DEMOCRATIC NATIONAL TICKET!

FOR PRESIDENT,

GEN. WINFIELD S. HANCOCK.

OF PENNSYLVANIA.

VICE-PRESIDENT,

WM. H. ENGLISH,

OF INDIANA.

PRESIDENTIAL ELECTORS,
T. G. OWEN, of Coos County,
JAS. FULTON, of Wasco County.
J. K. WEATHERFORD, of Linn County,

IMMORALITY.

The Dalles, in part owing to the railroad excitement, is getting an unenviable notoriety with regard to the class that are now making themselves conspicuous. Tramps, sharps, gamblers, roughs of all grades, are temporarily abiding there, and midday robbers are not uncommon. We notice in the Inland Empire of last week that over $800 had been stolen from different parties, generally of course, when the victims were intoxicated. The method pursued is to "shadow" the laborer until he gets his cash, then by one means or another obtain his money. This is truly a terrible condition of affairs, and which the officers, though vigilant, are unable to keep in check. Houses of ill fame, "dives," the lowest type of saloons, are flourishing, and the authorities and reputable citizens are unable to assert the majesty of the law and prevent crime. Two men there last week engaged in a fight of a very disreputable origin, and each killed the other. What we wish to commend is the noble course of the Inland Empire in the matter. It has all along been strenuously and manfully battling against these evils in no equivocal tones. It discards all thought of what is politic in the premises, and does battle manfully for the right. It claims that the highest mission of the press is to aid morality, and hand in hand with the School and the Church, it is practising its principles. How different this from a paper that will degrade its columns with filthy language, or prostitute the power it thus incidentally holds to gratify personal malice. Men who patronise disreputable journals are directly responsible, in part, for the evils they disseminate.

Farmers located originally along the creek bottoms in this country east of the mountains. The city of Weston sprung into its present thriving dimensions on Pine Creek, and for some years after its inception, the lands adjacent thereto were considered fit only for stock ranges. When their astonishing fertility was discovered a few years ago, those lands were immediately occupied, notwithstanding the elevation of some parts, and the unpromising prospects of water. However those farmers depended upon Weston for their supply of water, fitted up their wagons for it, and hundreds of barrells were carried out of the city some days. The summer of 1879 was unusually dry, and at this time neighboring farmers were building cisterns and filling them from Weston wells. The usual demand make upon the few pumps on Main St. kept those wells so low that some of their owners were obliged to lock them. At the same time other wells were open, containing abundance of water, on other streets, besides springs above the city which never cease flowing copiously. However, thus originated the rumor about scarcity of water at Weston. Weston has always water, and to spare, of a quality unsurpassed. It is not alkaline, hence strangers do not require to endure a few weeks sickness before getting accostomed to its use. We hope this will satisfy the E. O. henceforth, and that it will not again thus slander the city that helps to keep it alive,

BLUE RIBBON CLUB.

Now that the time is again fast approaching when the pleasure-seeking youth of our beloved little city will begin to cast about them in search of "some means of entertainment during the long winter evenings, we suggest the reorganization, at as early a day as thought practicable, of the Blue Ribbon Club.

We need not urge the great importance of providing proper places of resort for the young, who, if left to seek amusements for themselves, are in constant danger of seeking it from sources calculated rather to degrade than to elevate, as well as of waging constant warfare against that fell-destroyer, intemperance. As these are apparent to all who do not wilfully close their eyes to the fact, therefore we say, Let the Blue Ribbon Club be reorganized! Let us hear from the LEADER on the subject. Come, Bro. LEADER, what say you!—Church and Home.

In response to the above we say that everything that tends to promote the temperance cause should be encouraged and promoted. A Blue Ribbon Club may accomplish very much good, and even if the amount be small, yet the same spirit of energy and perseverance should prevail. If a sufficient number will go into active membership to guarantee a good programme, it should be entered into. But if the large majotity of members come listlessly up, and then go home again, saying "they," not we, did not have a good programme, not enough to entice them back again, then it becomes discouraging. If every member feel that he is an integral and responsible part of the organization, it is bound to succeed. A Blue Ribbon Club is one of the best means of accomplishing good in this field.

ITEMS.

They have a hook and ladder company at Hillsboro.

Linn county has a balance of $1,286 in its Treasury.

St. Julien has trotted his mile in 2:11¼ at Charter oak Park.

Fred. J. Bills suicided at Portland. Chloroform or insanity.

Chinese have been drilling out half dollars and filling up with solder. Any way to make a living.

English's record is now established as anti-slavery, notwithstanding reports to the contrary.

Grading from Ray's Landing to Silverton is completed. Now 1200 men grading thence to Brownsville.

There are twenty-three new dwellings in course of erection in East Portland.

In 1859 the total receipt of cattle at Chicago comprised only 111,694 head; in 1869, 403,102 head, and in 1879, 1,215,732 head!

The Hillsboro Independent says: M. E. Shipley, renter on the A. T. Smith farm, realized an average of 32 bushels from 385 acres.

A drove of horses consiting of 27 head passed through Lafayette on their way up the Valley on Friday. They were brought from Grant and Umatilla counties and were mostly work horses, ready broke.

Near Hillsboro Charley Mills blew his steam whistle, seared the horses, and they broke the castings of the separator and gave him a close call for his life. Also George Crane, while driving a self-binder, had his horses run away and the machine was smashed.

Sitting Bull is being deserted by his warriors, at what must be to him an alarming rate. About 1,000 Sioux have already surrendered at Fort Keogh, and are being sent to the Cheyenne River Agency. A report comes from Fort Peck that about 1,000 others are coming into that post, and now that doughty Indian warrior has only about 150 fighting men.

Mr. Alexander Milliams, of Boston, owns a cane which, it is said, he is about to present to General Hancock. The cane is over 140 years old, with a carved head on which is the name of the first owner, Thoms Hancock, an eminent merchant of Boston, who in 1737 built the well remembered Hancock House on Beacon Street.

The Benton Blade says Judge Chenoweth's son, when sliding off a hay stack, fell on a sharp stick that ran between the muscles and bone of the forearm, leaving him suspended in horrible agony, but he was relieved and is getting well.

Coos Bay News: Mrs. Yoakam, of Coos river, aided by her daughter and one hired man carries on her farm, and she has this Summer, already, laid down 1,600 pounds of butter for which she expects to realize 50 cents per pound in the Winter, and besides sufficient hay for her stock, she has 40 tons to sell, for which the adjacent logging camps will furnish a ready market.

DON'T.—Don't despise the lowly. The under jaw does all the work. A man would no sooner part with it than—a woman with her tongue.

"C. D."—Your letter arrived too late for insertion last week. We require communications by Thursday noon of each week, at latest, for we go to press Friday.

PRINCIPAL.—We understand that Miss Whipple has been engaged to teach the school at Astoria, as Principal. This is an important position, but she is thoroughly competent.

HURT.—Tom Merry, of the Inland Empire, had an upset from a wagon while traveling from John Day to Canyon, severely injuring his shoulder—probably sustaining a fracture.

MOVING ALONG.—The Walla Walla Statesman invites the Standard to publish the bogus "medicine men" of that Territory. It would be rather a long list.

CAMP-MEETING.—There will be a grand camp-meeting held about half a mile from Heppner, beginning Sept. 17, 1880, by the M. E. Church. A good attendance is expected. The location is beautifully sheltered from the wind and dust, and there is plenty of good water to be had—every advantage to make a good success.

Articles of incorporation have been filed in the office of the secretary of state by the following named citizens of Linn county: L. Elkins, D. W. Ballard, C. B. Montague, J. W. Cusick, C. H. Ralston, Jacob Kess, E. Ervin, J. M. Powell, F. M. Miller and W. B. Donaca, incorporating the Lebanon and Santiam Water Ditch or Canal and Manufacturing company. The capital stock is $30,000, in shares of $100 each.

With the chills and fever, the victim of malaria may still recover by using this celebrated specific, which not only breaks up the most aggravated attacks, but prevents their recurrence.
