WANTED.

We would like to ask, through the columns of your paper, if there is any person who has used Green's August Flower for the cure of Indigestion, Dyspepsia, and Liver Troubles that has not been cured—and we also mean their results, such as sour stomach, fermentation of food, habitual costiveness, nervous dyspepsia, headaches, despondent feelings, sleeplessness—in fact, any trouble connected with the stomach or liver? This medicine has been sold for many years in all civilized countries, and we wish to correspond with you and send you one of our books free of cost. If you never tried August Flower, try a 25 cent bottle first. We have never known of its failing. If so, something more serious is the matter with with you. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At all druggists. G. G. GREEN, Woodbury, N. J. Garman & Hemenway Co.

Elbridge Wheeler was called home from Salem last Sunday by a telegram announcing the accident to Mr. Owens.

Ida Henry was taken very ill last week and her father took her to Eugene for examination and treatment.

Services at the school house last Sunday were well attended. Rev. Bryan was accompanied by his wife.

Quarterly meeting will be held here the second Saturday eve and Sunday of June. The presiding elder will conduct the services. Everybody invited to attend both services and bring well filled baskets for Sunday and enjoy an old fashioned "basket meeting."

HOT WEATHER WEAKNESS.

If you feel fagged out, listless and lacking energy, you are perhaps suffering from the debilitating effects of summer weather. These symptoms indicate that a tonic is needed that will create a healthy appetite, make digestian perfect, regulate the bowels and impart natural activity to the liver. This, Herbine will do; it is a tonic, laxative and restorative. H. J. Freegard, Propr. Grand View Hotel, Cheney, Kan., writes: "I have used Herbine for the last 12 years, and nothing on earth can beat it. It was recommended to me by Dr. Newton, Newton, Kan." 50c at New Era Drug Store.

MEMORIAL DAY.

MEMORIAL DAY! SACRED! SUBLIME!
In patriots' hearts, throughout all time.
To-day sweet peace, with beams of light,
Shines o'er the land; and happy, bright,
Its people dwell, from sea to sea,
Beneath the "Banner of the Free":—
Beneath "old Glory's" starry fold,
Which shelters all, both young and old.

To-day, sweet blossoms ev'ry where
Are garnered, with most loving care,
From gardens over all the land,
With yearning hearts and tender hand,
To strew on soldiers' place of rest
Spring's wealth of beauty, for the blest—
For those who Freedom's land to save,
Did fill a patriot soldier's grave.

These emblems of the peoples' love,
Are smiles of Heaven from above;
They celebrate the sacrifice
Made, at whatever cost or price,
By men of war, by heroes great,
Whose valor saved the ship of state
From sinking 'neath Rebellion's wave,
Where Freedom would have found its grave.

There mingles this Memorial Day,
With all the people, grave and gay,
Departed heroes, spirit throng,
In sweetest concord, all day long
In certain sense, it can be said,
The earth and sea gave up their dead,
This blessed resurrection day,
To share the blooms of flow'ry May.

On mem'ry's page we see again
The faces, from the hills and plain,
With vict'ry flushed, or paled in death,
By musket ball, or cannon's breath.
We know full well their valor gave
Our flag in Heaven place to wave,
Made it to float in Freedom's air,
O'er men and women, brave and fair.

Loved mem'ries, precious, hallowed, sweet,
To-day we fondly, dearly greet
Each soiled and faded fotograf,
(Its antique phase, most makes us laugh),
Blest sacred pictures, soldier boys,
Who passed from earth and all its joys:—
Mementoes held, by old and gray,
On this most hallowed soldiers' day.

Perhaps a widow, temples white,
Her cheeks—the roses taken flight—
Doth hold with trembling hand and prize,
And speaks the name with tear-dimmed eyes
And others there, 'round old homestead,
Have not forgotten brave one dead;
To lisping, prattling child they tell,
Its grandpa's name and where he fell,

Brave soldier boys of Sixty-one,
To Sixty-five, with sword and gun,
A thought of their bright faces brings
The memory of far off springs—
The springs of forty years long past,
Now fading from our vision fast,
When boys from mills, and shops, and farms,
Rushed forth, to answer War's alarms.

Boys in "teens," light-hearted, bright,
In homespun jeans, came forth to fight;
From shops and farms, from school and mill,
They came, the "ranks and files" to fill;
Beardless and rosy-cheeked, with eyes
Of brightest blue, than that of skies,
Hair, auburn hue, or black as night,
With faces shining, as the light.

Young, sweet and pure, yes, mother's pet,
Who loved the children best sports e'en yet,
The circus, and "old swimming hole,"
Picnics, and Sunday's twilight stroll,
Through village lanes, with sweet-faced girls,
In pretty gowns, and flowing curls—
When we for Heaven sometimes yearn
'Tis 'cause we want those days "return."

School tails at play, with marbles, ball,
"Close up in ranks," and answer call;
Some just "engaged" to girl they love,
Go forth their manly souls to prove;
And others, who are older still,
With wife and babes, with iron will,
Suppress the tear, hide aching heart,
When they from loved ones sadly part.

These VETERANS we see to-day,
Some bent with age, some bald, some gray,
Can hardly realize or know
How rapidly old Time doth flow.
If compel'd from the field and camp
Could rise to-day to join the tramp
Of living heroes, youths they'd be,—
Same as they were in sixty-three.

This hallowed day, each laureled grave,
Of him who helped his country save,
Is loved, revered, throughout the land,
By millions, come with blooms in hand
To cover o'er the HONORED DEAD,
Who for their country fought and bled,
On glory BATTLEFIELDS of pain,
'Mid shot, and shell, and leaden rain.

Or, prone on beds of sore distress,
By camp disease, sad, merciless,
Mid forests dark, morasses wild,
Where many a blue-eyed soldier-child,
Passed weary days and nights of woe,
On narrow cot, while to and fro,
Sweet visions pass in mem'ry's ken,
And soldier dreams, he's home again.

In mind and heart we make to-day
A pilgrimage to graves away
Some, 'neath the cluster of the trees,
'Mid songs of birds, and hum of bees,
Some on the farm, 'mid roses bloom,
Or in some valley, where the gloom
Of deep old woods, whose shadows rest,
On streams that flow from mountain crest.

Some where the birds, in joyful song,
Give praise to God the whole day long;
Where eagles hover in the sky,
And storm clouds thunder as they fly
Across the face of heaven's blue,
To hoary mountain tops in view;
Where lonely graves of soldiers dead,
Seen wet with tears, by Angels shed

Some, in the village graveyard lay,
Where oft in boyish romp and play;
'Mid mossy headstones, covered o'er
With green, from age, with vines galore;
Or where some marble tomb stone grand,
In column, stient awe doth stand,
To mark the spot where now doth rest
Same boys as soldiers, peaceful blest.

Some in the "Bivouacks" of the dead,
Where reverential feet soft tread
The holy ground the Nation keeps,
Where many a soldier brave now sleeps,
Whose sacred ashes conseerate
To Freedom's noble shrine of state,
This land and union, happy free,
PERPETUATING LIBERTY

This day of mem'ries, precious, sweet,
We bend o'er graves, with hoed heart-beat;
Place there the broad and sweeping palms,
While musing silently the Psalms;
And promises God made for men,
When he hath passed life's narrow span.
'Tis here we place earth's fairest gems
Of floral crowns as diadems.

Place sprays of Honeysuckle there,
With violets of heav'n rare;
With roses with the jessamin,
And bottlecamp, yes, put them in;
And pansies, too, with all the rest,
To scatter o'er the grassy crest,
Where dust of some poor brave "Unknown"
Lies buried there—so reads the stone.

Let music fill the perfumed air
To martial strain is soldiers' prayer;
While drum beats, bugles' taps will sound
The requiem, o'er holy ground.
O'er some, the village choir is heard,
O'er others only sing'd bird;
Though'n heaves who sleep may hear it not,
It sacred makes the lonely spot.

No bugle blast or notes of bird,
No sound of drum or fife that's heard,
No flower strewn on sacred sod,
But one escapes the eye of God.
Pulse of the living, thus is stirred,
To deeper love, when they have heard
The muffled drum-beats sad'ning roll,
Which rouse the pat'iotic soul.

The Orator in words that thrill
Love for their mem'ry doth instill,
And moves revereential tears
His hearers, 'bout those trying years—
Recalling deeds of heroes grand,
Who died to save their native land;
And asking, while "Old Glory" waves,
That all shall honor soldiers' graves.

O'er graves, dear, sweet-faced women weep
In which doth blue-eyed soldiers sleep,
Neath lilies, golden-rods, and tre.s,
With songs of birds on every breeze,
Whilst over all, God's angel throng
Their vigils keep, in silent song;
And thus each spot is hallowed ground
Where e'er a soldier's grave is found.

We scan the names of valiant dead,
Through ages past, who fought and bled,
For liberty and freedom's weal,
To save from tyrant's ruthless heel
Their native land—and we with pride
Recite the names of those who died
At Concord, Yorktown, Bunker Hill,
Which stir our hearts with loyal thrill,

Then names from later epochs rise
Which placed our flag high in the skies.
There's Gettysburg and Donelson,
Shiloh and scores of others, won,
And Appomattox on whose field
The doom of slavery was sealed,
And Union saved—these victories grand,
In blood the steeped, saved Freedom's land.

A million men, and tons of gold!
Oh, what a story here is told!
And yet the cost, so great, immense,
Was small in every word and sense
When we compare results to-day,
With what they must have been for aye,
If disunited, torn with strife,
And rocking still each other's life.

What is our debt to soldiers then,
Living or dead, we ask again?
Their valor made the Union free,
And floats our flag o'er land and sea.
That'debt, its sum can ne'er be told,
It can't be paid alone in gold:
Tears from all living eyes each day,
Can't wash that debt of blood away.

Dead heroes, did we hear one say?
Dead, never! They will live for ave
In hearts of love; on story's page
They'll live through every coming age,
They'll live while valor's deeds are sung,
In praise, from the heart and tongue.
While virtue, honor, love shall flow,
Their deeds and fame shall brighter grow

For those who fought, in cause then lost,
We've naught but love; at any cost
We've buried every thought of hate,
And grasp the hand from every State,
Across the chasm filled with gore—
And naught but love shall evermore
Exist between those once in strife
Who sought to take each other's life

Whilst we forgive, extend right hand
To former foes, let's understand,
That treason shall not ever be
Synonymous with LOYALTY—
Secession, slavery, that scene
Did never human freedom mean;
Dis-union, we must always know,
Does not mean UNION, No! No! No!

The "gray" though worn by men as brave,
Who fought with valor to ENSLAVE,
Can never mean to PATRIOT TRUE
The same as means the grand word Blue.
The flag once called "THE STARS AND BARS," Don't mean the same as STRIPES and STARS.
"Lost Cause," has no such meaning, none,
As does the phrase "God's cause that Won."

We'll let oppression, hatred, wrong,
Be bygones. Sing the joyful song
Sectional hate, let it go, too,
And be one country, through and through.
Let loyalty and freedom grand,
Continue, BEACON WORDS to stand;
And make the "DECLARATION" true,
Where floats the flag, RED, WHITE and BLUE.

The Constitution of our land—
It must and shall forever stand;
And Lincoln's proclamation, too,
Which freed a race, and brought to view
TRUE LIBERTY, for which our sires
First lighted re-volution's fires:—
Defeated tyrants and their cause
And gave us FREEDOM'S equal LAWS.

Each soldier boy, in all the host
Of valiant souls our land can boast,
Helped make the names, which shine like stars,
'Bove all the pomp and glare of wars
These boys "unknown," from shops and farms,
With manly breasts and strong right arms,
Helped add the lustre to each name,
While theirs may be UNKNOWN TO FAME.

Great mighty names were made to shine
From sixty-one in glory's line.
There's Grant and Thomas, Sherman, Meade
And Sheridan, of brilliant deed—
Last but not least that mighty name,
Of LINCOLN, of enduring fame,
Which like a "Bow of PEACE," star,
Spans, arches, all the clouds of war.

Great na mes! Our country's noble sons,
Brave soldiers, with their boxes, guns,
And officers of every grade,
Who in their silent graves are laid.
Yes! Soldiers living, soldiers dead!
Whose blood for liberty was shed,
Let all such names forever stand!
As na mes of Heroes, great and grand.

Their valor saved the Nation's life,
And put an end to civil STRIFE;
Brought freedom to a race oppressed,
And gave us peace, forever blessed;
Gave LIBERTY new meaning, too,
While glory's flag Red, White and Blue
Still bright, with stars from Heaven, waves,
O'er FREEMEN, 'stead of SERFS AND SLAVES.

No slighting footstep e'er shall tread
Over soldier's grave; his narrow bed
Shall sacred be through all the years,
And each "Memorial Day" the tears
Of a UNITED PEOPLE GREAT,
Shall mingle to commemorate,
Their noble deeds, and COURAGE GRAND
THATSAVED FOREVER, FREEDOM'S LAND

CAUTION!

This is not a gentle word—but when you think how liable you are not to purchase the only remedy universally known and a remedy that has had the largest sale of any medicine in the world since 1868 for the cure and treatment of Consumption and Throat and Lung troubles without losing its great popularity all these years, you will be thankful we called your attention to Boschee's German Syrup. There are so many ordinary cough remedies made by druggists and others that are cheap and good for light colds perhaps, but for severe Coughs, Bronchitis, Croup—and especially for Consumption, where there is difficult expectoration and coughing during the nights and mornings, there is nothing like German Syrup. The 25 cent size has just been introduced this year. Regular size 75 cents. At all druggists. Garman & Hemenway Co.

Stands for the best that is made in Footwear.
