Two young men, three weeks ago, who married two sisters, were drowned few weeks ago while bathing. So says an exchange, and we are puzzled to know whether the point to the item was a warning to young men not to marry two sisters or to warn them after such marriage not to go in bathing.

We are informed, says the Coos Bay Mail, that there is a move on the part of the Catholic Church to establish a school and church at this place. Committees have been appointed to solicit subscriptions for funds to assist in constructing the necessary buildings, and negotiation has been opened for a suitable site.

Mr. J. P. Burkhart, correspondent of the Portland daily and weekly Standard, gave us a call Thursday. We found him an agreeable gentleman with whom we were pleased to meet—as will the citizens of Canyonville today, where he will be found picking up notes, and gathering subscribers for his newspaper.

The rooms up stairs in Abraham, Wheeler & Co.'s store are being finely finished, the parlors having rich mouldings overhead with rosettes in the centre of the ceilings. The work is by Mr. Harry Bellion and is first class in every particular. We hear it rumored that the entire upper story has been rented by an outside party.

An Irishman, name unknown, was caught in the act of attempting to steal a pistol from the bedroom of Mr. E. C. Dry, on Sunday last and Mr. Dry built a good head on him. The same Irishman also stole a coat from a Portland drummer and a valise. He has gone south, and should be watched. He is a medium-sized old man, with a crooked nose, and will steal anything he can lay his hands on.

THE ENTERTAINMENT.

The Presbyterian concert Thursday evening was a complete success, and the managers deserve much credit for the result which followed their efforts. The court-room was not so well filled as we hoped it would be, but the audience was a large one, and the entertainment a matter of profit to the church. The exercises began with, "Yes, We'll Gather at the River," by the band, and the music was very fine. So far we must give our Silver Cornet Band much credit. Its members have practiced early and late, and Roseburg can boast of as good a small band as can be found in the State It will continue to improve, until we have the best in Oregon. Following came the "Harvest Moon" by the choir, comprising Mesdames Flint and Selden, Misses Hill, Rice and Slocum, and Messrs. Flint, Wright, Strange and Benedict. Good practice was shown in the singing of this song by the choir. The music was harmonious and the soprano voices distinct and sweetly blended with the bass and alto which were toned to suit apparently without an effort on the part of the singers. Miss Ana Byars recited the poem, "Only a Dog," in a spirited and effective manner for one of her age, and was properly applauded. Mrs. Flint, assisted by Mrs. Slaid n and Mr. Flint, sang "Hang the Horse-shoe Over the Door" charmingly, and the song argued, so nicely was it sung, strongly in favor of the old Irish superstition and its observance. The address by Rev. J. R. N. Bell was listened to with marked attention. The subject, "The Bards and the Bible," was well chosen, and the speaker received the applause due him. Miss Fannie Friedlander then recited the "Housekeeper's Lament." The young miss has a good voice, and it has been properly trained—so well trained that many of those who profess oratory might with profit take lessons from little Fannie. The "Shadow Pantomime," was excellent, owing to Mrs. Newcomb's good reading and acting, and the efforts of Mr. Haffenden as "Benjamin." Miss Hill's song, "The Rosebush," was finely executed, and sweetly sung. Miss Hill has a strong, peculiarly sweet soprano voice, and assisted by Mrs. Flint, the song was the feature of the evening. Little Winnie Watson agreeably surprised all with her sweet song of "Somebody is Coming before the Dewdrops Fall." We have heard nothing that pleased us more than her little song, and personally we would applaud her for the happy feeling she imparted to all by her singing. Then came the choir once more, and the entertainment was ended. It was a treat but few will forget.

What a Farmer Can Do.

A farmer never knows what he can do until he tries. We believe that is true with most men, in all lines of business. To prove what can be done by farmers, we will state that Mr. J. B. Goodwin, assisted alone by his father, have raised and harvested and threshed on the Imbler farm this season 2,400 acres of wheat, and have paid out for hired help the trifling sum of $3 25 only. Alone they have performed all the work as regards raising and threshing the wheat, besides attending to other farm duties. Who can beat this?

A Pleasant Affair.

A pleasant party gathered at the residence of Miss Della Slocum last Monday evening. Those acquainted with that young lady and her fine social qualities, need not be told that she enacted the part of r hostess in a charming manner. Those who attended say as with one voice that the party was the most enjoyable of the season.

New Fall Goods

Mr. M. Josephson has just received a large stock of fall and winter dry goods, the most complete of any he has purchased for some time. Customers will find that Joe can suit them in quantity, quality and prices, and that he will not be undersold by any one.

THE GARFIELD CLUB.

Last Saturday evening the republicans organized by the election of J. W. Strange, president, and James H. Hazleton, secretary. There was music by the band, after which speeches were made by Hon. Binger Hermann, and J. C. Fullerton. Both speakers were heartily applauded several times. The president announced that 165 names had been signed to the roll of membership, and when the meeting closed, the republicans appeared to be more enthusiastic than they had been for some time. Since the organization of this club it is safe to presume that the presidential canvass has fairly commenced in Douglas county.

We here give the names of members of the club, as furnished us by the Secretary.

TRIED TO KILL HIMSELF.

The Albany Herald gives the following account of the attempted suicide of Rev. J. W. Stahl, so well known in this county: "The public is familiar with the name of J. W. Stahl. He is a minister of the gospel and has been connected with the Southren M. E. church over in the vicinity of the Forks. About two years ago his wife died, since which time he has been very despondent and claimed himself insane. Latterly he has been stopping with Frank Smith, who resides in Santiam precinct. A short time back he began to act strangely, and last week he left home, returning on the following day. This he did for three nights in succession, and when remonstrated with, replied it made no difference if his exposure did kill him. On last Tuesday evening he returned to Smith's house, and having been prevailed upon to don clean clothes, retired. A workman of Smith's hearing a noise in Stahl's room, informed Smith, who proceeded to the old man's chamber, burst the door in and found him lying on the bed with a razor in his hand, which he was in the act of drawing across his throat. Smith ran to him and grabbed his arm, which prevented the rash man from executing his suicidal act. He succeeded, however, in cutting a small gash in his throat, but not sufficiently deep to prove fatal. He was so bent on taking his life that in his struggle with Mr. Smith, he attempted to cut the latter with the razor. Medical aid was summoned and he is now doing as well as possible, under the circumstances. The unfortunate man has no relatives here but has relatives in Galena, Ill.

Mining Excitement.

"The people of Roseburg are considerably excited over a mining excitement of recent birth in that place. It seems that some old Indians who have been camped in the mountains east of that place for several years have told a romantic story of early times. They say that a party of Germans discovered some fabulously rich mines, from which they took hundreds of thousands of dollars, after which the Indians murdered them and buried the treasure. All the "foot-loose" men of Roseburg are "peeling out" towards the mountains to search for the lost cabin." The above is from the Portland Bulletin, and is without truth. The reporter of that paper should locate his imaginary stories farther away from home.

Came Near Losing a Finger.

Ad Bushnell, while oiling the threshing machine of Wiley & Co., in Camas valley, the other day, and had he not been quick in getting the hand out of the way of danger, he would have lost an arm. As it was he lost but one finger nail, which was torn completely from the finger.

Running Deer With Hounds.

A card elsewhere signed by Messrs. Jones and Dixon and Dakyns and Maxwell should be noticed by those who are in the habit of running deer with hounds. We here other owners of land will follow suit, in order that deer may not be run out of the country, and become more plentiful.

Lost his Sight.

It is reported that Sank Owens, the well known sporting man, has entirely lost his eyesight. He is now at Medical lake, and requires an attendant to lead him when he goes out. The cause of his misfortune is attributed to exposure in the open air while the sand was blowing.

New Goods.

Abraham, Wheeler & Co are daily in receipt of new goods from San Francisco which they are selling cheaper than the cheapest. Give them a call.

HORRIBLE ACCIDENT.

The Oregonian of Sept. 8th says: Yesterday morning about three o'clock Riley Wilson, engineer of the tug Rip Van Winkle lost his life under the following circumstances: The tug under command of Capt. Harlow, had an order to go to St. Helens, and at 2 A. M. Mr. Wilson started a fire and raised steam. About 8o'clock the tug swung out into the stream and started down the river. The boiler is in the hold, the fire box being near the middle of the boat and the boiler projecting forward toward the bow. Scarcely had a dozen revolutions of the machinery been made, when Mr. Wilson heard a hissing sound at the other end of the boiler. He slowed down a little, and walking past the boiler, stepping directly in front of the end. Scarcely had he stopped a second when the end of the boiler ripped open and let a full body of boiling water and steam out, striking him full in the face and breast, and hurling him directly into the stern of the boat, where the boiling water and steam deluged him, cooking his flesh to the bones. With superhuman energy he sprang to his feet and made his way out into the engine room. The captain, who heard the first warnings of the explosion, rushed to the engine room, and was horrified to see Wilson emerge from the side of the boiler, his flesh falling from hands and face and hanging in strings.

He was conveyed to St. Vincent's hospital and medical aid summoned, but without avail. Messengers were dispatched for his wife and his father, Mr. W. C. Wilson, of East Portland, who arrived and with whom he conversed freely concerning the accident. He lingered in terrible agony until 7 o'clock, when death put an end to his sufferings. He was about twenty-five years old and had the confidence and respect of all who knew him.

The cause of the accident is not known to a certainty. It may have been that the engineer allowed too much steam to be carried, or the boiler may have been defective. The case will probably be investigated by the proper authorities.

SENATOR MITCHELL'S SPEECH.

As per previous announcement, Hon. John H. Mitchell spoke at the court house on Tuesday evening last. Previous to the speaking, a stand was erected on the platform, festooned with flags and surmounted by four beautiful bouquets of flowers, gifts of ladies of the city. Long before the hour announced ladies and gentlemen commenced crowding into he room, and by 7,30 o'clock the crowd was so dense that it was hardly possible for the speaker to relieve his way to the stand. A great many were compelled to be contented with a simple standing room. Ex Senator Mitchell was introduced by the President of the Garfield club, Mr. J. W. Strange, and spoke just exactly two hours and ten minutes. In a short article it is impossible to give even an outline of the speaker's remarks; we will not attempt anything of the kind. The speech was free from bitterness and abuse of the opposition. It was an appeal to the reason and understanding of the voters present, and this was done without the waving of the ensanguine garment so often employed by speakers of less force and whose small understandings permit them to know of nothing else. Many times the remarks were greeted with cheerful and hearty applause, and by them the republicans were made enthusiastic in a high sense of the term. We do not think a better Republican speech will be made during the campaign; for even democrats so far admit its fairness as to say "Mr. Mitchell, even though a strong republican, is a fine speaker." It must be admitted, however, that Mr. Mitchell, while in the Senate, did many favors for Democrats and Republicans—treating them alike and never asking as to their politics when they had business for him to attend to, and he thus made himself popular with many of both parties, who were glad to see him once more, and who can never have for him otherwise than the kindliest of feelings.

Col. C. H. Larrabee will speak at the following places in Southern Oregon: Canyonville, Friday, 10th; Roseburg, Saturday, Sept. 11th; Oakland, Monday, Sept. 13th.

Shot Through the Head.

Wesly Liggett, a young man aged 21 years, son of Eliza Liggett, who resides near Philomath, committed suicide last Wednesday, by shooting himself through the head with a loaded shot gun. He had been ill for a week, and in the absence of the family on the atal morning, sent a boy who was stopping with him for a load of wood, and while the latter was out young liggett accomplished his purpose. The brief suffering he experienced is supposed to have temporarily deranged him.

Land Office Business.

The following business was transacted at the Roseburg land office during the month of August. 488 acres of land sold for cash; 10 homestead enteries, embracing 1,325 acres; 7 homestead enteries, embracing 938 acres; pre-emption filings, 17; 1 timber entry of 160 acres.

Appointed Manager.

Our old friend, Dick Lewis, writes to Mr. R Newcomb that he has been appointed manager of the Atlantic and Pacific Telegraph Company in New Orleans. Dick's many friends in Roseburg will be pleased to learn of his appointment.

Dead on It.

A happy couple came to Salem at 10 got married at 11, had dinner at 12, at 1 P. M. the bridegroom was dead drunk, at 2 a friend paid his fine and at 3 he was on his way home. Who says Salem is not a fast place.

Religious.

Rev. J. R. N. Bell will preach at Low Creek on the third Sunday in September at 11 o'clock A. M, and at Canyonville on the evening of the same day. These constitute the last appointments for the year.

UMPQUA FERRY.

Harvest is approaching an end.

Grain hauling in full blast.

Justice Cartwright seems to be having his hands full, performing marriage ceremonies.

The grain cleaner has at last been completed, and we hope it will prove a grand success.

Coquilleites are quite numerous in this vicinity, and although somewhat singular in their costumes, will average.

Joseph Rassette and wife passed through last week on their way to the Coquille, where they go to visit some relations.

Henry Chapman and W. L. Archambeaux, of the French settlement, are going to attend school at the State University, this fall.

Our Kelly has quit vulcanizing here for the time being. We guess that the landed propretor and him probably had a few suggestive ideas on some vulcan point.

Peters remarked that he is in good enough condition to satisfy the person who put that item in about him last week, and signed under the irresponsible cognoman of "Nettie." Sall in.

Samuel D Evans started last Thursday morning, on his way to Lincoln, Illinois, where he goes to attend school. We are sorry to see you leave, Samuel, but hope you have made a wise move in so doing.

Frank Hankins and Miss Livingstone, of Cleveland, were united in the holy bonds of wedlock last Sunday, at the residence of the brides parents by Justice Cartright. They take their departure for Eastern Oregon in a few days.

Henry Woodward paid this section a visit last week, with several good books, and some Garfield and Hancock charts. His sales were confined to Garfield pictures mostly, for we want none of Hancock—for he has made a picture unsaleable on records of this country now. In what manner we will not say.

Died, on the 1st inst, at one o'clock P. M., the youngest daughter of R. Pachette. The little one only came into this world of sorrow and trouble about one month ago, but is now in that happy land where pain, sorrow and trouble is not known. The bereaved parents have the heartelt sympathy of the entire community.

W. B. Clark met with a painful accident last week in this manner: He was tying a wild horse in the stable which he had traded for, and somehow got his finger in the rope when the horse pulled back, bringing his finger in contact with the manger and pulling the end of it off. This was quite a serious accident, but we hope that it will prove of little if any consequence.

I Wish Everybody to Know It.

Rev. George H. Thayer, an old citizen of this vicinity, known to every one as a most influential citizen, and Christian Minister of the M. E. Church just this moment stepped in our store to say, "I wish everybody to know that I consider both myself and wife owe our lives to Shiloh's Consumption Cure."
