The Portland Evening Journal claims to be a Republican paper. What a josh.

And now Boston is up in arms. Restaurant keepers have advanced the price of baked beans.

Morrow county is a Republican county. Let us make it imphatic on the second day of next June.

G. W. Phelps for joint representative and J. W. Scriber for joint senator are both representative men and should receive a big vote.

Indications are that the entire Republican ticket will be elected in Morrow county. No Republican offer a reasonable excuse for not supporting the ticket.

In every precinct in the county reports indicate that Vawter Crawford will get a big vote. Mr. Crawford is an obliging and competent clerk. He deserves to be re-elected.

There ought to be some food for thought for Judge Lowell and a few others in the following: "If our party stands for anything, it is for the principles of Government, and the administration which has made the country great and prosperous, but these principles cannot be maintained if men who are defeated at the primaries seek revenge by uniting with the opposition."

Beef still goes up by the manipulation of the beef trust. During the month of April prices were advanced in the Estern cities from eight to nineteen per cent. Several labor organization have passed resolutions to boycott beef. If prices continue to go up, it will be a sort of a forced boycott because poor people cannot afford it. The great injustice is that the advance is only to the consumer, while the grower is allowed only a small advance in prices.

The coming election in Oregon is looked to in the East with great interest. Senator Hanna, chairman of the national committee recently said: "Any great falling off in the Republican vote in Oregon will be used by the Democrats all over the country as an indication that Republican policies are unpopular. Republican success in Oregon will be a great encouragement to the party, and I expect the party in that state to do its duty." There is a whole lot of truth in the above statement. Oregon Republicans will do their duty on the second day of June.

The Grosvenor bill should become a law. This bill provides that all shoddy cloth shall be labeled shoddy. The manufacture of shoddy cloth is down to a science, and the imitation in appearance is so much like woolen, that it is fraudently worked off as such. It is an injustice to an honest industry, the great wool industry. The Grosvenor bill will meet with opposition because dishonest business cannot thrive if the methods are made public. For several years there has been a steady decline in the per capita consumption of wool caused by the use of cheap shoddy which is taking its place because people do not know what they are buying.

Lumbering and other enterprises are prohibited within the park, although mineral locations may be made under the law. It is alleged, however, that no minerals exist within the park.

In the death of Admiral Sampson, this country has lost one of the ablest men that ever honored the American navy. From obscure parentage, Sampson commenced at the very bottom of the ladder and at the time of his death was at the top among the great naval commanders. Unfortunately since the war with Spain he has been the object of severe criticism, but his ability and the earnestness of his life work was never questioned. In the construction, organization, armament and superiority of the American navy Sampson's work was most important and stands today as a lasting monument to his memory. From a poor chore boy on a farm his promotions were gained through his own effort in the proper application of perseverence, hard work and brains. He was a typical American and his name will go down in history as a great man.

The Oregonian sizes up the present political outlook in Oregon as follows: "Electors of Oregon will declare for Republican policies on June 2 by a majority of 10,000 to 15,000 votes. Representative Tongue, for congress from the First District, will have an increased majority over two years ago. J. N. Williamson, from the Second District, will get his full party vote, and considerable Democratic support in Eastern Oregon, for the firm stand he has ever taken against leasing of the public ranges. W. J. Furnish is gaining strength daily, and his popularity in Eastern Oregon will go far toward offsetting the "vote for personal reasons" which the Democrats credit to Chamberlain in the Willamette Valley. A careful canvass of the situation shows much of the Democratic candidate's strength is fancied. Linn, a Democratic stronghold, may go for Chamberlain by reason of his former residence there, but Republicans contend they have a good fighting chance. In nearly every county the legislative ticket is certain of success. The result of the local elections will be mixed, but it is generally conceded that the Republicans will elect a large majority of their nominees.

The terrible eruption of Mount Pelee on the Isle of Martineque, in which 30,000 people lost their lives, was one of the greatest volcanic explosions known in modern history. As detailed reports come in the casualty list grows larger and the calamity was awful in the extreme. The number of people killed is probably larger than from any volcanic disturbance, with one exception in Western Java, when 50,000 people were killed, since 1755 when 60,000 people lost their lives in the earthquake at Lisbon. It has been estimated that since the beginning of the world over 13,000,000 people have been killed by earthquakes.

Tongue's bill for the establishment of a national park at Crater Lake has passed and will become a law in a short time. Crater Lake is a great natural wonder and the mountainous country surrounding the Lake presents some grand scenery which will make a national park that will be a great attraction. As the bill passed it withdraws from settlement, occupancy or sale a tract of 249 square miles, including and surrounding Crater Lake, to be kown as Crater Lake National Park. The park will be under the control of the Secretary of the Interior, who will see to its protection, both from fires and trespassers.

Deafness Cannot be Cured

By local applications, as they cannot reach the diseased portion of the ear. There is only one way to cure deafness, and that is by constitutional remedies. Deafness is caused by an inflamed condition of the mucous lining of the eustachian tube. When this tube gets inflamed you have a rumbling sound or imperfect hearing, and when it is entirely closed deafness is the result, and unless the inflammation can be taken out and this tube restored to its normal condition, hearing will be destroyed forever; nine cases out of ten are caused by catarrh, which is nothing but an inflamed condition of the mucous surfaces.

We will give One Hundred Dollars for any case of deafness (caused by catarrh) that can not be cured by Hall's Cure. Send for circulars, free.
