One Minute Cough Cure is a popular remedy for croup. Safe for children and adults. J. P. Currin.

Don't miss a good thing when you can obtain it for asking for it. Every person who is taking THE LEADER can have The Webfoot Planter one year without costing them one cent. If you want it, say so. The Webfoot Planter is a live, up-to-date paper for the farmer.

We have been unable before to notice the Christmas issue of San Francisco Call. It was a great paper of 52 pages and the best holiday edition of any journal we have ever seen from California. Charles M. Shotridge is making the Call the best paper in San Francisco. He gives the news and the facts of the day without adding the demoralizing sensations so keenly relished by many papers.

Piles of people have piles, but DeWitt's Witch Hazel Salve will cure them. When promptly applied it cures scalds and burns without the slightest pain. J. P. Currin.

Patronize the man who advertises. You do not visit your neighbors unless asked to, and do not attend a party or wedding without an invitation; then why should you intrude on the privacy of a storekeeper without an invitation? Buy, of the live business man, who not only invites you to come to see him every day, but educates and keeps you posted on what is popular in his line of goods:

DeWitt's Little Early Risers for biliousness, indigestion, constipation. A small pill, a prompt cure. J. P. Currin.

ROAST HIM ALIVE.—One of the least enterprising merchants in Astoria is a Commercial street druggist. He never advertises; never takes a paper and refused to subscribe for the New Year's edition of the Herald. There are drug stores in Astoria, that allow doctors a commission on all perscriptions and charge it up to the customers. any man who will not assist a legitimate enterprise is unworthy the patronage of the people. This advertisement is free gratis. The gentleman is so penurious that we can better afford to give it to him than he can afford to pay for it. This is the only drug store in Astoria that refused to assist a legitimate enterprise. — Astoria Herald.

Tired Women

Need to have the action of the kidneys stimulated and the system toned up. Parks' Sure Cure is the best remedy to accomplish this. Many a woman finds that she is tired out by work that ought not to tire her at all. She fears that her whole system is broken down and she is a hopeless invalid when a few doses of Park's Sure Cure would make her look at life from a different point of view. Don't delay Every bottle is guaranteed. Sold by J. A. Benson.

Ramble in the Country

Saturday evening Mr. D. P. Sheridan dropped a forty pound box of elegant evaporated Italian prunes on our office floor and wanted to know if they were good for 52 weekly visits of THE LEADER—and ye editor said yep. He soon had ye editor in his wagon by his side and spinning home, three miles west of Walker. Arrived in time for a good first class farm home meal and an appetite as savage as a meat axe. Sunday morning he showed ye editor over a magnificent 324 acre ranch that shows that its owner knows what he is there for. Lots of land well cleared and 1000 lovely prune trees that have been bearing some years, and they show excellent care and cultivation. He has a fine dry house and 8000 pounds of Italian prunes not yet sold—and they are fine. We were shown the prettiest band of white Angora goats we have ever seen—and a nice lot of sheep too. Every night they are turned into a shed and every morning turned out on pasture. A little trouble, but it pays. Many of the goats yield seven pound fleeces, and then the kids and the manner in which they keep down the sprouts on the pasture land beats the labor of two good hands the whole year round. The man with a large ranch and no goats, is not "in it" worth a cent. Notwithstanding Mr. Sheridan's ranch is mountain land it is nearly all cultivatable and produces fine grain and fruit. He has land that has produced 105 bushels of oats per acre. Everything on the place is in good shape and reflects credit upon the owner. Mrs. Sheridan is a very estimable woman and well versed in the cullinary department. A splendid dinner was enjoyed. Superb golden butter, rich Oregon, mouth melting prunes and luscious strawberries. Well, with such living we should be charmed with country life forever.

INSTALLATION AT LORANE.—Lorane Lodge No. 123, I O O F, gave a public installation at the M. E. church at Lorane, last Saturday evening, January 4, 1896. The following officers were installed by D D G M, J. S. Ozment: W A Caton, N G; E S Addison, V G; D G Palm, Rec Sec; W H Ray, Per Sec; W I Coleman, Treas; I P Innman, War; S H McKernon, Con; J F White, I G; E Farman, O G; C Morrow, Chaplain; Wm. Innman, R S N G; S Hartley, L S N G; W Vaughn, R S V G; W R Doak, L S V G; W H Davis, R S S; B Lee, L S S.

After the installation the croud was invited to the Christian church to partake of an oyster supper. The ladies of Lorane know just how to make oyster soup. After supper all returned to the M. E. church and listened to some fine vocal music, recitations and speeches by Messrs. Williams and Simpson of Eugene; Russel, of Drain; D. G. Palm, of Lorane; and several others. All who were present enjoyed a very pleasant evening, and wished the Lorane Lodge prosperity.

THE LEADER is in pressing need of money and wants all of its subscribers to help it out by sending what they owe on subscription. It is a small matter to each one of you but to us it aggregates several hundred dollars, and we need the money.

We are pleased to announce that Dr. Snapp is able to be out on the street on crutches. The Doctor looks a little pale, but will soon be himself again He don't forget the local newspaper. He called at THE LEADER office Thursday and added a little to its exchequer.

GOOD BYE HONEY.—For some time there has been rumors, not of war, but that our esteemed friend and fellow citizen, J. W. Gowdy had decided to make a change in life and slide off from the broad plane of single blessedness. In fact we have two or three times in the past few months heard that our friend was married and advised to publish the notice. But we do not like to anticipate such important news. But now we are happy to announce the matrimonial alliance, which occurred at the residence of the bride in Cottage Grove, Wednesday evening at 6:30 as follows: J. W. Gowdy and Mrs A. J. VanRiper. Rev. C. A. Wooley officiating. THE LEADER congratulates the happy young couple and wishes them bushels of genuine happiness.

Only a few intimate friends were invited. Several nice presents were presented. The bride and groom are well known in this vicinity, and have the best wishes for a happy and prosperous future.

It is the same old story and yet constantly recurring that Simmons Liver Regulator is the best family medicine. "We have used it in our family for eight years and find it the best medicine we ever used. We think there is no such medicine as Simmons Liver Regulator."—Mrs. M. E. S. Adington, Franklin, N. C. "Each member of our family uses it as occasion requires."—W. B. Smity, Mt. Vernon, Ky.

CLEVER.—S. H. Vaughn who has been a subscriber of THE LEADER ever since it was started, called Thursday and paid up over four years subscription, renewed for another year in advance and ordered the Weekly Examiner. Mr. Vaugh says everything along Row river is lovely and the grouse hooteth already for springtime approacheth, gentle Annie.

YOU CAN'T SEE IT!

Nature has provided a route for the S. P. Railroad through the richest valleys of Oregon, but in many places the train passes through narrow valleys and close to mountains and foot hills. Strangers on the cars will look through the windows and while they see much fine land, and glorious scenery along the line they miss the richest part of the country in many places. There are thousand of locations where one will see a hill and think there is "nothing there," and yet, just beyond the view of the eyes there are often thousands of acres of rich valley land amid the grand mountain scenery, that are waiting to be divided into small holdings for diversified farming—fruit growing that have no comparison in any other state in the union. Starting out toward a mountain one finds a road, a little steep and winding at first, perhaps. Advancing one will soon find a road leading into fertile valleys and foothills of many hundred and sometimes thousands of acres of land occupied by one, perhaps a dozen families. There is where some truly ideal locations are found for diversified farming and fruit raising. Much of the land is very productive and with cultivation produces 60 to 100 bushels of oats per acre, with other grain and vegetables in abundance. With a mild climate most of the vegetables remain in the ground growing all winter. Carrots and beets grow most all winter and reach mammoth size. With proper management these root crops, with the tons of rich hay which can be raised every year, a man can have two or three good butter cows and a few fat pigs, a few sheep, Angora goats, a nice lot of hens, out of which is a pleasant and easy manner of making a fine living for a family. No storms, blizzards or death dealing surroundings, but a mild, healthy climate, pure mountain spring water and everything as near an earthly paradise as one will ever reach in this world. From spring to fall, there may be bountiful supplies of splendid vegetables and fruits and berries, fresh milk, and cream—oh my! The very thoughts of a home with such surroundings too grand, too sublime for conception. And yet there are THOUSANDS OF SUCH PROPOSITIONS in South Lane that are almost startling to those who entertain the proper love and admiration for homes amid surrounding so charming that they will pray to be permitted to live always to enjoy such grand, royal feasts of life. Lane county presents today just such propositions to 15000 families who are now struggling in the cold icy lands east of the Rockies, to keep the wolf from their door. The struggle to raise bread and food for families and stock to last through long months of freezing cold weather—ground often frozen two and three feet deep for three or four months of the year. In South Lane, Oregon during the winter months instead of laboring five and six months every year to keep themselves and stock from freezing and perishing, they would only have to spend a few minutes every day to pull from the ground a few rich golden carrots or a few beets—two or three of which would be all a strong man could carry, and receive therefor, from the mild eyed Jersey cow, numerous gallons of rich milk and many rolls of golden butter. With all these luxuries there is health and happiness beyond measure. The tired housewife of the far distant east, who is rapidly fading from overwork and the cold chilly air of that horrid region, will find strength in the mountains and valleys of South Lane. The pure mountain spring water, the genial, bracing mountain air will re-touch her cheeks with the rich hued roses of nature far beyond the power of grandest artist in the world. Amid the grand valleys and foothills of the finest country on earth for making an easy living and enjoying all the blessings which God has created for his children on earth, is offered to everybody locating in South Lane.

Wife—Here's an account of a man who shot himself rather than suffer the prangs of indigestion. Husband—The fool! Why didn't he take DeWitt's Little Early Risers? I used to suffer as bad as he did before I commenced taking these little pills. J. P. Currin.

One Minute Cough Cure is rightly named. It affords instant relief from suffering when afflicted with a severe cough or cold. It acts on the throat, bronchial tubes, and lungs and never fails to give immediate relief. J. P. Currin.

F. S. Currin has a few artichokes for sale. Persons wanting a half bushel of them should leave fifty cents with the editor of THE LEADER, and when all orders are in the artichokes will be left at THE LEADER office for the purchasers.

De Witt's Little Early Risers for biliousness, indigestion, constipation. A small pill, a prompt cure. J. P. Currin.

INSTALLATION OF OFFICERS.—The following officers were installed in Cottage Grove Rebeckah Lodge No. 24, January 3, 1896: Mrs. Fannie Bond, N G; Mrs. Anna VanRiper, V G; Hattie Thompson, Sec; Mrs. M A Mount, Treas; E P Long, War; Emma Carey, Con; T Allen, O G; W Gowdy, I G; R Griffin, Chaplain; M C Bond, R S N G; Mrs. Florence Newman, L S N G; Mrs. L Thompson, R S V G; Mrs. Clara Taylor, L S V G.

One Minute Cough Cure is a popular remedy for croup. Safe for children and adults. J. P. Currin.

WOOL IN THE SENATE.

Senator Mitchell of Oregon, supported his resolution instructing the finance committee to restore the McKinley duties on wool in any revenue bill reported to the senate with a strong speech last week.

He declared that no industry had received such a staggering and deadly legislative blow as that inflicted upon the wool industry by the Wilson tariff act. It drained from the United States within the last year $85,000,000 gold to pay for foreign wool and occasioned a loss to the woolgrowers of this country of more than $100,000,000. Unless this legislation was changed, the sheep industry of the Pacific coast would be annihilated. Mitchell referred to the condition of the treasury, the president's appeal, and added that while providing at earliest possible moment legislation which will produce sufficient revenue to relieve the adminstration of its present embarrassment, the other important questions should not be lost sight of in the performance of our response to the president and we should so legislate as to relieve from danger of destruction some of the great industries stricken down by the Wilson tariff act. Mitchell said the tariff bill passed by the house would probably increase the revenue $40,000,000 a year. Amended as it should be by affording wool, lumber, barley, hops and other agricultural products adequate protection, it will give an additional revenue of $60,000,000 and place a padlock upon the so-called "endless chain" by which gold is drawn from the treasury, stop all necessity for further issue of bonds and rescue from impending ruin wool and other agricultural interests of this country.

Coughing irritates the delicate organs and aggravates the disease. Instead of waiting try One Minute Cough Cure. It helps at once, making expectoration easy, reduces the soreness and inflammation. Every one likes it. J. P. Currin.

SEVERELY BURNED.—Sunday Miss Marguerite Whitney, of the Eugene Photo Company, met with a serious burning accident. She was engaged in finishing some photo work for the Chase stock company, and had just finished sweeping the rooms and was in the act of throwing some waste papers gathered in her apron into the stove when her apron caught fire. She tried to get the apron unfastened but was not successful. She then attempted to put the fire out with her hands but failed in this, not, however, till she had burned her hands fearfully, especially on the inside. Miss Whitney was alone in the studio and she knew that the fight between her and the flames was deadly, and after finding that ordinary means were of no avail, instead of becoming frightened and losing her self control, she rolled herself in a carpet and then rolled about on the floor till the fire was smothered. She will probably be reminded of the eventful Sunday many years by scares from the burns inflicted.—Eugene Register.

Mrs. W. B. Meek, who resides at Camptonville, Cal., says her daughter was for several years troubled at times with severe cramps in the stomach, and would be in such agony that it was necessary to call in a physician. Having read about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy, she concluded to try it. She found it always gave prompt relief. It was seldom necessary to give the second dose. "It has not only saved us lots of worry and time," she says, "but also doctor bills. It is my opinion that every family should have a bottle of this remedy in the house." For sale by J. A.
