Defense Alleges Self-Defense, Pas sion and Physical Injury as Excuses for the Killing.

Martin V. Leasia, who killed his fa-ther-in-law, F. H. Drews, on May M. is on trial for his life in Judge Sears' court. The prisoner appeared in the is on trial for his life in Judge Sears' court. The prisoner appeared in the courtroom yesterday attired in a new suit of blue clothing, and looked well. He was attended by his aged father. The members of the Drews family were present, including Mrs. Drews, her two sons, and Pauline Leasis, the divorced wife of the defendant.

The day was mostly consumed in selecting a jury, which was completed at 4 o'clock, and is compased of the following named persons: E. J. Jeffery, George L. Hibbard, George H. Lewis, Cai Powell, James P. Baker, M. W. Henderson, Dr. E. O. Smith, James Mc-Bride, N. P. Tomlinson, H. L. Searle, J. C. McGrew and B. F. Waldron.

About 25 persons were examined touching their qualifications to act as jurors, but were excused for various causes. One of these, Albert Smith, was asked by defendant's attorney, among other questions:

"Mr. Smith, would you care to be tried for your life by a juror in the same frame of mind as you are in at the pres-

Mr. Smith no doubt thinks a trial for murder is a very serious thing, as he answered: "Oh I don't know; I wouldn't care to be tried for my life by any

Several days before Leasia shot and killed his father-in-law his wife obtained a divorce from him on the ground of cruel treatment. Brooding over his troubles, Leasia went to Drews' home at Peninsular Station and shot and killed Drews. The allegation of the prosecu-tion is that the killing was unprovoked and premeditated, and is a case of murder in the first degree. In his opening address to the jury, District Attorney John Manning detailed the circumstances of the crime as he said it would be testified to by the witnesses for the state. He stated further that Leasia had threat-ened to kill the entire Drews family; he had also threatened to murder his fatherin-law, and had once been arrested for making such a threat, and at lest he did

Dan R. Murphy, in his opening speech the jury in behalf of Leasia, said the to the jury in behalf of Leasia, said the evidence would show that it was a case of self-defense. He said Drews shot Leasia in the breast, and following this the prisoner shot and killed Drews. "Leasia." counsel said, 'thought he had received a mortal wound, and he wanted to die under the blue canopy of heaven in the presence of the woman he loved; he wished to die by her side. When he reached the Richardson home, where he left the children, he fabricated the story of the burning of the house. He knew if he told the true story there would be a great hue and cry, and he would be a great hue and cry, and he would be a great hue and cry, and he would be apprehended, Mrs. Leasia stanched the blood and covered with a towel the wound that he had received from her father. Leasia told her he did not want to die in juli." Counsel then detailed the night capture of Leasia, and con-tinued:

'Asked why he shot his father-in-law, "Asked why he shot his father-in-law, Leasta answered: "Drews shot me first, and I shot back." He afterwards made a complete statement to District Attorney Manning, and made no attempt to shield himself. He is not trying to shield himself from the consequences of his act. He went there to see his babes, and he was outraged and abused, and he was shot. He will say to you, as he has said before, that he would do the same thing again. He only committed the act thing again. He only committed the act in the beat of passion in self-defense."

Mr. Murphy also stated that because of a serious accident to Leasin six years ago, his reason was somewhat affected

Buft Grows Out of Quarrel Regarding Portland Dredging Company,

The Pacific Export Lumber Company resterday filed suit in the State Circuit Company to recover $5,500 contributed for a one-half interest in a dredge, to be operated by the Portland Dredging Company. William D. Wheelwright is manager of the plaintiff corporation, and E. T. Williams, Denaid Mackay and W. B. Mackey conduct the affairs of the North ic Lumber Company.

cording to the allegations in the comt, the difference between the parties appears to have arisen from the fact that Williams and the two Mackays desire to hold the controlling interest in the dredg-ing company. Wheelwright avers that both sides are entitled to hold 250 shares each, and that they only offered to tur over 28 shares to him, leaving them with two shares to the good. When he re-fused these terms, Wheelwright, so the complaint states, was informed that. while he owned one-half of the dredge, he had nothing at all to do with the comto operate the dredge. The complaint states that on November 25, 1901, the Pacific Export Lumb spany entered into a contract with North Pacific Lumber Company, rein it was agreed that the latter should, at its own expense, complete a dredge to be entirely equipped with tools and appurtenances necessary to carry on the dredging business. A corporation was to be formed, to be called the Portland Dredging Company, with a capital stock of $190,000, and the dredge con-veyed to the dredging company in ex-change for $50,000 capital stock, one-half change for £0.000 capital stock, one-half of which was to be delivered to the North Pacific Lumber Company, and the other half, or £5,000, to be delivered to William D. Wheelwright, manager of the Pacific Export Lumber Company, who was to pay $12,500 cash for the same to the North Pacific Lumber Company. The balance of the stock, £50,000, was to remain in the treasury of the Portland Dredging Company, to be issued as the business should require. The dredging company, it is asserted, was organized company, it is asserted, was organized with E. T. Williams, Donald Mackay and W. B. Mackay as Incorporators.

It is alleged that on December 26, 1901 At is alleged that on December 28, 1901, 500 shares of the stock were subscribed for by the officers and agents of the North Pacific Lumber Company, who are the persons just named, and Wheel-wright paid the $12,500 for his shares as

In the Spring of 1902, it was represented, e to put a new engine in the dredge, which was done at a cost of $6000, and Wheelwright paid his half of the bill, amounting to $5000. He after-wards demanded that he receive his portion of the 800 shares of stock issued, or 250 shares, and says the defendants have refused to deliver to him more than 240 shares, and that in response, on February 24, 1903, he declared the contract at end. Wheelwright avers that he was n informed by his associates that he i purchased one-half of the dredge, the purchase by him was made independent of the incorporation of the Port-land Dredging Company, and he is not entitled to 250 shares of the stock. A decree is asked by plaintiff for the amount invested, 110,500, and interest. Cotton, Test & Minor appear as attorneys

DISAGREE IN GRIMES CASE.

No Conviction by Jury on Charge of Blegni Liquor-Selling.

The jury in the case of William Grimes, who was charged with selling liquor with-out license, after being locked up all night, reported to Judge Bears yesterday morning that an agreement was impos-sible, and an order of discharge was made. The jury stood 7 to 5 for convic-tion. The evidence against Grimes was that he sold a flask of whisky to Pro-fessor Kelsey of Newberg. None of the residents of Montavilla, where Grimes' place of business is, appeared against him. This is the principal reason five of the of business is, appeared against m. This is the principal reason five of a jurors stood out for acquittal. The spie in the precinct have been holding seltons, but took t enough interest in the Grimes trial to furnish evidence against him. The jurors who opposed conviction evidently thought the opposition at Montavilla to liquor selling is not as real as it appears to be. Grimes is trying to get a license and has his money up for that purpose.

Jenson's Suit for Damages. The trial of the suit of Anton M. Jens against the Williamette Boller Works for against the Williamette Boller Works for 150,000 damages for personal injuries was commenced yesterday before Judge Frazer and a jury. Jenson in his complaint sets forth that on August 28, 1902, he was struck by a failing steel plate, and so seriously injured that he has not since been able to work. He says the accident was due to the company's keeping in service a defective range and boom. ing in service a defective crane and boom which allowed the plate to fall on him. The defense is that Jenson was injured because of his own carelessness, and that the crane and its attachments were all in good order and safe to work with.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

At the Empire Next Week.

At the Empire Next Week.

The Empire Theater, devoted exclusively to high-class vaudeville, announces four new acts and nine new faces for the coming week, starting Monday, June 2. The new people to appear will be World and Kingston, late stars of "Town Topics" and who are doing a very clever stunt in vaudeville, entitled "The Tramp and the Soubrette"; the Wells Bros. comedy musical act; Andrews and Thompson, high-class operatic singing duo; and Blossom Seeley and Blanca, who do a clever sketch entitled "The Ginger Girla," are the new people who will make their initial the new people who will make their initial bow to the Empire audience Monday. The hold-overs will be Lester and Curtain, Hathaway and Walton, Hank Whit Powers and Theobold, and each will ap-pear in an entirely new act. The bioscope, that wonderful machine that closed the performance at the Empire will show an otirely new series of wonderful and insteresting scenes.

Matiness are given every Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday and seats for any performance are on sale at the box office daily, which opens at 10 A. M.

Last Week of Stuart Company. The last week of the Ralph Stuart Co any at the Baker Theater is "The Vir an," an exceedingly clever comedy drama, is nearing an end and it behooves the public who are interested in that lever company's performances to take dvantage of the fact that but four more performances of the company and play re-main. "The Virginian" is built on South-ern lines and tells a beautiful and pathetic love story and also has its comedy situa-tions which are brimming over with good things in that line. It is with regret that the lovers of drama will bid Mr. Stuart "au revoir" for the present season, but will look forward to his coming next Spring, when he promises a new line of plays. Frank Camp, as Ananias Jingle, a limb of the law, a comedy part, is creating no end of merriment by his clever interpreta-tion of the lines, while Miss Mary Horne, as Jemima Jenkins is a close second. Ralph Stuart and Miss Helen MacGregor as the hero and the heroine, are as clever

High-Class Vandeville Wins Favor Quite a few lovers of vaudeville among the indies and children took advantage of the first Wednesday matines in that new and cosy playhouse that is bidding for the patronage of the theater-goers of Portland. As was negal little Blossom, with her wonderful coon-singing ability won favor with the ladles present. Lester and Curtain, billed as Man-of-Wars men, who to an extremely clever comedy acrobatic turn, also met with great favor. It might be mentioned here that Curtain does some of the cleverest acrobatic work ever seen in public. Powers and Theobold, in their sketch are also a pleasing feature of the programme, while Hathaway and Walton. Hank Whitcomb. Tom Hill, Krafft and Daly and James Dunn did their share toward the entertainment. The Empire is bound to succeed if the class of entertalnment for the remainder of the season continues on the same high-class order that is being presented the first week.

Portland has long been in need of a firstclass vaudeville house and in the Empire the want has been supplied. Performances are given nightly and three matinees for the benefit of ladies and children are given during the week, Wednesday, Saturday and Sunday. The evening prices are 20, 20 and 10 cents, while the afternoon prices are 20 and 10 cents. Box and loge seats

The story deals with a youth having more money than brains. Throughout the play there is a delicate heart interest, the love of "The Gilded Fooi" for the daughter of prominent stockbroker supplying this all important element. All the old favor-ites are with the company and two new people will bid for the favor of Portland's critical audiences. The press of Seattle, where the Baker Company has been for the past eight weeks, speaks in very glow-ing terms of the work of Miss Ruby Miguel and Miss Exhelyn Palmer, the new members of the organization. Both are said to be beautiful, well-gowned, and clever actresses. Most millers are bitter enemies of Grape-Nuts for business reasons. Grape-Nuts food is largely replacing white bread, for Grape-Nuts contains the whole of the health-giving grains, while the patent white flour in universal use today s made with the most healthful part of the wheat left out.

A miller of Newark, Unio, who has studied the subject, says of Grape-Nuts: "I began by using the food once a day, then twice a day and for the last 5 months three times a day and I con-fidently affirm that I have received more real substantial benefit from the use of Grape-Nuts than from all the other things I have tried. My trouble was indigestion and kidney disease.

"I began to receive relief at once and as I sm a practical millwright and miller as well I can see and understand the philosophy of such a nutriment as Grape-Nuts and why its use gives us such good results. The continued use of patent flour bread will produce injury sooner or later because the true life-sustaining and lifegiving elements of the wheat berry are minated in the manufacture of patent

My unasked-for advice to all is to daily a nutriment like Grape-Nuts that retains all the vitality of the grain. For this very reason there is more direct virtue in the daily use of Grape-Nuts than in all the medicinal tonics in the world that crowd to over-flowing the shelves of drug stores. "The restaurant where I take my meals keeps Grape-Nuts on hand to accommo-

DAMAGED PIANOS

A few of the damaged pianos left. As advertised, it was a car of the famous Hamilton's shipped in harness without boxes, and in some way got jammed in transit, and we have concluded to dispess of them at half price and the railroad company pays the difference. We have also included in this lot some sample pianos and slightly used at about factory cost, which beats all bankrupt sales in which about eight pianos is the sum total of the stock.
