Junction City Times: The firemen on the overland passenger now change at this place. This being the destination from both Portland and Roseburg, while the engineers make the through run. This change is a very desirable one, as it was always considered too hard on the firemen to make the through run.

Junction Times: "A petition is in circulation praying that the name of Dusty postoffice, which is situated west of Monroe, be changed to its historic name, Bellfountain. This name is greatly desired by the people as it has been the name of the place for over forty years, besides the voting precinct whose polling place is there. The school and camp grounds are and always have been Bellfountain and the two names for one place are misleading and confusing."

Costly Lesson to Fruit Growers.

Corvallis Times Feb 11: A representative of the Earle Fruit company was in town yesterday looking after the company's claim for commission charges held by them on account of green fruit shipped east a year ago last summer. These claims, it will be remembered, aggregate more than $1000 and are laid against the growers, who besides suffered a total loss of the fruit as well as the expense of picking and packing.

The claims are held against our best citizens, none of whom can well afford to suffer to be plucked in the fashion proposed. The Earle Fruit company claim however, to have lost about $7,000 on the Oregon shipments of the same year. It is understood that local attorneys have manifested small desire to handle the pending claims.

Another Ceremony Needed.

The following heartrendering item is going the rounds of the press. We do not believe it, never the less such a thing might happen.

"A Benton county justice of the peace was called away from home the other day, and anticipating a rush of business in the justice line appointed his son, a young man of 22 years, as deputy justice, with full power to act in all capacities. A young couple who desired to be made one come along and the deputy justice performed the ceremony in due form. The Benton county legal fraternity are having considerable sport over the incident, inasmuch as a justice of the peace has no authority to appoint deputies. All trace has been lost of the young couple, but we suppose they are happy."
