Seattle Pitcher Holds Down Portland Sluggers.

RUNS SCORED ARE UNEARNED

Browns Are Able to Make Only Five Safe Hits—Brashear and Hughes Win Batting Average of 1.000.

PACIFIC COAST LEAGUE. Yesterday's Scores. Seattle 7; Portland, 2. Oakland, 3; San Francisco, 2. Sacramento, 6; Los Angeles, 5.

SEATTLE, Wash., Aug. 13.—(Special)—Jay Hughes was nearly the whole thing at Recreation Park today. He held the Portland sluggers down to five safe hits, and both runs scored by the visitors were unearned.

Both sides started in to win the game by base-stealing. In Seattle's half of the first Lumley and Brashear were thrown out while trying to steal.

Portland's two runs were due to the bunching of three hits and an error by Jansing. The error allowed the runners to score, as the slide would have been out in spite of the three hits with perfect fielding.

The game was played in almost record time—one hour and 25 minutes. This was due to the fast work on both sides, and to the unusual circumstances that there was little of the article known in baseball phrase as "monkeying."

WANTS CLOTHES OR $100. Charles F. Axen Sues Sailor Boarding-House Keepers.

Charles F. Axen, who came here some months ago with the English ship Dunearn, filed suit in the Circuit Court yesterday against William Smith and Harry White, keepers of the sailors' rooming-house in Albina, asking $100 damages.

George Jahour, whose big show will be one of the features of the Fall carnival, having expressed a wish to have George Hutchins act as his representative during the preparatory stages of the carnival, the selection was acquiesced in, and Mr. Hutchins will report to Mr. Bentley.

Treasurer George W. Hoyt was authorized to employ a salaried clerk.

Reports from the various subcommittees showed that excellent progress is being made with the work in hand.

Reports received from St. Paul, Minn., where the Jubilee show is the chief attraction of the carnival in progress there, are to the effect that it is exceeding all expectations as a drawing card.

TO DIRECT THE CARNIVAL

A. K. BENTLEY IS CHOSEN AS THE MANAGER. Choice of George L. Hutchins as Representative of Jubour Shows is Ratified.

The problem of selecting a superintendent for the Merchants and Manufacturers' carnival next month was solved at a largely-attended meeting of the M. A. C. carnival directors last night by the election of A. K. Bentley as vice-president and managing director.

The selection of Mr. Bentley was attended by an outburst of great enthusiasm, and while he did not seek the honor and endeavored to decline, his declination was not listened to and he was finally prevailed upon to accept.

As managing director Mr. Bentley is in reality the superintendent of the carnival and no other executive head will be required.

The selection of Mr. Bentley by this responsible office will meet with the enthusiastic approval of every member of the M. A. C., for he is one of the most popular members of that popular organization.

When it comes to work for the good of the city, Mr. Bentley is always on deck. He has rendered the club valuable service in the past, and his election last night is but an evidence of the high esteem in which he is held by his associates.

George Jahour, whose big show will be one of the features of the Fall carnival, having expressed a wish to have George Hutchins act as his representative during the preparatory stages of the carnival, the selection was acquiesced in, and Mr. Hutchins will report to Mr. Bentley.

SMALL BOY A FIREBUG. SAMUEL LIND NOT TO BE PROSECUTED FOR STARTING FIRE. With Seven Other Youths He Has "Lots of Fun" Seeing a Houseboat in Flames.

Ten-year-old Samuel Lind, firebug, the son of an East Side saloon-keeper, was the center of attraction in the police station yesterday as he related how he and seven other small boys set fire to a houseboat at the foot of East Ash street, August 4.

He gave all the details connected with the adventure, and seemed to look upon it only as a good joke. He also gave the names of his associates in crime, and the police expect a lively time in hunting them down.

But at the end of the interview with the police it was considered that the boy was too young to be sent to jail, and he was given to his father with the strict understanding that he was to be kept bottled up until wanted.

"Did you not set fire to other places when you were in the firebug business?" he was asked.

"No, sir," came the ready reply. "Did your father not whip you for what you have done?"

The boy snuffed with contempt and said: "Father hasn't whipped me, and he won't, either. Why, he ain't big enough to do it, and I'll just run away from home if he does anything to me. I ain't sorry, as I showed them what one of the gang can do."

"Are you quite sure that this was the only fire you started?"

"No, sir—e. They dassent." "When the fire was set on fire by Lind and his band of seven, it was only by hard work that the firemen prevented the flames from spreading."

District Engineer H. Holden made an investigation to the origin of the blaze, and became convinced that it was incendiary.

Several small boys told him that shortly before the fire started in the river dwelling they saw an Albin boy climb through a window and with a lighted candle set fire to coverings over a bed.

When the fire gained good headway he ran away, and the seven turned in an alarm for the firemen. In the meantime, through Detectives Kerrigan and Snow, who worked up the case, the Lind boy's father became convinced that his son knew something about the fire, and he brought him to the police station for investigation.

The Lind boy said: "We did it just for fun. I don't know who said to set fire to the shack, but some one did say so. We picked a candle from the bed, the grease dropped on the floor. We put the blankets over the grease, and how she roared! Then the other boys ran away."

The small firebug was sent home, and in the meantime the detectives are looking up the other culprits.

District Attorney Manning was interviewed last night, and he said that he went on to say that his investigation had not been completed.

GO TO SEATTLE IN BODY. Delegates to Trans-Mississippi Congress Will Work for the Fair.

Monday the city and state delegates to the Trans-Mississippi Commercial Congress will leave for Seattle on a special train.

There will be about 44 of the delegates and it was decided at a meeting held yesterday afternoon in the headquarters of the Chamber of Commerce that the delegates shall go as a body.

A. H. Devers was named as chairman of the delegation and Max Shillock and M. Mossohn were made secretaries.

It was decided that the Seattle trip is to be used to the very best advantage in advertising the Lewis and Clark Exposition. It was also decided to arrange to get headquarters for the delegation at a distributing point for literature to be furnished by the Chamber of Commerce.

Suitable headquarters as well as hotel rooms will be arranged for today by wire.

A committee composed of S. C. Beach and P. W. Custer was appointed to frame a petition to be presented to Congress suggesting that an appropriation of $1,000,000 for the Lewis and Clark Exposition would be appropriate.

This petition will be drawn up in the near future and got in readiness for signature.

The delegation voted for united effort in securing the next Commercial Congress for Portland or if not the one of next year, then the one of the year following, during the Exposition.

It was decided to have a committee at the depot to meet the Texas delegation who will pass through Portland Sunday evening on their way to Seattle.

The time for the next meeting prior to departure was not determined and the meeting will be held subject to the call of the chairman.

The announcement was made at the close of the session that the Northern Pacific has made a rate of one and a third fare for the round trip to Seattle, commencing Saturday.

FOND OF HIS WIFE ONLY. Andrew Gordon Denies Affection for His Cashier.

Andrew Gordon, the confectioner, filed answer yesterday to the sensational divorce proceedings brought by his wife, Mrs. Blanche Gordon, several weeks ago.

In his answer Gordon denies all the allegations of his wife's complaint, and sets out that it is his belief that she is suffering from mental trouble, stating that she was seriously ill about a year ago, and has not been herself since that time.

The answer is accompanied by an affidavit by Miss Craft, in which she denies having any deeper feeling for her employer than that of respect.

It also alleges that she is mistaken as to his financial condition when she estimates his wealth at $30,000, as he is worth not more than $10,000, with an income from his business of but $200 a year.

The answer also alleges that she has developed an over-fondness for Mrs. Lillian Partridge, of East Thirty-second street, neglecting his wife and children because of her. She asks that she be given a decree of absolute divorce, as well as the custody of their three minor children and half of his property, which is worth several thousand dollars.

DAN PATCH, THE PACER, WILL TRY TO BREAK WORLD'S RECORD OF 1:50 1-4.

Dan Patch, the pacer, will endeavor at the Empire City track, during the Grand Circuit, to break the world's pacing record of 1:50 1/4, now held jointly by himself and his sire, Joe Patchen.

There is an odd condition, one which is possibly new to the horse world, to the contest, that makes it likely that he will succeed. His owner agrees that if his horse does not lower the record he will not take a single cent for the exhibition.

In arranging the trial against the mile record, the Empire City Trotting Club felt that there should be everything for a horse that could lower the record over the fast course at Tonawanda, but that nothing should be given where the record was not broken.
