The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

SATURDAY.....JUNE 9, 1883

Notice.

On and after this date D. H. Caswell will have charge of the DAILY ASTORIAN Route. All subscriptions are payable to him, and he is authorized to receipt for money paid.

J. F. HALLORAN & Co.

June 6th, 1883.

—The Oregon sailed for S. F. yesterday.

—Dr. Tuttle is out of town and will be for some days.

—The A. B. Field leaves for Tillamook at 6 o'clock this morning.

—The Northern Pacific R. R. is open for traffic 718 miles east of Astoria.

—Gen. Nelson A. Miles will deliver the oration at Portland on the Fourth of July.

—The new insane asylum at Salem will be ready for occupancy on the 1st of September.

—The government survey steamer Robt. Lincoln is in port and will go down to the bar next week.

—The oats and wheat crop for Oregon and Washington Territory this season will aggregate 20,000,000 bushels.

—In Portland the effect of the mortgage tax law is that the banks refuse to advance money on real estate security.

—A. Noltner, the enterprising editor of Oregon's leading Democratic newspaper was in the city yesterday on a flying visit.

—The News thinks that the people of Portland might as well understand now as any other time that the Willamette will have to be spanned by bridges.

—Some members of Portland's old volunteer fire department are thinking of making up a team to go to Salem next Wednesday. The more, the merrier.

—A. M. Johnson is busy making sails. He has plenty home work; is making some tents for Salem, and has orders for sails from Seattle. His services are in demand.

—E. C. Holden advertises his regular sale at half past ten this morning. The furniture, etc., is the property of officers from the fort who have been ordered east.

—The Tam O'Shanter is loading at St. Helens, and is expected down on Monday. The Maid of Orleans has finished loading at Westport and will probably be down to-day.

—C. M. Stark is about to build a wharf for a boat landing at Stark's Point, it will be 40x60 feet. In addition a roadway will be built and other conveniences supplied for boats, etc.

—The Ryerale was taking on salmon at a lively rate yesterday. The Alice brought down 2,000 cases from the Pillar rock Packing Co., and the Quickstep brought over 1,000 cases from Knappton.

—All Sunday schools especially and young people and children generally are invited to meet at Liberty Hall to-morrow afternoon, the hour will be announced from the pulpits of the various churches at the morning service.

—The Gen. Miles arrived in from Gray's harbor last Thursday night. She brought 25 M cedar, and 25 M for the new road at Ilwaco. She leaves on an excursion to Ilwaco and the Cape at ten o'clock to-morrow morning.

—On the 3d of last June the Ryerale cleared from here with over 40,000 cases salmon, being the first of the foreign fleet to load. Thus far no foreign clearances have been effected. Last season from April 1st to June 9th, 28,450 cases were shipped from here to San Francisco; this year from April 1st to date there have been sent 29,075.

An Immigration Scheme.

Some time ago the German government instituted through some of its wealthy representative men a comprehensive system of relief, and after some temporary expedients had been tried it was decided to further extend the sphere of the society's influence by forming a syndicate for the purchase of a large tract of land in this country for a German colony who would be given an opportunity to get here on easy terms and be allowed time in which to pay for the land. With this view Baron Von Schilling, and a distinguished coadjutor of his came out to this country on a tour of inspection, about eighteen months ago. About the 1st of May they came from the southwest to see this northwest coast of which they had heard so much. The Baron upon his arrival waited for his colleague at Astoria and while here spoke in the most enthusiastic manner of our city and its possibilities. Learning of a large area of vacant land in this and Tillamook counties he made considerable inquiry and research into the climate, resources, etc. He is expected to return about the 1st of July, when he can have further opportunity of deciding as to the location of his German colony.

Good Enough!

THE ASTORIAN copies a recent extract from the Herald in which we assigned a prominent place to the pleasant city in which that excellent journal is published as a probable competitor for the commercial supremacy of the northwest. Our confrere is not content with the prospect of being second best, Seattle leading. All we have to say on the subject neighbor, is just this: If Astoria can win the prize in a fair contest, there is no place north of San Francisco to which we would yield it with less regret or fewer heart burnings. But Seattle first all the time for us, and may you come so near beating us that the race will be neck and neck. It is not so very long since THE ASTORIAN said there was cake enough to go round. We still think that view is the correct one. In the meantime here's luck, peace in your walls and plenteousness in your palaces. The Venice of the Columbia, like jelly cake and Mocha coffee after a dozen quadrilles, is one of our weaknesses. Long may she wave!—Seattle Herald.

Not Very Complimentary.

Some one in this state who has been in this country just long enough to see some things and not others, writes to the New Holland, Penn., Clarion, as follows:

The acute habits of the Oregonians are a recognized fact. There is a saying current in the East, and we know there is considerable truth in it, "that the further west we go the more shrewd we generally find the people." This saying is certainly true with the Oregonians not even regardless of the great distance we live from the east. Whenever a person comes from the Western States to the east visiting his relatives and acquaintances, there is always in that person a look of business intelligence, sharpened by practical experience and travel. Why this is so the general reader can easily infer. And when we travel west still further we must dispel our crystalized ideas and adopt Yankee opinions instead, the further on we go. Even in California we must have our eyes wide open and be ever on the alert, lest we should be nipped. In Oregon shrewdness of business management is more noticed than in any place I have yet visited, and these sharp transactions in business are not confined to the city of Portland alone, but the Oregon farmer as well is acute and practical in his management. I may be allowed to say that there is no small amount of deception and tricks attached to many kinds of business transacted throughout the State of Oregon. Everybody must watch everybody, or else he will be cinched. The business habits of the Oregonians are to say little and perform much, while of course there are some who talk all the time and say nothing. Anyhow, the Oregonians are a set of people always ready and willing to fleece somebody, as a rule, and when a short sighted person comes here, they are sharpened and kept sharp. Owing to the fact that this country as well as Portland is cosmopolitan in its make-up, it is not strange that business managements in these climes are sharp and tricky.

The manners of the Oregonians differ vastly from those of the east. Whenever acquaintances meet, reserved expression is the custom, and scarcely anything is uttered without judicious forethought, and then in a few words only. A person must know when to be silent as well as when to say something. When acquaintances part, often nothing is said, and this is considered polite manners. We meet each other pleasantly, and whenever suitable we walk away without a word, or when something is said, the expression "so long" is uttered. Care is taken to have every sentence clear and inclusive within itself. Nothing is said wherein the thought is open to doubt, or about which a person could prevaricate. Supposition and presumption are less indulged in, and many Oregonians only speak about that which they are certain and actually know. Habits cannot be otherwise in this frontier life, lest a person would be caught through his own talk, and put down as a rat-hole man. Rumors and current news are never taken as reliable facts, but merely for information until we otherwise know them to be authentic. In all such things a man forms his own opinion and an opinion of anything does not alter the facts of the case. One of the best ways of finding anything out of anybody is that a person generally talks about what is foremost in his mind. It is really not a difficult task for an experienced Oregonian to measure anybody in his business capacity. Truth at the greatest is so little that he who talks the least is the most regarded in this respect.

The Oregonians make use of quite a variety of Shibboleth language derived from the Spanish, French, Indian, Chinese and other languages which are very rhetorical, pointed and spicy in their effect. Cracking jokes, telling yarns and debating societies are quite a common feature in these climes. In argument or conversation a man must well guard himself and leave no hole in the skimmer through which another can crawl out. Every thought is expressed with a view to surmount another and in leaving it unequivocal and air tight. We use "see" for "understand," "nigh" for "near" "so long" for "good-bye," and numerous conventional expressions. Book learning is not so much adhered to by adults, and scarcely anything but business and making money is the common go in Oregon. Many young men and boys in Portland are in business and making their dollars and getting sharp and intelligent through experience, and know little what books contain. Whenever we talk to persons out here about China, Australia, England, Russia, Germany or any other country we talk to men who were there and know all about it.

Advice to Consumptives.

On the appearance of the first symptoms—as general debility, loss of appetite, pallor, chilly sensations, followed by night-sweats and cough—prompt measures for relief should be taken. Consumption is scrofulous disease of the lungs:—therefore use the great anti-scrofula, or blood-purifier and strength-restorer,—Dr. Pierce's "Golden Medical Discovery." Superior to Cod liver oil as a nutritive, and unsurpassed as a pectoral. For weak lungs, spitting of blood and kindred affections, it has no equal. Sold by druggists the world over. For Dr. Pierce's pamphlet on Consumption, send two stamps to WORLD'S DISPENSARY MEDICAL ASSOCIATION, Buffalo, N. Y.

On the Pacific Coast, coughs and colds are invariably caused by a deranged Liver and Stomach. For a sure remedy, use the Oregon Blood Purifier.

That feeling of languor and debility that follows physical exertion, removed by using Brown's Iron Bitters.

—Catarrh cured, health and sweet breath secured by Shiloh's Catarrh Remedy. Price 50 cents, Masal Injector free. For sale by W. E. Dement.

For Biliousness and Sick Stomach, try a dose of the OREGON BLOOD PURIFIER. A vegetable remedy.

HALE'S HONEY OF HOREHOUND AND TAR relieves cough quicker than any other medicine.

PIKE'S TOOTHACHE DROPS cure in one minute.
