The evidence shows she threatened to take his life. Leonard cannot possibly recover, and is probably dead by this time.

Murphy, who tried to kill Tilden in a faro room at Portland recently, was caught on Coos bay last week and brought back to Portland, only to be bailed out for $1,000. Just think of it; a desperado shoots a man five times, and because he didn't kill his victim he is allowed to run the streets and run off if he chooses for $1,000.

Some of our German and Irish friends near Milwaukie have been having quarrels and misunderstandings recently, the result of which was that Mr. McCan, the representative of our Celtic brethren, was charged with an assault by Mr. Schochel, a gentleman of Teutonic ancestry. After hearing the testimony the Justice decided the prisoner to be not guilty.

THIEVES AROUND.—Last Saturday night the residences of Darwin Beals and Thos. Day, about half a mile above Canemah, were entered by some of the worthless tramps who are overrunning our State and a number of articles carried off. Mr. Beals was absent at Canemah, and the robbers had full swing, taking a fine shotgun, pair of blankets, pair of new pants, lot of underclothing and a few pounds of tobacco. At Day's they went through the kitchen and got 25 pounds of sugar and the contents of the pantry without alarming the inmates. The same night James Ewing, who lives near by, lost his skiff, and it is supposed that the same party took it and went up the river. Our readers will do well to keep a good lookout for these tramps, as they are wandering around the country in every direction, and the majority of them are too lazy to work, and will steal anything they can lay their hands on.

Letter from Sandy.

SANDY, Jan. 16th, 1878.

EDITOR ENTERPRISE:—As no one seems to write up the doings of this part of Clackamas county, I just thought I would send you a few items, to let you and your readers understand that we are not dead, but liveth, if we do sojourn away out on the frontier, where the bear and the panther prowleth by night, seeking whose sheep or pigs, or perchance some innocent calf, he may devour.

The holiday festivities were inaugurated by a Christmas tree at the Foster settlement, Christmas eve. Presents were liberally distributed by Santa Clause (much to the terror of the little ones at his venerable appearance), presents consisting of candy, nuts, saur kraut and other fixings too numerous to mention. A dance also at Sandy P. O. Christmas eve. Christmas night, all the young and some of the old assembled at the residence of our jolly merchant, Mr. Revenue, where they engaged in the festive dance. Music was rendered by the Sandy string band.

"Gayly and gayly rang the gay music,
The blythe merry music of violand horn;
The mad merry music that set them all dancing,
Till over the midnight came stealing the morn."

The generous host and hostess (who never do anything by halves) ministered to the creature comforts of their guests by a most bountiful repast, consisting of oysters, chickens, cakes, and, in fact, everything that goes to make up a first-class supper. So they ate and they danced, and they danced "till the morning, and never went home till the dawn of the day," to assemble again at the residence of Mr. N. McCord on New Years eve, when they had a good time, danced "till the wee small hours," then wended their way homeward. Friday evening, Jan. 11th, a few of the young people gathered at the residence of Mr. P. B. Hatch. They spent a very pleasant evening in dancing and merriment, and went home at 11 o'clock, ending the holiday festivities for this season.

Having disposed of the holidays, I will enlighten you a little on farming matters.

Firstly, our new grist mill on Cedar creek is doing a good business, and making an extra quality of flour.

Our farmers have sown an unusual quantity of wheat this year, and every settler who has an acre of ground cleared is sowing it to wheat for their next year's bread. Wheat is looking splendid.

Our county is settling up very fast, mostly by Germans, and the sound of the ax, with the constant crashing of the mighty monarchs of the forest, as they lay their stately heads in the dust, bears ample testimony to the energy, industry and perseverance of the sturdy settler.

Hoping to wake up some of the more gifted in letter writing, I remain Yours Truly. FRONTIER.

Grand Birthday Celebration.

"Perhaps the happiest time in a man's life, excepting the day when he takes to himself a partner "for better or worse," is the moment the clock announces that he is a voter, that he has reached his twenty-first year and is no more to be considered a boy. On Monday last our old friend Frederick Charman reached this happy goal in life and celebrated in a most delightful manner to his friends and creditable way to himself his 21st "jour de fete." Invitations for a grand party had been sent abroad and in this vicinity, and friends arrived from all quarters to help Fred celebrate this auspicious occasion. Pope's Hall was secured for the dancer, and right merrily the immense throng tripped the measures. Mr. Chas. Bray's celebrated orchestra from Portland was engaged and discoursed such sweet music that it would have been difficult for cripples to remain seated during its performance. Major Thomas Charman, the father of the happy Fred, being one of the oldest residents of the State, saw to it that the invitations were among the best people of Oregon, and we venture to say that never before has there been a party in the Willamette Valley which was so largely attended, and at the same time so select. During the evening, Mr. C. M. Juskeep, on the part of the many friends of the young host, presented him with an elegant gold-headed cane, with some very appropriate remarks, neatly expressed. Fred, on accepting the cane, did so with grace of manner and speech—quite plaising his friends that one just on the threshold of manhood could so readily and elegantly reply on an occasion that would have embarrassed many an older head. An elegant banquet was served at the Cliff House, of which nearly two hundred people partook. All the delicacies of the season were served in abundance, and all the little delicious dishes that go to make a supper of this kind a success were provided in profusion. The dancing was resumed after the refreshments, and the enjoyments of the "mazy" kept up until "broad day," and fired nature told the happy young people that it was time to desist. Beyond all doubt this was the grandest, yet pleasantest affair of the kind ever given in Oregon City, and our only regret is that Fred Charman's twenty-first birthday, like birth itself, comes only once in a life-time.

THE M. E. CHURCH.—A correspondent writing to the Advvocate from this place says: "The M. E. Church at this place is the first Protestant church erected on the Pacific coast. It was commenced in 1842 by Rev. A. F. Waller, and finished and dedicated in 1844, by Rev. Gustavus Hines. It is a substantial frame building and the timbers are still sound. We have thoroughly overhauled it, and put an alcove of 12x17 feet on the rear at a cost of about $400. It is now as neat a church as there is in the city. This place should be very dear to the Methodist people. Here the standard of the cross was first raised by us on the Pacific coast. This spot is consecrated by the labors of Lee, Gary, Leslie, Waller and Gustavus Hines, all of whom have gone to glory."

LARGE APPLE TREE.—The Advocate says: "In 1844, Rev. Gustavus Hines, who was then stationed at Oregon City, planted some apple seed in the parsonage yard. A tree produced from one of the seed is the largest apple tree in the State, I presume. It forks about four feet from the ground, and is five feet four inches in circumference at the smallest place below the fork. Its fruit is large, yellow, and good keepers; and, in its season, it is very palatable. It has been christened Hines' Long-keeper.

VALISE FOUND.—A valise containing a fine pair of pants, several articles of clothing and about 20 pounds of bacon was found in the brush south of Mr. Abel Eudey's place last Thursday. A stranger was seen camping there a few nights previous, and it is supposed that he left them, or that he has been foully dealt with. Search was made in the vicinity, but no trace could be found of the man.

MARRIED.—Miss Kate Frazer, daughter of Mr. Jas. M. Frazer of this city, was married on the 16th inst., at Seattle, to Mr. Geo. D. Mesegee. We congratulate the captain on having captured one of Oregon City's fairest daughters, and hope that they may have an abundant share of joy and prosperity.

The West Shore.

OREGON ENTERPRISE.—It is gratifying to be able to announce that true merit is always appreciated by our Western people. THE WEST SHORE started as an illustrated paper nearly three years ago, and has now the largest circulation of any paper in the Pacific Northwest. Its engravings are artistically executed, and the articles are well and carefully written. It is one of that class of papers which can safely be admitted into the family circle, the publisher being especially careful not to admit any article or advertisement that would be likely to offend the most fastidious. For 1878 THE WEST SHORE has been greatly improved and adorned with a magnificent new heading! Every issue consists of 16 large size pages, filled with the very choicest reading. It is a publication that every resident of the Pacific Northwest can feel proud of. As the subscription price is but $1 50 per year, every family should subscribe for it, and those having friends in the Eastern States should send them a copy for a year. Any one sending $2 will receive the paper for 1878, and will also be furnished with six months' back numbers, including the mammoth edition in July last. Specimen copy 20 cents, which may afterward be deducted when subscribing for the entire year.

Address— L. SAMUEL,
Publisher THE WEST SHORE,

CHRISTMAS.

Merry Christmas to all is ringing to-day,
Through mansion and cottage and far, far away;
Across the blue ocean is heard the refrain,
Merry Christmas to all! it is Christmas again.

Merry Christmas to all, through the breadth of the land,
May peace and good will, journey hand joined in hand,
And enter each household, and fill every breast
With contentment and charity, peace hope and rest.

Merry Christmas to all, the patter of feet,
And laughter of childhood, in cadences sweet,
Steals soft on the air, like a breath of the morn,
All laden with fragrance from sweet incense borne.

Merry Christmas to all, those words of good cheer,
From lips long since silent, lisped in our ear,
Still greets us in memory on each Christmas morn,
Though the voices that whisper are of heaven born.

—MRS. A. HATCH.

Sandy, Clackamas Co., Ogn.

DARBY AND JOAN.—The Standard of last Friday has the following item: Darby Dolan had his wife Mary arrested for assault and battery a few days ago in East Portland, and Joan, to get even on her lord and master, Darby, caused his arrest on the same complaint. Both parties repented of their conduct, and compromised before the magistrate on an issue. Saturday Mr. Dolan thought to settle the matter, and had his wife arrested on a charge of insanity. She was examined before the County Judge of Multnomah county, found periodly sane and discharged. Dolan had to foot the costs of the proceedings.

Quinine and Arsenic form the basis of many of the Ague remedies in the market, and are the last resort of physicians and people who know no better medicine to employ for this distressing complaint. The effects of either of these drugs are destructive to the system, producing headache, intestinal disorders, vertigo, dizziness, ringing of the ears, and depression of the constitutional health. AS THE BEST FAMILY SEWING MACHINE.

Its competitors receiving only an award for some special feature of their machines.

The World-renowned Wilson Shuttle Sewing Machine

Has Unlimited Capacity to do all kinds of Family Sewing and Manufacturing,

ITS PATENT AUTOMATIC "CUT OFF" on the hand wheel prevents the machine from running backwards, and obviates the necessity of taking the work from the machine to wind thread on the bobbins, which must be done with all other Sewing Machines, to the great annoyance of the operator, especially in tucking, hemming and ruffling. It does one-third more work in a given length of time than any other Sewing machine.

WITH EVERY MOTION of the FOOT the MACHINE MAKES SIX STITCHES.

Three Wilson Machines will do as much work in one day as four other Machines.

It requires no special instructions to use it; an Illustrated Direction Book is furnished with each machine.

IT CANNOT GET OUT OF ORDER, AND THE ADJUSTMENTS ARE ABSOLUTELY PERFECT.

A properly executed Certificate is furnished with each machine, guaranteeing to keep it in repair, free of charge, for five years. Machines sold on easy terms of payment, and delivered, free of charge, at any Railroad Depot in the United States where we have no Agents.
