HE FOUND HIS AFFINITY.

And Though He Was 75 Years Old Mr Pengra Married Her.

Today's Oregonian: R J Pengra, a well-known Oregon pioneer, aged 75, came to Portland the other day, and all the way from Klamath Falls, in quest of a wife. Mr Pengra is an ardent spiritualist, a firm believer in that strange doctrine of his sect, the doctrine of affinity, which asserts that every human soul must have a counterpart, and that, though some mysterious but convenient manipulation in the spirit world, two such souls must inevitably be drawn together and united, either here or in the hereafter, and either with or without their seeking.

Whether it is because of the truth of the theory, or because of his own very definite and avowed seeking, it is quite true to fact that scarcely had Mr Pengra set his foot in Portland when he met his presumptive affinity and prospective bride in the person of Mrs Lucretia Bigalow, for nine years past a successful dressmaker in the city, who had tired of a long-protracted widowhood, and who was also bent upon relieving her loneliness in the holy bonds of matrimony.

A friend of both the parties, knowing their mutual intent, out of the kindness of her heart caused their meeting at her house immediately after Mr Pengra's arrival. This was one week ago last Friday night. The two had never heard of each other before. The following morning they were married, George Hyland, an ordained minister of the church of theosophy in Portland, officiating. Tuesday night a reception was given to the newly married couple at the home of Mrs Rufus Mallory, at which they were the recipients of numerous congratulations, and supposedly of as many substantial gifts as an alliance of such unusual and somewhat surprising abruptness would permit.

Mr and Mrs Pengra are spending their honeymoon in Portland, but expect to leave soon for Klamath county to enjoy the felicities of their newfound love upon a chicken ranch in the sagebrush plains of Southern Oregon, for Mr Pengra is largely interested in that substantial, if unromantic, industry. He is the owner also of a big stock ranch near Klamath Falls, and is very well to do.

Mr Pengra came to Oregon many years ago and is probably known to all the older settlers of the country. He was identified with several early Oregon newspapers, and was at one time in charge of the government surveys on the Pacific coast. Other positions of some prominence have been held by him, and he was for several terms a member of the legislature from Lane county. He was for a long time a resident of Springfield, near Eugene, where he lived with his first wife and raised a large family.

Mr Pengra has not been successful in his former matrimonial ventures. He has been married twice before, but both marriages ended in divorce. Probably he had not struck his affinity. At any rate misfortune attended and followed both unions, and a loss of most of his property was attendant upon his last parting. He sought refuge in Southern Oregon, and solace and fortune on his chicken ranch. A degree of fortune came, though solace it seems did not. But that, it is hoped, may be found in the ministrations of Mrs Pengra, No 3.

A LODGE OF SORROW.

The Eugene Elks Will Hold an Open Memorial Service on Sunday December 4th.

In accordance with the custom of the order, Eugene Lodge, No 357, B P O Elks, will hold a "Lodge of Sorrow" or a memorial service, in honor of their departed brethren, on Sunday afternoon December 4th, on which occasion a memorial sermon will be delivered by Judge J W Hamilton, of Roseburg. The music will be the best obtainable and Miss Lulu Renshaw will deliver a recitation.

The service, which is always a beautiful and impressive one, is one peculiar to Elkdom, and is held in every lodge of the "antlered herd" in the world, on the first Sunday in December of each year, when just tributes are paid to the virtues of the departed, and a kindly veil is drawn over their imperfections. The service is held in the lodge room of the order, and the doors are open to INVITED GUESTS, and every one is generally present at this, the most impressive and beautiful of memorial ceremonies.

PAPER PUBLISHED BY SOLDIERS

Oregon Engineers at Honolulu Thus Amuse Themselves.

The Oregon engineers, who are at Camp McKinley, a few miles from Honolulu, have begun the publication of a paper, several copies of which have found their way to the old homes of the soldiers.

The little sheets contain many items of interest and amusement, among which the following are found:

"There is not on the green old earth a more prodigal being than a soldier with his pay. For months he will drag on without a cent and unable to borrow any, for the company is broke as badly as he. Then comes pay day, and the sinful lusts of flesh reassert themselves and a debauch is the result, prolonged just as long as the money lasts. Or the love of gambling breaks out, and the money is squandered at the card table or the crap layout. It is common to find a man, a few days after he has been paid, trying to borrow car fare.

"Who's cooking starts and ends with stew? Who's coffee's vile and bread's not new? Who starves a crowd and feeds a few?—the cook."

A Clever Trick.

It certainly looks like it, but there is really no trick about it. Any body can try it who has Lame Back and Weak Kidneys, Malaria or nervous troubles. We mean he can cure himself right away by taking Electric Bitters. This medicine tones up the whole system, acts as a stimulant to the Liver and Kidneys, is a blood purifier and nerve tonic. It cures Constipation, Headache, Fainting Spells, Sleeplessness and restores the system to its natural vigor. Try Eelectric Bitters and be convinced that they are a miracle worker. Every bottle guaranteed. Only 50 cents a bottle at Wilkins & Linn's Drug Store.

Salem Woodsaw Accident.

Saturday morning at Salem, as N Van Fleet and his 16-year-old son were working their steam saw on the wood piles of the Cronise Photo studio, the lad, unfortunately, threw his right hand against the revolving saw, in an effort to save himself from falling. The whirling teeth almost severed the second and third fingers of the hand, but instant recourse being had to Dr S R Jessup, who treated the lacerated members, will, in all probability, result in the saving of them. The boy had a narrow escape.

HIGH SCHOOL SOCIETY.

Social Session of Adelphia Held Saturday Night.

The literary society of the high school gave a social session Saturday night in Mount's Hall, to invited guests from the Ninth and Tenth grades. About seventy-five were present and all report a jolly good time. The capable president, Miss Etta Williams, received in gracious manner, assisted by Misses Winnie Smith, Emma Green, LaVerne Long, Cora Weld and Messrs Claude Pengra, Will Whipple and Frank Dillard. The hours were from 8 to 11 o'clock, and the scene was one of gay festivity, interspersed with animated conversation, music, refreshments and games.

The souvenir programs consisted of two cards tied with the society colors, blue and white ribbon.

CONVERSATION TOPIC.

"New School Buildings."

Should Central be repaired or rebuilt?

Should there be a separate high school building?

Should the high school building be located on the lot near the University, or near the center of the city?

The room was beautifully decorated in national colors, ferns, palms, ivy and potted plants. The decorating committee was composed of Miss Winifred Smith, Mr Will Whipple and Miss Mazy Eddy. The refreshments were dainty and very prettily served by the committee, Miss Long, Miss Keeney, and Miss Holden.

The enrollment in the high school is just 90, and when they all get together it makes a brilliant company.

Good Samaritan Hospital.

During the year just past, the Good Samaritan hospital of Portland, gave shelter to 1338 patients, 839 of whom were Americans. The remainder represented 24 nationalities. Of those received 162 were Lutherans, 156 Methodists, 151 Roman Catholics, 114 Episcopalians and the same number Presbyterians. During the year 7355 days care was bestowed upon free patients. This included board and lodging, light and fuel, services of physician, medicine and nursing, a value of $7355.

Annual donations to the hospital will be made from this city Wednesday, Nov 23. Dr Loveridge will receive donations at the church Wednesday. Money, fruit, clothing, etc, will be thankfully received.

The Greatest Discovery Yet.

W M Repine, editor Tiskilwa, Ill., "Chief," says: "We wont keep house without Dr King's New Discovery for Consumption, Coughs and Colds Experimented with many others, but never got the true remedy until we used Dr King's New Discovery. No other remedy can take its place in our house, as it is we have a certain and sure cure for Coughs, Cold, Whooping Cough, etc." It is idle to experiment with other remedies, even if they are urged on you as just as good as Dr King's New Discovery. They are not as good, because this remedy has a record of years and besides is guaranteed. It never fails to satisfy. Trial bottles free at Wilkins & Linn's Drug Store.

Faced Death With a Smile.

From an account of the shipwreck of the British ship Atlanta, Wednesday night November 16th, near the mouth of the Alsea river, a Benton county stream, which empties into the Pacific ocean a little north of the northern boundary of Lane county:

"The nerve displayed by the men after they had given themselves up as lost was wonderful. A fellow by the name of Smith who was hanging to a davit was twittled by every man in the rigging when the waves struck and submerged him. He took it good naturedly, but uttered a prophetic warning when he replied, 'This is no crow's-nest, boys; but I will be hanging here after you are gone.' It proved true. The rigging soon went over, bearing down its human freight. Smith dangled at the davit for a long time, outlasting all except the three in the boat He finally dropped off from exhaustion."

A "crow's-nest" is a box or perch near the top of a mast to shelter the man on the lookout.
