keeping a fine school at the Bay school house.

We notice a new building going up back of Judge Moore's office. Suppose it to be a woodshed. Glad to see the improvement.

Many people were in town Saturday to attend the trial, but did not see much, the trial being put off until next Thursday, October 8th.

Dr. A. B. Adams has this week received the bill of lading of his medicines, enroute from England, by the Star Union Line. He expects them to be here now very soon.

The Mechanics Fair opens on the 8th of this month. All should give it their helping hand. Be sure and give it a visit as you can learn much to your advantage by so doing.

The North Pacific Domestic and Fat Stock Show, commences October 12, and closes October 22. Admission 50 cents per day, or 1.50 for a season ticket. Ladies and children free.

We notice some of our young men are advertising in a Chicago paper for lady correspondents. To bad boys you can't find them near home. Hope you will succeed in your good work.

A day or two since a lad some eight years of age, said to his mother: "Mother are we Catholics or Episcopalians?" "We ain't any of them," said a younger brother, "we're Pacific Coast Pioneers."

Mr. E. Hawkins, of Warren P. O., has a fine march of some two hundred acres, in Yamhill county, which he wishes to sell. This is fine land. Some of the best wheat land in Oregon produces twenty-five bushels per acre every year. Hear says he will sell it at a bargain.

A certain book agent being in our office a few days ago, was asked whether he was a printer or not, he answered no, that he was travelling most of the time for a medical firm in San Francisco. He had better look out, as there is another agent at work at the same thing, and he may get left.

Rev. S. L. Lee, of the St. Helens charge, reports personally at this office that the work on his charge is opening prosperously. The field is an important one, including all Columbia county, and St. Johns, in Multnomah, and Brother Lee has health and energy to push the work.—Pacific Christian Advocate.

This week we made a visit to Mr. E. Hawkins' farm. While there we were shown some very fine canned fruit, which looked as if it had just been picked from the trees that day. We were told it was only put up in water; the water having been put through a process which keeps the fruit in every way. We should say that Mr. Hawkins has a good thing of it, and if he should work it up right he would make money out of it.

We have received several gifts of very fine apples from Mr. Taylor. He brought them over from his ranch on Sauvie's Island; for which we return many thanks. Sometime past we made a visit to his ranch and found it much finer than we at first supposed it was. Mr. Taylor wishes to sell this ranch, which is one of the finest on the island. He will sell it dirt cheap, and anyone wishing to get a first-class ranch would do well to examine this one before buying elsewhere.

The Dover [N. H.] Democrat says: "Mrs. Kate Sheehy, of South Newmarket, is 103 years old, and on Sunday last she walked from her home in that town in a funeral procession to the Catholic cemetery at New Market Junction, a distance of three miles, and back. Monday last she had her photograph taken for the first time in her life. She never wore glasses in her life, and can now knit and sew as well as a woman of 50. She was born in Ireland, and well remembers the scenes of the insurrection in that country in 1798.
