The Daily Astorian.

ASTORIA, OREGON:

SATURDAY.....SEPTEMBER 1, 1883

☞L. P. FISHER, Rooms 20 and 21, Merchants' Exchange Building, is our only authorized agent in San Francisco, and any contracts made by him will be recognized. THE DAILY and WEEKLY ASTORIAN are kept on file at his agency

Beecher on Woman's Rights.

In his Thursday night lecture at Portland Henry Ward Beecher delivered the same lecture that he did at Astoria, the evening before. The fact that the lecture was delivered under the auspices of the Oregon Woman's Suffrage Association caused him to throw out a few ideas relative to that movement. He said:

I lay down the simple ground that anything that is fit to be done at all a woman may do it, if she has the capacity and the advantages. In a vast majority of instances women will dwell in the household, and that will be their sphere. That is to say women are just like men. Only now and then a man who is capable of achieving something will go into a larger sphere and achieve it. And so does she. She has a perfect right to do it, and to do anything that she can do well.

As to this question of woman's rights, all admit that she may speak in the temples. That has been settled.

When anybody wants to hear anybody, then that body is called to go and speak. And it has passed through those stages that woman is no more a curiosity. If she is thought to have personal ability, people go to hear her. I have never heard any man in my life that could make such an eloquent address as I have heard made by women. Her right to speak is not doubted any longer; but has she the right to vote? She has, undoubtedly, the right to vote; and it is her duty to vote as soon as that right is acknowledged. We want precisely that element. We want her at the polls. It is not a good thing for man to be alone in politics, any more than it is in domestic life. The correction that we want in politics is chiefly that correction we should obtain when woman becomes a voter.

It is insisted that she does not wish to vote. I have been preaching to sinners on their duty to repent for many years, and I have never taken that to be a sufficient argument that they did not want to repent. She ought to vote, and she will want to vote by and by, when experience has broken down prejudice and shown her that it is her duty. I should like to know who it is, with pain and sorrow, bring children into life. Who is it when they are helpless infants doing nothing and requiting nothing; who is it that gives her time, by day and by night, that gives of her body to feed and her mind to thought and care of the children, and when the children grow up and go out into life, whose counsel it is that wraps her very substance in their life but a mother; and when they go wrong, who calls them back and gives them hope and joy but a mother; and when they are sick who night and day gives all her time and all her thought to their care but the mother; and when they die the father grieves too, but the thunder of the world and its business soon sweeps out of remembrance the pain and the sorrow, but the mother hears the funeral knell to the end of her life. Now I say that when a woman has given to the world her children and has reared them through every stage of life, and has gone with them to the shade of death, I say if there be any creature on earth who has a right to declare what shall be the surroundings of her children it is the mother of the children. If there be any creature on God's earth that has a right to declare how many grog shops shall be licensed in a community, and how many gambling dens there shall be, whether the school shall be open for three months or twelve months, whether education should prevail where her children are, the mother, who has brought them into life, who has enfolded them in her very being, I say is the one that should vote on questions that touch her children to the very heart, and not to allow her to vote is a shame and an outrage before God and ought to be before men.

In the recent Utah election, say the Boston Herald, when 15,000 votes were cast, the male Mormons were so sure of the result that they contemptuously refrained from voting in large numbers, leaving the work of nullifying the Edmunds law to the women. In 1880 10,000 women voted almost solid for the church ticket, and in the election just held they would have carried out the edict of the church alone, even though every anti-Mormon in the territory had voted. Women suffrage, an unprized privilege in the states where it is accorded, is the strongest bulwark of the degradation of women in Utah.

"Investigations."

The last shriek of the New York Sun is, "Investigate." It is addressed to the Democratic majority in the House of Representatives, which convenes in December. It has been utter[illegible] fore by the same journal attempt at impressive[illegible] met with no response [illegible] tioning, and there is [illegible] somewhat maniacal organ in its gyrations to come round to it several times more before Congress meets. It is altogether probable that the advice will be taken. The Democratic desire to discover enough corruption on the part of the Republicans to supply them with the campaign material they are so woefully deficient in is father to the thought that the investigation will pay. History repeats itself. The same thing, says the Globe-Democrat, was tried eight years ago when the Democrats secured a majority in the House, but it seems that the lamentable failure of the long list of smelling commitees to find anything foul which did not have a Democrat sticking to it somewhere has been forgotten.

Investigation is the mine that will be worked, and the country has reason to be glad of it. Anything that serves to instruct the public as to what its servants are doing is valuable knowledge of this kind disseminated among the people, is an element of strength in a republic. And in this instance Democratic charges have been so particularly reckless and vicious that the Republicans will gain through the opportunity of having the whole truth made known. It is true that the majority report of the committee will be made by the Democrats, but, fortunately, nowadays the minority reports are weighed just as carefully as the majority reports are, and the real facts prevail. The efforts of the majority to color things, indeed, react on it. Some of the subjects which are to be examined this winter are mentioned by the Sun. First and foremost are the charges made by the frantic newspaper mentioned on the basis of Dorsey's assertions. These vindictive lies have been treated as though they were a perfect bonanza. Notwithstanding their flavor of star-route rascality and their pervading and generally offensive odor, they are turned over the journalistic tongue as rich and sweet morsels that can not be relished too much. It is a peculiar species of beast or bird that enjoys and lives on this kind of carrion, but it is to be served forth for a feast next winter, nevertheless, if the advice of the Sun is taken.

Prof. Le Conte, of the University of California, was a pupil of Agassiz, and is justly regarded as one of the ablest scientists across the line. Le Conte urges Christians no longer to combat but to accept the theory of evolution. He believes that the universe was created by the Almighty through the process of evolution. He says that culture and reason point beyond any cavil to the existence of a First Cause. Science may sometime obscure, but cannot destroy this idea. Evolution, which was supposed by many to have destroyed it forever, has only temporarily obscured it, in the minds of the unreflecting by the supposed identity of evolution with materialism; but from this temporary eclipse it will emerge with even greater splendor.

Delaware has stood by the whipping-post long enough after it had gone out of fashion to see its gradual revival in other places. Maryland has adopted it for the special benefit of wife-beaters, and Canada also uses the lash as part punishment for certain brutal crimes.

The Atlanta Constitution calls on Jefferson Davis to "bury the resentments of the war," but recognizes him as "ex-President Davis."

Not one of the acknowledged "great men" of this country has a son of more than ordinary ability.

TUTT'S PILLS

TORPID BOWELS, DISORDERED LIVER, and MALARIA.

From these sources arise three-fourths of the diseases of the human race. These symptoms indicate their existence: Loss of Appetite, Bowels costive, Sick Headache, fullness after eating, aversion to exertion of body or mind, Eructations of food, Irritability of temper, Low spirits, A feeling of having neglected some duty, Dizziness, Fluttering at the Heart, Dots before the eyes, highly colored Urine, CONSTIPATION, and demand the use of a remedy that acts directly on the Liver. As a Liver medicine TUTT'S PILLS have no equal. Their action on the Kidneys and Skin is also prompt; removing all impurities through these three "scavengers of the system," producing appetite, sound digestion, regular stools, a clear skin and a vigorous body. TUTT'S PILLS cause no nausea or griping nor interfere with daily work and are a perfect
