County Will Aid.

R. A. Harris and James Edgar, of the Eola Hills, were in Dallas yesterday in the interest of the improvement of the county road near Brush college. The road at this point became so muddy last winter that the Government found it necessary to reduce the rural mail service on that route. This Spring the farmers raised a fund of $200 to be used in repairing the highway, and yesterday the court made an appropriation of $150 for a like purpose. The money at hand will make it possible to reduce grades and place the road in first-class condition. The people of the neighborhood are greatly pleased with the action of the court, as it will now be possible to re-establish the former excellent mail service.

MAY BUY COLLEGE

School Directors Figure on Cost of Building and Grounds.

Negotiations are pending between the directors of the Dallas school district and the trustees of Dallas College for the purchase by the district of the college building and grounds. The price asked by the college for its property is said to be in the neighborhood of $25,000. If the deal should be consummated, the school district would use the college building for a High School for a time, probably a year or two, and then take steps looking to the erection of a modern High School building. The college, on the other hand, would buy land somewhere in the suburbs of Dallas and build large college buildings.

No definite steps have been taken, and it is not known whether the deal will be put through, as it is yet all in the "talk" stage. The purchase would give the district very valuable and highly desirable school grounds, but a poorly-constructed school building. It would, of course, be necessary to vote probably $20,000 more bonds, in addition to the $40,000 already available, at any future time the district decided to build a modern High School. It is believed that the purchase of the college grounds and the erection of a suitable High School building would not exceed $65,000.

The Reverend M. J. Ballantyne has purchased through the Campbell real estate agency thirteen acres of the A. C. Ramsey farm, two miles east of Dallas. Mr. Campbell also sold 8 2-3 acres of the Frank Sherwood place, two miles northeast of the city, to Joseph Guthrie.

VETERAN OF CIVIL WAR

Cornelius Burright Killed by Accident Near Independence.

Cornelius W. Burright, who was killed by accident on Horst Bros.' hop ranch while operating a grubbing machine last Friday, April 22, was sixty-eight years of age having been born in Ohio in 1842. He enlisted in the civil war in 1860, served three years and was then honorably discharged. He was married to Miss Sarah Willmoth in 1885 and is survived by her and thirteen children. Two daughters are married, Mrs. Clarence Marks and Mrs. Bert McCallister. Of the ten children at home, four are of an age that they will be of material assistance to their mother in the care of this family. The accident which took the life of Mr. Burright was doubly sad in the respect that the family which he leaves is large and in great need of parental care.

Mr. Burright lived about an hour after the accident which cost his life. The little boy was driving the horse which was hitched to the sweep, when some part of the harness broke, releasing the sweep which was hurled back with great force, striking Mr. Burright in the side and inflicting mortal injuries.

The Burrights came to this place some six years ago having removed here from Sodaville where they settled on coming to the coast from Nebraska in 1890.—Independence Enterprise.

POLK'S PRIZE GOATS

Prominent Association Official Inspects Some Choice Flocks.

Alva L. McDonald, secretary of the Northwest Angora Association, recently visited Polk County and gained much information of interest and value to him in his work. In a letter to the Oregon Agriculturist, he tells of his observations in the banner goat county of Oregon, as follows:

"I paid a visit to the Riddell farm and found that they were nearly through shearing. They are leaving over some of their best prospects for long mohair, and of the number which I saw it can be stated as a fact that they are going to have a valuable clip. The outcome of this will be interesting, for it seems to me that this branch of the industry should be an important one. It is a beautiful sight to cast an eye over the Riddell flock, for the most amateurish can see that he is viewing a flock of strictly high-grade quality. Jim Riddell is the manager of the Angora end of the farm, and if he would take his hands out of his pockets more often and write us something, we would be ahead that much. They recently sold quite a band of registered Angoras to S. B. Zook, of Lakeport, California. We are not in a position to give the figures paid for these, but can say that it was a long price.

"J. B. Stump was busily engaged in shearing and getting his mohair in shape for the market. It would be advisable if all the growers would adopt the method of grading their own mohair before it is shipped. This can be done in a measure by every grower. It only takes a little time and attention, but it pays to do so.

"Marion Waters, of Airlie, is an old hand in the mohair business, and has a large flock on his ranch. He tells me that he intends to grade up and get better Angoras on his place.

"In last week's issue of The Agriculturist the 'cut' of sweepstakes buck at the Oregon State Fair should have read 'Guthrie Bros., Dallas, Oregon', instead of Independence.

"The sale of Mrs. W. J. Farley's clip of mohair at Dallas for 40c sets a new mark for Oregon mohair. It is conceded to be the highest price ever paid for mohair in Oregon."
