BRYAN'S EXPANSION VIEWS.

In a recent interview William J Bryan made this explicit and comprehensive statement as to his views on expansion:

"I have for one year been discussing imperialism, and I have tried to distinguish between such an extension of the nations limits as would not change the character of the government and an expansion which converts a homogeneous republic into a heterogeneous empire. When the annexation of any given territory is under consideration, the question is first, whether the people are capable of sharing in the government and destiny of the nation. I believe that all people are capable of governing themselves, and that the Filipinos should be allowed to govern themselves; but I do not think that they are sufficiently advanced to share with us the government of this nation.

"If the Philippine islands are annexed, the citizens there must either be citizens or subjects. I am not willing to admit them as citizens, and do not believe a republic can have subjects, therefore I want this nation to give them independence and then protect them from outside interference. Each proposed annexation must be considered upon its own merits, but in considering these merits, the condition of the people should have more weight than geographical position or commercial advantage."

At last there is a novelty in the hunting accident line. A Portland man went hunting ducks and while getting his dog into the boat the animal stepped on the gun and caused the discharge of both barrels. The contents entered at the thigh ranging downward making a very critical wound. The usual boat and gun accident occurs through the hunter pulling the gun by the muzzle towards himself, thus giving the lock a chance to catch and be drawn back far enough to explode the cap when released.

Oregon hopgrowers, according to a long editorial in the Oregonian, are making a mistake in combining in the hopes of getting an adequate price for their product. Now if the Oregonian will give the dealers' combination some advice as to their attempted robbery of the hopgrowers scores will be even so far as the Oregonian is concerned. But it will not do so. The suspicion that the Oregonian has been "interviewed" by the people who are endeavoring to rob the Oregon hopgrowers seems to be founded on substantial grounds.

There is some satisfaction to be derived from the thought that Multnomah county will have to pay about eight thousand dollars toward the fund created by the new scalp bounty law. Portland shirks and evades her just share of taxation, but in this case will get little benefit, except in that the city is interested in the prosperity of the state, as she has few animal pests to contend with. Her pests are two-legged ones.

Twenty years ago possession of a steer was contested by some Texas people. The dispute grew into a feud and the killing still continues. Two more victims were added to the list Monday. It is said that one hundred thousand dollars have been spent and two hundred lives lost on account of that steer. And the end is not yet.

The hat trust has advanced prices of cheap hats seventy-five cents a dozen and better grades in proportion. The excuse given is that the price of wool has gone up. It would have required an advance of twenty-five cents a pound to justify the trust price. And no one has heard of any alarming advance. At least not the woolgrowers.

A Washington correspondent writes that senate dignity reaches every nook and corner of the chamber. Visitors are not allowed to read in the presence of the august senators. In the house, the correspondent relates, it is different, visitors being allowed to read anything from the Bible to Rabelais. A wide range, indeed!

Puck remarks that "it is barely possible that the trouble might have been bridged over had the Boers sent a deputation to London to give private exhibitions of their ability to shoot straight."

His Terrible Cough.

Few things are so depressing and weakening as a constant cough. Few things are as discouraging as a cough that will not yield to treatment. Dr. Pierce's Golden Medical Discovery cures coughs when all other medicines fail, because it is more than a cough medicine. The cough is but a symptom. "Discovery" makes new and pure blood, heals the lacerated tissues, and gives the body the needed strength to throw off disease. It cures the cough by curing the cause of the cough. There is no alcohol, neither opium, cocaine, nor other narcotic in the "Discovery."

"I had a terrible cough something over a year ago and could find nothing to stop it, or even to do me a particle of good," writes Mr. J. M. Farr, of Cameron, Screven Co., Ga. "I chanced to see an advertisement of yours, and forthwith bought a bottle of your invaluable 'Golden Medical Discovery.' Before I had taken half a bottle I was entirely well."
