F. L. MILLER'S GREAT
JANUARY SALE of Women's and Children's MUSLIN
UNDERWEAR

NOTWITHSTANDING the advance cost of cotton and all cotton goods we aim to make this the greatest sale of dependable daintily trimmed undermuslins that have ever been placed on the counters of any Corvallis store. How can we give you such values you ask. Because we sell such immense quantities that we buy our garments at a much lower price than smaller dealers who cannot use such large lots. These garments bear the label of the National Consumers' League which is a guarantee that they are made in light, clean, airy, wholesome factories, etc.

Sale Commenced Monday Jan. First

A couple of days ago Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Wiles, of this city, received some interesting views taken from the scenery about Eagle Point, Alaska. They were sent down from the far north by C. L. Andrews, a brother of Mrs. Wiles. Mr. Andrews is collector of United States customs at Eagle Point and that he is no amateur with the kodak is evinced by his work. His work with a pen is pretty good, as was demonstrated by an invitation extended our citizens to spend New Year's at Eagle Point. While the invitation was appreciated, it will not be accepted.

There came near being a hot time in Grant Elgin's harness shop Friday night from all accounts. It seems that Grant has been in the habit of keeping a box filled with saw dust near the stove in his place of business to do service as a cuspidor for friends who gathered there of stormy days and swapped experiences. It must have been that someone dropped a well lighted cigar stub in the box just before the closing hour, for later on Dave Osburn discovered considerable of a blaze and went in and put it out. The cuspidor was on fire. In order to get in Mr. Osburn was obliged to force the front doors. It was lucky matters were no worse.

To pass Nolan's Great Sale will be an injustice to your pocketbook.

Secretary of State Dunbar Thursday morning received a ten-cent piece from Thomas C. Gray, the Sumpter miner who originated the Alice Roosevelt dowry scheme. The coin was enclosed in a letter saying that it was a contribution to the dowry for "Our Alice." The original plans were that the contributions should be sent to the State Treasurer, but since Treasurer Moore declined to serve as custodian, Gray evidently thought to transfer the honor and responsibility to the Secretary of State. Mr. Dunbar also declined the honor, and returned the ten cents to Mr. Gray with advice to that effect. The dowry scheme has met unanimous disapproval here. These officials have both taken the proper view of this crack-brained scheme.

Imperfect Digestion.

Means less nutrition and in consequence less vitality. When the liver fails to secrete bile, the blood becomes loaded with bilious properties, the digestion becomes impaired and the bowels constipated. Herbine will rectify this; it gives tone to the stomach, liver and kidneys, strengthens the appetite, clears and improves the complexion, infuses new life and vigor to the whole system. 50 cents a bottle. Sold by Graham & Wortham.

COUNTRY CORRESPONDENCE.

OAK RIDGE.

Miss Lillith McKinney, of Corvallis, closed a very successful term of school at the Bandbox last Friday, and has been retained by the board for another term, which speaks well for her as a teacher.

Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Bareinger, of Hubbard, Oregon, are spending their holidays with the former's parents at Oak Ridge.

E. L. Davis and Charles Franklin, with three hounds, caught seven jack rabbits on Christmas Day.

A coyote passed down Muddy, Wednesday, and is supposed to be in hiding on the J. R. Rowland farm.

Mr. and Mrs. Pervine, of Portland, spent Christmas with Mr. and Mrs. G. Bareinger.

Feida Brady, the Philomath photographer, was in our vicinity this week taking pictures.

Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Hughes gave a Christmas dinner to all of their near relatives.

Miss Gertrude McBee, of OAC, is spending the holidays with home folks.

Four Hundred Babies.

St. Vincent's Infant Asylum, Chicago, shelters homeless waifs awaiting adoption, and there are nearly 400 babies there. Sister Julia writes: "I cannot say too much in praise of Foley's Honey and Tar for coughs, colds, croup and whooping cough." Contains no opiates and is safe and sure. Ask for Foley's Honey and Tar and insist on having it, as it is a safe remedy and certain in results. Refuse substitutes. Sold by Graham & Wortham.

No Dogs Allowed.

The following story is going the rounds at the expense of Conductor Webster of the Corvallis Express:

The train had just left Stark street, and the conductor was making his first round, when he observed a small white dog with a bushy tail and bright black eyes sitting cosily on the seat beside a young lady so handsome that it made his fatherly old heart roll over. But duty was duty, and he remarked in his most deprecatory manner:

"I'm very sorry but it's against the rules to have dogs in the passenger cars."

"Oh my! is that so?" and she turned up two lovely brown eyes at him beseechingly. "What in the world will I do?"

"We'll put him in the baggage car and he'll be just as happy as a robin in Spring."

"What! put my nice white dog in a dirty baggage car?"

"I'm awfully sorry, miss, but the rules of the company are inflexible."

"I think it's awfully mean, and I know somebody will steal it," and she showed a half notion to cry that nearly broke the conductors heart, but he was firm and sang out to the brakeman:

"Here Andy, take this dog over into the baggage car, and tell'em to take the best kind of care of him."

The young lady pouted, but the brakeman reached over and picked the canine up as tenderly as if it were a two-weeks-old baby, but as he did so a strange expression came over his face and he said hastily to the conductor:

"Here, you just hold him for a minnte," and he trotted out at the car door and held onto the brakewheel.

The conductor no sooner had his hands on the dog than he looked for a hole to fall through.

"Wh—wh—why, this is a worsted dog!"

"Yes sir," said the miss demurely. "Didn't you know that?"

He laid the dog down on the owner's lay, and walked out on the platform, where he stood half an hour in the cold, trying to think of a hymn tune to suit the worst sold man on the Southern Pacific road.

How to Avoid Pneumonia.

We have never heard of a single instance of a cold resulting in pneumonia or other lung trouble when Foley's Honey and Tar has been taken. It not only stops the cough, but heals and strengthens the lungs. ASK for Foley's Honey and Tar and refuse any substitute offered. Dr. C. J Bishop, of Agnew, Mich., writes: "I have used Foley's Honey and Tar in three very severe cases of pneumonia with good results in every case." Sold by Graham & Wortham.

Cured Lumbago.

A. B. Carnon, Chicago, writes March 4, 1803, "Having been troubled with Lumbago, at different times and tried one physician after another, then different ointments and liniments, gave it up altogether. So I tried once more, and got a bottle of Ballard's Snow Liniment, which gave me almost instant relief. I can cheerfully recommend it, and will add my name to your list of sufferers." Sold by Graham & Wortham.

Rev. Carlisle P. B. Martin, L. L. D.

Of Waverly, Texas, writes: "Of a morning when first arising, I often find a troublesome collection of phlegm which produces a cough and is very hard to dislodge; but a small quantity of Ballard's Horehound Syrup will at once dislodge it, and the trouble is all over. I know of no medicine that is equal to it, and it is so pleasant to take. I can most cordially recommend it to all persons needing a remedy for throat or lung trouble. Sold by Graham & Wortham.
