THE K. OF P. GRAND LODGE.

For the thirteenth time, the Grand Lodge of Oregon, Knights of Pythias, meets to enact legislation for the jurisdiction, and to elect officers for the coming fiscal year. It is not every town the size of Heppner that has had the pleasure of witnessing such a gathering. In fact, the Oregon Grand Lodge of this fraternity has never before met in as small a place as Heppner, with, perhaps, one exception, the meeting at Pendleton of 1887 Pendleton at that time was but little if any larger than Heppner is at present.

While our town is not a second Denver, yet we think that the visiting Knights will go away impressed with the fact that we are, as has been said of us, "the biggest little town in the state." The fraternal zeal of the Heppner Knights is true as steel, and the patriotism of our citizens the genuine sort. The Gazette believes that the Grand Lodge will not regret having held their thirteenth annual convention at Heppner.

The composition of this Grand Lodge will certainly compare favorably with those of other leading fraternal organizations, or with any body of citizens, in fact, let them be gathered together for whatever purpose. Of such material are good and true Knights made and without boasting, we believe them a fair sample of the Oregon brethren. Without delving deeper into the mysteries of Pythian Knighthood, one must see immediately that the order is an exponent of better deeds and nobler lives.

So far nothing has happened to mar the pleasure and profit to be gained by the meeting. And it is hoped that when the deliberations of the Oregon Grand Lodge are finished much good work will have been done, and that all will leave with the best of feeling toward our citizens and Knights of Pythias.

ABOUT 20 years ago three young men were publishing the Daily Herald in Portland. These young men were Eugene Semple, A. Y. Ames and Sylvester Pennoyer. There seems to be a gubernatorial bee buzzing around the Herald sanctum, for all of them have since been nominated for governor and two of them elected—Semple in Washington, Pennoyer in Oregon, and Ames—almost—in Minnesota.—Astoria Budget.

SECRETARY CARLISLE'S reply to the resolution of the house, asking why 4,500,000 ounces of silver were not purchased each for the months of July and August, was flimsy indeed. He simply says it was held too high and he refused to obey the mandates of the law. If such an excuse is a valid one, any law can be evaded, and our republican form of government is in danger.

MCKEARY has introduced a substitute measure for the Tucker bill for the repeal of the federal election laws. It does not strike out the section referring to the punishment of individuals for bribery and also the one containing the declaratory principles of the fifteenth amendment.

THE Telegram wants to know "why wouldn't it be a good scheme to slice off a little corner of the East and annex it to England? The rest of the country would be run on the American plan."

THE democratic and republican convention have met in New York and have nominated candidates for all state offices except governor and lieutenant governer. The Hill fellows ran the first-named to suit themselves.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE NOTES.

The state agricultural college opened on Thursday of last week for the matriculation of students, but the work of recitation did not begin until Monday morning. The classes have all been organized and the program for work arranged.

The most encouraging thing in connection with the opening of the college is the fact that there are more students in the college than at any other previous opening.

The preparatory class is much smaller than usual. This is due to the fact that the board of regents excluded all students from cities of 2,000 inhabitants and above, from entrance in that department. It was believed that cities of such population could and should prepare students for entrance to the college in their public schools.

The whole number now enrolled in the college is 198, and several more are now being examined for entrance. Considering that the preparatory department has been cut down, this shows that the college department has enrolled 40 students more than last year.

A meeting of the State Horticultural Society will be held in Corvallis on the 24th and 25th of October. It is the duty of those in charge of the college, and should be that of all citizens, to make this the best meeting the society has ever held.

The college authorities have contracted for the erection of a brick storeroom 20x30 feet and one story high. This is built near the boys' dormitory. This building was much needed here. There is also a water pipe to be laid from the mechanical building to the dormitory.

The cadet band has again made its appearance and is at present under the leadership of W. W. Looney. The boys have gone to work with a will and hope to be able in a short time to furnish all the music necessary for college entertainment, etc. Pres. Bloss has kindly offered to set aside one of the rooms in the new mechanical building for the exclusive use of the band.

A lynx or wild cat has been sent to the Zoological museum by Percival Nash. It is being mounted in Portland. A black bear is promised from the same source if he can catch him. We note also as new, a model of a seal canoe used in Alaska by the natives in hunting seal; also a native dugout.

Prof. Shaw has arranged for quite an addition to the mineral cabinet, which is soon to be arranged to show the state to better advantage. Donations to this collection are always appreciated.

KNIGHTS OF PYTHIAS.

The Thirteenth Annual Convention at Heppner is Ushered into Existence Appropriately.

PARADE EXERCISES AND OTHER MATTERS

Then the Grand Lodge Will Get Down to Business—A Few Scattering Scattered Notes.

As per previous arrangement, the greater number of the delegates to the Thirteenth Annual Convention of the Oregon Grand Lodge, arrived at 4:30 o'clock, this morning. Notwithstanding the early hour, they were met by the Heppner band and the various committees, and the brethren, good-naturedly placing themselves in the care of Doric Lodge members, were soon provided with rooms. A jollier crowd of Knights never met together, and if mistakes were made, they were looked upon as such and not intentional, thanks be to the gallant spirits of the mystic triangle.

Morning was spent in pleasant conversation and general recuperation after the night's ride on the cars. Our little town was looked over and noted a "big, little city", for certain. Many have friends here, and the reunions were numerous and pleasant.

The parade came off in good time, but was confined entirely to the sidewalks. A slight sprinkle of rain made it rather uncomfortable, but like the festive Eastern Oregon insect, the Knights "got there". Owing to the muddy streets, the route of march as given before, was not strictly adhered to.

The exercises at the hall were carried out to the letter, with the exception of the oration which was delivered by Dr. J. L. Hill, appointed in the absence of E. D. Curtis. He did well.

The regiment of Uniform Rank Divisions met at 4 o'clock and proceeded to the election of officers.

NOTES.

The grand officers at present are: J. T. Hayne, P. G. C.; E. E. Sharon, G. C.; J. A. Waddle, G. V. C.; J. L. Hill, G. P.; Geo. F. McConnell, G. K. of R. & S.; E. M. Sargent, G. M. of E.; E. P. Geary, G. M. at A.; J. O. Watts, G. I. G.; Chas. Fellows, G. O. G.; Geo. W. Hochstedler, S. R.

Many of the good members of the Knights of Pythias, where involved in the noble duties of a Benedict, have seen fit to bring their wives along with them. Some belong to that noble auxiliary, the Pythian Sisters, and we predict for them some pleasant fraternal gatherings while here.

Among the people attending Grand Lodge as representatives, our reporter noted A. B. Singleton and E. E. Long No. 1, Portland, Frank Motter and J. H. Small, No. 2; C. S. Benner and Dr. F. A. Golden, No. 3; H. L. Hexter, No. 24; W. A. McClain and W. M. Parker, No 7; C. E. Bayard and John Michell, No 9; L. Carstensen and G. W. Povey, No. 10; M. P. Burnett, No. 11; H. Clupp, No. 12; J. P. Kennedy and R. McMurphey, the latter an irrepressible insurance agent, No. 13; W. S. McCroskey and Astoria's P. M., J. W. Hare, No. 17; Messrs. G. C. Will and G. B. Woodford, No. 18; C. H. McCollough, No. 21; H. J. Hicks and S. Patterson, No. 23; Fred Snow and George Hurlburt, No. 25; J. A. Ahlstedt and Al Johnson, No. 26; F. T. Abbott, No. 27; Turner Oliver, No. 28; S. S. Watterman and T. D. Taylor, No. 29; Enyart and M. W. Sheel, No 31; J. H. Aikin and B. S. Jett, No. 32; Lewis Cook, Baker City; Mr. Winter, and E. K. Henderson, No. 33; Geo. Schulmerich and R. D. Greer, No. 34; C. M. Hinkle and Geo. Cussiter, No. 35; R. B. Goodin and G. W. Marsh, No. 37; W. P. Vis and Jas. Bailey, No. 39; Ed. Courier, No. 41; A. Tozier and F. J. Benson, No. 42; A. S. Autenson, Ed. Woodburn, Independent, and Dr. L. W. Guiss, No. 44; E. C. Willey, No. 46; G. B. Cowl and L. E. Yates, No. 51; C. W. Lamson, No. 52; C. L. Hawley, No 53; V. C. Brock and C. J. Bright, No. 54; L. A. Jackson and L. Winther, No. 55; W. S. Hurst, clerk of the Oregon Miller's Association, No. 56; G. W. Whitney, No. 57; W. J. Deitz and H. B. Hedges, No. 58; T. H. Dupuy, No 59; H. Matthies, Ed. Oregon Knight, No. 60, organized last Saturday evening and the youngest lodge in the jurisdiction.

So far as known, every Grand Lodge officer is present. Also Past Grand Chancellors Hume, Buchanan, Hochstedler, Jett and Cleveland. Several ladies have accompanied their husbands and Dorian Temple No. 6 will endeavor to make their stay as pleasant as possible.

Little trouble was experienced in finding rooms for the visitors, and all promises well.

The usual rustle for grand offices is being made. There is no use of disguising the fact that the boys do use some good, practical politics in these matters, and a fourteen-mule team couldn't stop it. As this always ends pleasantly no one begrudges the boys this bit of fun.

All Knights in good standing, together with ladies, are expected to be present at the ball this evening. Also invited guests out of the order.

Heppner has taken a deep interest in decorations, and few of the business houses have not the blue yellow and red.

Our sister fraternal organizational, the Odd Fellows, is taking a deep interest in the Grand Lodge doings. Their colors float proudly from their flag-pole, and their hall is at the disposal of the Knights.

The contest for Supreme Representative promises to be interesting.

E. D. Curtis, Grand Orator, has not arrived and much disapointment is expressed by the Knights. Ed is a good speaker and his effort was looked forward to with much interest by all.

Some Knights are expected this evening and the committees and band will meet the train.

Bro. Kelly, of No. 43, came in late yesterday. Jeff Myers, of Scio, Lodge is also present. His colleague is Bro. Coffey.

The Gazette acknowledges a pleasant call from Editors Autenson, Carter and Tosier. Also of other Knights outside of the list of typographical errors, which does not include Bro. Michell who came in late.

Prof. Miller made a fine parachute jump this afternoon just after the exercises closed at the hall. It was the best ever seen in Heppner.

PATENTS

FOR INVENTIONS.

Equal with the interest of those having claims against the government is that of INVENTORS, who often lose the benefit of valuable inventions because of the incompetency or inattention of the attorneys employed to obtain their patents. Too much care cannot be exercised in employing competent and reliable solicitors to procure patents, for the value of a patent depends greatly, if not entirely, upon the care and skill of the attorney.

With the view of protecting inventors from worthless or careless attorneys, and of seeing that inventions are well protected by valid patents, we have retained counsel expert in patent practice, and therefore are prepared to Obtain Patents in the United States and all Foreign Countries, Conduct Interferences, Make Special Examinations, Prosecute Rejected Cases, Register Trade-Marks and Copyrights, Render Opinions as to Scope and Validity of Patents, Prosecute and Defend Infringement Suits, Etc., Etc.

If you have an invention on hand send a sketch or photograph thereof, together with a brief description of the important features, and you will be at once advised as to the best course to pursue. Models are seldom necessary. If others are infringing on your rights, or if you are charged with infringement by others, submit the matter to us for a reliable OPINION before acting on the matter.
