POLMATIER SISTERS HERE TONIGHT

I desire to express our appreciation of the high merit of the concert recently given by the Polmatier Sisters, and to inform you that we were so much delighted that we have directed the chairman of the committee to negotiate for a return engagement.

Very truly,
W. S. McCORMICK,
E. R. of B. P. O. E.,

The Polmatier Sisters are musicians of rare ability. The entertainment was a most enjoyable one.

CHAS. L. JOHNSON,
E. R. of B. P. O. E.,
Brainerd, Minn.

This excellent musical quartet will appear at the Eugene theatre tonight.

SOME MORE AGED BOOTS

Isaac Zumwalt was wearing a pair of boots today made twenty-three years ago on the occasion of his visit to his brother in Illinois, when the pioneers went east over the then just completed Northern Pacific railroad. He thinks he has given them five years' steady wear in that time. Only one small patch has been required on the uppers. To look at them one would guess they had not been worn more than six months

NEW BUILDING FOR LAUNDRY

William Hodes Will Erect Structure at Corner of West Eighth and Charnelton

William Hodes, proprietor of the Eugene steam laundry, located in a building owned by Mayor F. M. Wilkins on West Eighth street, intends soon to erect a building of his own on the lot recently purchased by him and his father, C. Hodes, now occupied by the C. Lombard residence at the corner of West Eighth and Charnelton streets.

Mr. Hodes has not decided how large a building he will put up, but it will be large enough to accommodate his fast increasing business. There are now between 12 and 15 girls and three or four men regularly employed at the laundry. The present quarters are not large enough to properly handle the business. The new building will be a frame structure.

The Lombard residence, which has been purchased by C. P. Barnard, as stated before in the Guard, will be moved to Mr. Barnard's lot just east of the Bangs residence on West Ninth street. Some of the timbers for moving it are now on the ground.

VALLEY MERCHANTS ORGANIZE

Albany Democrat: A meeting of valley merchants from ten or eleven towns was held last evening at the Alco Club with Fred Dawson as temporary chairman and G. F. Rogers, of Salem, as secretary. J. L. Stockton, Darwin Yoran, G. E. Sanders, A. M Reeves and C. H. Burkholder were appointed a committee on constitution and bylaws, to report at the next meeting of the valley league, when organization will be perfected. It is a good thing and deserves promotion.

ASHLAND BEAT EUGENE HIGH

The Ashland high school basketball team deeated the Eugene high school team at the armory last night by the score of 15 to 12. In the first half the Eugene boys boys led by the score of 7 to 4, but in the second half Ashland took a brace and outplayed the locals.

The game was a clean one and exciting at times. A social dance was given afterward

Y. M. C. A. Notes

The greatest men we have in our national life today give high praise to the world-wide association of Christian young men. That the readers of the Guard may know what these man have to say, we quote a few extracts from the annual number of "Association Men," a magazine devoted to the International Young Men's Christian Association.

The author of "How the Other Half Lives," Jacob Riis, says: "I know of no greater force for good in our national life. It has set a stamp on our stirring Western cities that will tell for good citizenship in the day that is coming."

Vice President Fairbanks adds a timely thought to our local situation in his remarks: "The Young Men's Christian Associations promote industry, education and the physical and moral health of the community. Every one who is interested in the development of a clean, intelligent, industrious, high-minded, patriotic citizenship should contribute generously to the support of the work of the Young Men's Christian Association."

Secretary of the Interior Root has often spoken of his personal obligations to the New York association and the influence of Secetary McBurney on his life. He writes to Association Men: "I have been familiar with the work of Young Men's Christian Associations for years. I consider the organization one of the greatest usefulness, wisely conceived, admirably managed and deserving of general and warm support on the part of every one who wishes well to his fellow men."

IMPORTANT RAILROAD CHANGE

On the Springfield-Woodburn Branch Line

Railroad Company Will Probably Abandon South Santiam Bridge, Making Other Changes Necessary

A well-posted railroad man informs the Guard that the S. P. railroad bridge over the South Santiam, on the Woodburn-Springfield branch, the longest bridge in Oregon will either be condemned or abandoned soon.

The river is continually shifting its course, and bridge after bridge has been built, to be again washed out by the floods. At the present time a flood would leave the bridge over dry land and three more spans would be necessary, so the railroad company has decided to make no more repairs on the bridge.

At first it was decided to cross the river several miles further up, but this has been abandoned and whenever the bridge goes out or is condemned, which must be soon, on the south end of the line trains will be run between Springfield and Albany, and on the north end between Scio and Woodburn. Under this arrangement the towns of Crabtree and Spicer will be cut off from railroad service.

IS A THRILL PRODUCER

E. J. Carpenter's "At Cripple Creek" was put on at the Third Avenue yesterday. The devotees of the melodrama were regaled to their heart's content. In the second act the "Eagles' Leap" is about the choicest piece of melodrama and the greatest thrill producer which has appeared here this season. No less thrilling is the scene in the mine when the villains succeed in securing their enemies and are about to blow them to atoms with several hundred pounds of dynamite, but are hindered from accomplishing their purpose by the timely arrival of the hero.

Taken as a whole the company is one of the best which has appeared at the Third Avenue for some time The play is a typical Western drama, with action in every line. Several types of the various characters seen in a mining town in the early days are depicted. The rugged honesty of Joe Mayfield is contrasted with the unprincipled Martin Mason. The play carries with it a moral lesson, which leaves a good impression.

The scenic effects are better than usual, especially Mayfield's cabin and the mining scene.

I. H. BINGHAM FOR CONGRESS

Each congressional district in Oregon is expected to bring out another Republican candidate within the next few days—John L. Rand, of Baker City, who has just returned to his home city from a political survey in Portland, and I. H. Bingham, of Eugene, whose boom of a year ago has been revived.

In the first district, S. B. Huston, of Hillsboro, and Walter L. Tooze, of Woodburn, have been striving for the nomination many months, and a short time ago W. C. Hawley, of Salem, entered the fight. Bingham's boom started last winter, when he sat in the lower house of the legislature. He was one of the conspicuously active men of the lower house, an able debater, an efficient organizer and a good lawsmith. He and Representative G. W. Griffin, of the same county worked together, and have a strong following in Lane.

This following is trying to bring out Bingham for congress, and may nominate Griffin for state senator, to succeed Dr. W. Kuykendall.

Crow Items

Crow, Jan. 26.—Operations have been resumed at the coal mines after an interval of several days.

Shooting matches have been frequent of late, the stakes being principally chickens, geese and turkeys.

Many young folks and some not so young, gathered on the Stephens ranch a Noti to see the broncho busting last Sunday. They seem to think they had enough excitement to pay for the trip.

Mrs. Owen has been called to Drain by the illness of her daughter, Miss Lelah, who was a Normal student there.

The measles are fast disappearing from the neighborhood.

Mrs. Richard Liles is sick with what the doctor fears is typhoid fever.

Joe Mass is reported a little better the past few days.

We Fill Any Prescription.

You have the same right to choose your druggist that you do your physician. Each should be chosen with care. Many people have the impression that prescriptions must be filled by the druggist upon whose blank they appear. But the blank has nothing whatever to do with it. The physician is apt to pick up whatever one comes handiest, and he has no choice in the matter except that the prescription be filled where the work will be properly done. We make a specialty of high grade prescription work and are equipped to give service of ideal character. No matter what physician you employ he will be glad to have his prescription filled here.
