ROOSEVELT'S WASHINGTON DATES.

May 22—Bremerton, Everett, Seattle. May 24—Seattle. May 25—Elensburg, North Yakima, Pasco, Wallula and Walla Walla. May 26—Spokane, Tekoa.

TACOMA, May 22.—(Special).—The President called Tacoma the "City of Destiny" this afternoon at Wright Park, and captured the hearts of 30,000 people assembled there.

Tacoma's pet name. The cheering at all times during the President's speech was loud and prolonged, but when he referred to Tacoma by the name dear to the hearts of all true Tacomans, the women waved handkerchiefs frantically, the men swung their hats, and the youngsters screamed with delight.

Tacoma turned out the largest crowd of the day, and in the opinion of men qualified to judge, his speech was voted the best he has yet delivered in the Pacific Northwest, and by many of his party it was considered the ablest effort of his entire tour.

Great Elk's Chair as a Present. When the President, after a drive about the city, appeared on the grand stand, his eye instantly caught the sight of a great easy chair constructed of elk horns. He fondly passed his hands over the immense antlers as a child might over a coveted toy.

Then he examined the presentation plate, and finding out for himself before any one could tell him that it was his chair, he added in characteristic quick, earnest words: "That chair shall go to the White House at once."

Meets a Former Rough Rider. In opening his speech, the President stated he understood there was present a member of his San Juan regiment, and after concluding his remarks, he was presented to Private Otto Winter, of Bremerton, who fought with the then Lieutenant-Colonel Roosevelt in Cuba, being a member of Troop F, of the Rough Riders.

Notable Men in the Parade. Secretary Moody left Tacoma for Bremerton after joining in part of the parade, in which H. W. Scott, ex-Senator Squire, Senator Mitchell, ex-Governor Semple, John Barrett and Major J. Howard Watson were among the distinguished men not heretofore scheduled.

Senator Mitchell, Mr. Scott and Mr. Barrett were the President's guests on the trip to Tacoma, and on leaving Portland, in addition to these, President Melien and Mr. Byrnes came aboard for breakfast with the Chief Executive, and to ride with him to Kalama. President Melien piloted the President's train from Kalama north, and every switch, bridge and curve was guarded. It was observed that the guards at the switches stood on the opposite side of the track from the switch when the train passed.

Every charge of Count Cassini against the Russian Jew was touched upon and flatly contradicted. The Russian government was arraigned for its "fiendish ingenuity" in dealing with its Jewish subjects.

CALL TO ACTION

State Secretary Convenes Fair Board.

MEET IN PORTLAND MAY 29

Organization Will Then Be Perfected.

WILL PUSH EXPOSITION WORK

Plans Will Be Taken Up Where They Were Dropped—Subscriptions of the Railroads Are Made Available and Will Soon Be Paid.

The Lewis and Clark Centennial Commission has been called by the Secretary of State to meet in Portland next Thursday to effect permanent organization.

SALEM, Or., May 22.—(Special).—The first official meeting of the Lewis and Clark Centennial Commission will be held in Portland a week from today.

The members of the Lewis and Clark Centennial Commission are: W. E. Thomas, F. A. Spencer, Dav Raffety, J. C. Flanders, G. Y. Harry, Jefferson Myers, of Portland; J. H. Albert, Salem; Richard Scott, Milwaukie; Frank Williams, Ashland; F. G. Young, Eugene; C. R. Wade, Pendleton.

The organization of the State Commission will be followed immediately by the resumption of work on the Fair grounds, work having been ordered stopped a few weeks ago to consult with the State Commission before proceeding with the preparation for the erection of buildings and otherwise carrying out the plans for the big Exposition of 1906.

The preparation of the budget by the directors of the Fair will be the first important step taken toward the resumption of work in an effective manner upon the Fair preparations.

The money in the hands of the State Commission is larger than the amount under the direct control of the directors of the Fair, but the entire sum will be spent in a manner that will bring out the best results for the Exposition.

Railroads Will Soon Pay. The fact that the state appropriation is made available for Exposition purposes also saves to the fund the $30,000 which the railroads running into Portland had subscribed. The railroads all made it a condition of the subscription that at least
