TO ADEVRTISE OREGON.

What the Web Foot Editors Will do to Make Us Known.

The delegation from Oregon to the National Editorial Association will leave Portland, February 19, for New Orleans, and it is intended that printed matter, samples of ores, grains, fruits, timber, etc, be taken along thoroughly to advertise the state. A large lantern, together with several hundred slides, will also be used by the delegation, the lanterns to be in charge of William G. Steel, who has so successfully managed the Mazama tours.

The New Orleans Press Club, which occupies a four-story building, offers to exhibit to advantage any samples of Oregon products which may be sent there, and will give the same prominence, and will have favorable mention made in the leading papers of the South. They say that this is a courtesy due the members of the press from Oregon. The club has promised the use of a window from which the lantern slides can be shown.

Notice.

The W. R. P. L. will meet with Mrs. J. J. Walton, at her home on Ninth street, Saturday, 27th inst, at 2 p. m. All members urged to prompt attendance.

A HORSE TRADE.—Justice Wintermeirer heard a case today wherein E. B. Wickam, of Springfield, sued J. M. Talley, of Eugene, for $7, the "boot" on a horse trade. The defendant claimed the horse he got was balky, and put in a counter claim of $30. Harbaugh & Kissenger appeared for plaintiff and L. Bilyeu for defendant. The case was taken under advisement and has not been decided yet.

THEY GAVE IT UP.—Cottage Grove Leader: The suit of Thos. W. Jenkins against Misses Ray and Bee to recover some furniture and silverware, which he claimed to have loaned them New Years, did not materialize as the girls gave up the property after due consideration.

FROST.—Quite a frost this morning with the thermometer 30 degrees, two below freezing, at six o'clock. Colder weather was experienced in the lower part of the valley.

Examinations at the public schools

Separate Company C will have its first drill one week from next Tuesday evening. There will be no meeting on Tuesday January 30th, in order to give the members of the company a chance to attend the Monument Fund Benefit given by the Patriotic League. They have not received the equipments yet, although they are getting everything in readiness.

Mr. Oldway Violently Opposes Levying a School Tax.

HIS WIFE ABUSED.

GETANDKEEP VALLEY, OR.,
Jan. 24, 1900.

MISTER EDITER:—

I see by the GUARD that you'uns over to Ugeen air goin' to have a meetin' to vote a school tacks. I wan't to say a few words of warnin' to the voters of your deestrick:

Feller citizens, don't you do it! We air taxed to death now. Here in our deestrick they have jest voted a tacks that will cost me a dollar on every $1000 I've got, which is a unholy and unjust demand. I have labored and saved until I've got somethin' nigh $10,000, and I ain't got no 10 dollars to waist on schools, neither have you, my oppressed comrades. Hanner, she's got some propity too, but she's rite in fur a tacks. She went to the meetin' and voted fer it. Think of that, Mr. Editer, a feller's own wife votin squar' agin him, and the law allows her to do that very thing, bein' as she's got propity in her name. I give her a talkin' to about it, and Mr. Editer, it was a hart-rendin' trial to here the way she persecuted me. "Obadiah," sez she, "you're a mean, stingy, miserly, selfish, hard-harted old egotist (whatever that is, I don't know), and air too close fisted to pay a cent. What does $10 amount to side all you've got hoarded up where it don't do you nor nobody else any good? Think you can take it into the next world do ye? Well, all I can say is, it'll get melted if you do. You spend more than $10 a year for tobaccer at the grosry, and it don't do you a mite of good, and you know it."

"Hannner," sez I, "too much schoolin' ain't good for children. It fills the loonatick asylums."

"Did you get too much schoolin'," sez she. "Is that what made you such a bloomin' ijot? Them children ain't in half as much danger in school as they air out. If we didn't have our grandchildren to send, I'd vote for a tacks anyhow, ruther than see the risin' generation hangin' around the grosery, atistenin' to you loafers tell lies; pickin' up seegar stumps in the mud, and smokin' of 'em; learnin' all that's wicked and sinful under the sun. Learnin' to pilfer and gamble, and he and cheat and swear. Keeps 'em out of the asylum for loonaticks, does it, O adiah Oldway? May be it does; but why? Because it puts them in the penuytentiary instid. You'uns as air so miserly about spendin' a cent on your neighbor's children to send them to school, will have to give an account of yourselves some day, and the Lord'll say, 'Oldway, what did you do with that talent I give you for school purposes?' And you'll have to hang your head and say, 'I chawed it up in tobaccer and peanuts at the grosery.' Then you'll be cast into outer darkness among the goats." (Hanner she knows the Skripter, I tell ye.)

The government of tomorry is agoin' to depend on the childern of today, and they must be edjukated for the responsibilitys as is agoin' to be placed on 'em instid of sinking down into besotted ignoramuses as would let the goverment go to ruin. Talk about love of your country, Obadiah Oldway! Talk about goin' to war, and givin' your life for her! Talk is cheep, but when it comes to givin' $10 towards savin' her future and keepin her onto a solid foundation you lose your paytriotizim." I got up and got out, for I couldn't stand her abuse any longer. She made me feel as if I'd orter voted for the tacks 50 times instid of votin' agin it.

Howsomever, you men at Ugeen haven't got Hanner to make life a burden for ye, so do all you can to put down the oppressin' school tacks, for you'll need all your spare money, seein the election is comin this year.

Right here I'd like to remark that I announce myself a candydate for county school superintendent, and I promise if I am elected to do all I kin agin these here extra tackses as is drainin' us poor feller's pockets, also to endevor to cut teacher's wages to $10 a month and board; they can board around like they used to.

Yours truly,
OBADIAH EVERAT OLDWAY.

P. S. If you print this, Mr. Editor, kinder fix up the spellin' so's to make a good impression on the voters. I ain't got time to hunt up all the words in the dictionary. Don't send Hanner a paper with this in.
O. E. O.

Attention, Everybody.

Every citizen of our town will have an opportunity to augment the fund now on hands for the erection of the monument in the memory of our lamented soldier boys, by purchasing tickets to the entertainment to be given at the opera house Tuesday evening next. On sale at Corner drug store at 25, 35 and 50 cents.

"Do Not Grasp at the Shadow and Lose the Substance."

Many people are but shadows of their former selves; due to neglect of health. Look out for the blood, the fountain of life, the actual substance; keep it pure by regular use of Hood's Sarsaparilla and robust health will be the result. Dyspepsia, weakness, and other miseries will be things of the past and life will be worth living.
