Nervous Prostration

Complete Recovery by the Use of

Ayer's Sarsaparilla

"Some years ago, as a result of too close attention to business, my health failed. I became weak, nervous, was unable to look after my interests, and manifested all the symptoms of a decline. I took three bottles of Ayer's Sarsaparilla, began to improve at once, and gradually increased my weight from one hundred and twenty-five to two hundred pounds. Since then, I and my family have used this medicine when needed, and we are all in the best of health, a fact which we attribute to Ayer's Sarsaparilla. I believe my children would have been fatherless to-day had it not been for Ayer's Sarsaparilla, of which preparation I cannot say too much."—H. O. HINSON, Postmaster and Planter, Kinard's, S. C.

Come as it may, a faithful course of treatment with Hood's Sarsaparilla will overcome it, for working upon the foundation of all disease, impure blood, the system is clarified and vitalized, and vigor, strength and health restored to the body

THE LONE STAGE ROBBER.

He was a Young Man Named Elda Wood —Held up the Coos Bay and Roseburg Stage—Brought to Portland.

From Saturday's Telegram.

This morning United States Deputy Marshal F. W. Carroll, of Roseburg, arrived here, having in custody Elda Wood, who is charged with holding up and robbing the stage running regularly between Roseburg and Coos bay. It will be remembered that the stage was robbed on the 6th of last August by a "lone highwayman," while coming from Coos Bay to Roseburg. At the time there were only three passengers on board, besides the driver—two men and a woman. The robber made a very light haul, getting only $2 from each of the men. The woman had considerable money with her at the time, but the highwayman was too gallant to ask her to hand it over to him.

The hold-up took place about 2 o'clock in the afternoon, while the stage was near Olalla postoffice, and station. The robber made his sudden appearance at the roadside, holding in one hand a cocked bulldog relolver, and in the other a 44-caliber navy revolver. He called out in a loud commanding tone to the driver to "halt!" an order which was instantly obeyed. The robber then told the driver to throw out the mail. The driver tossed out the mail pouch, when the highwayman said: "Throw out the sack which has the brass lock."

This order was also obeyed, when the robber told the two male passengers, who were seated outside with the driver, to "pungle." They threw down all the loose change they had, which was a very small amount. During this time the woman, who was seated on the inside, was in a state of great trepidation, expecting it would be her turn next, but to her surprise and joy, the robber passed her by, and allowed the stage to go on its way.

The robber had on a pair of blue cotton overalls and wore an old coat. His face was concealed by a mask made of a piece of flour sack, his features not being visible except the eyes.

As soon as the robbery was reported, Sheriff Cathcart, his deputy, Mr. Reeves, and Deputy United States Marshal Carroll started on the track of the perpetrator.

It proved rather slow work, for Wood was not captured until September 25. The officers were busily engaged in searching for evidence, and in keeping a sharp lookout for the robber. He was finally located by a man who came and told the officers that he knew where Wood could be found. He was working in a saw mill about 45 miles east of Grant's Pass, and was going under an assumed name—that of James McManus.

The officers lost no time in placing him under arrest. He made no resistence, but did some kicking because the officers insisted upon putting handcuffs on him while bringing him to Roseburg. Wood a few days ago had a preliminary examination before United States Commissioner Loughary. Two days were consumed in the examination, resulting in Wood being held to answer the charge of robbing the United States mails, his bonds being fixed at $1500, which sum he was unable to furnish. District Attorney George M. Brown represented the government at the examination. Wood had made certain admissions to Brown before the examination, which practically amounted to a confession. Mr. Brown was placed on the stand and testified as to the conversation he and Wood had regarding the robbery. This evidence was very conclusive against the prisoner.

Wood is about 23 years of age, and though not a very tough appearing young man, has a sort of sneaking expression of countenance. He went to Olalla early last April from Marion county and began to work on a farm. He was employed during July to assist in the postoffice, and while there he made himself acquainted with the workings of the office and mails. There was a boy in the postoffice from whom he learned some matters, by plying him with questions. It was from the lad that he ascertained that the through mail pouch had a "brass lock on," and that was the sack he told the stagedriver to throw out. Wood had also told two men at Olalla that when he got ready he proposed to hold up the stage, and intended to do a good job; that he did not propose to remain around Olalla all the time. The testimony of the boy and the two men at the examination made matters look very cloudy for Wood. The two pistols supposed to be used by Wood at the hold-up, were purchased from the postmaster at Olalla, and were identified by the stagedriver.

With the exception of what Wood told District Attorney Brown, he declines to make any statement regarding the robbery. Wood claims to have relatives residing in both Jackson and Marion counties. He was placed in the county jail here to await the action of the United States grand jury, which will convene in a short time. United States Deputy Marshal Carroll will return to Roseburg on this evening's train.

BEN C. IRWIN IS DEAD.

A Well Know Portland Business Man Dies in Murray, Idaho.

From the East Oregonian.

Ben C. Irwin, president of the Irwin-Hudson Company, manufacturing stationers, died at Murray, Idaho, on last Saturday. He left Portland 10 days ago on a business trip, then in the best of health, and he was sick for three days. A telegram stated that his condition was serious, and that Mr. Irwin expressed a desire for his wife to come to him. Mrs. Irwin left for Murray, Friday night, hastening to join her husband, and nurse him back to health, but hours before she reached him he was dead.

Although dying far away from home and denied the privilege of seeing his wife and child, there were those bound to him in strong fraternal ties, who did all possible for a stricken brother, and in true Pythian friendship watched over him day and night until the worst had come.

Mr. Irwin was well known in Pendleton and throughout Oregon. For many years, he was the representative of the St. Louis house of George D. Barnard & Co. Several years ago, Mr. Irwin began business for himself, organizing the firm of Ben C. Irwin & Company, and going on the road a part of the time. This brought him in contact with officials in every county in Oregon and portions of Washington.

Mr. Irwin married Miss Minto, daughter of Chief of Police Minto, of Portland. Mrs. Irwin and a son survive Mr. Irwin.

The disease which carried him away was typhoid pneumonia. Mrs. Irwin met the remains at Wallace and passed through Pendleton Sunday evening on her way to Portland, where the funeral takes place under the auspices of the Knight of Pythias.

None But Ayer's at the World's Fair

Ayer's Sarsaparilla enjoys the extraordinary distinction of having been the only blood purifier allowed an exhibit at the World's fair, Chicago. Manufacturers of other sarsaparillas sought by every means to obtain a showing of their goods, but they were all turned away under the application of the rule forbidding the entry of patent medicines and nostrums. The decision of the World's fair authorities in favor of Ayer's Sarsaparilla was in effect as follows: "Ayer's Sarsaparilla is not a patent medicine. It does not belong to the list of nostrums. It is here on its merits."

FROM LEXINGTON.

The Morrow county monthly teacher's meeting convened at the public school house at 10 a. m. today. Supt. Miss Baisiger was present and called the meeting to order. The object of the meeting was to discuss the first year's work as outlined in our new course of study. Miss Kinsman opened the discussion of "Physiology and Hygiene" which was followed by others. Mr. A. W. Baisiger then introduced the subject "Numbers," which was followed by the subject "Language," by J. E Tibbets.

The afternoon session commenced about 1 30 p. m. and lasted throughout the early part of the afternoon. Further discussions were had on "Reading," by Mrs. M. Johnson and Mr. R. Glasscock and "Writing," by Miss Ada Gentry, primary teacher of our school. Questions about methods and the course of study were freely asked and answered and throughout the session the meeting was attended with interest and enthusiasm. A course of study in this county is certainly what we have long needed.

Quite a number of Lexington citizens were present which proves the interest that our people have in the advancement of education.

BIG PROFITS —ON— SMALL INVESTMENTS

Returning prosperity will make many rich, but nowhere can they make so much within a short time as by successful speculation in Grain, Provisions and Stock.

$10.00 FOR EACH DOLLAR INVESTED Can be Made by Our

Systematic Plan of Speculation

originated by us. All successful speculators operate on a regular system.

It is a well-known fact that there are thousands of men in all parts of the United States who, by systematic trading through Chicago brokers, make large amounts every year, ranging from a few thousand dollars for the man who invests a hundred or two hundred dollars up to $50,000 to $100,000 or more by those who invest a few thousand.

It is also a fact that those who make the largest profits from comparatively small investments on this plan are persons who live away from Chicago and invest through brokers who thoroughly understand systematic trading.

Our plan does not risk the whole amount invested on any trade, but covers both sides, so that whether the market rises or falls it brings a steady profit that piles up enormously in a short time.

WRITE FOR CONVINCING PROOFS, also our Manual on successful speculation and our Daily Market Report, full of money-making pointers. ALL FREE. Our Manual explains margin trading fully. Highest references in regard to our standing and success. For further information address

Otis Patterson NOTARY PUBLIC & CONVEYANCER CALL AT OFFICE

We Call the Attention OF THE PUBLIC

TO THE FACT that when a merchant advertises that he or they can undersell anyone else, he is talking through his hat; or, in other words, he is a liar and the truth is not in him. We do not claim to undersell every one else, but we defy any man to undersell us; that is an advantage that no man has over another providing they be truthful to their brother merchants (which we are sorry to say is not the case with Heppner merchants.)

• • • •

We invite the public to inspect our stock, and believe you will find it a clean, fresh, first-class stock and well selected, and our prices are as cheap as any store in Eastern Oregon.

• • • •

Call and see us and you will find we mean just what we say.

Very Respectfully Yours,

HORNER & RHEA.

We're hard a poet,
We'll let him do it,
And the public will hear what he'll say.
He'll truthfully tell you
That no one can sell you,
Cheaper than Horner & Rhea.

Other posts have boasted,
But now they'll get roasted,
For the people don't care what they say
Step in for a minute,
You'll find we are in it,
And you'll buy of Horner & Rhea.

Step into the store
And look the stock over,
You'll find us the same every day.
You want be deceived,
And we'll be believed,
When you purchase of Horner & Rhea.
