Brewers and Hop Trade.

Just how many bales of hops brewers have purchased of the 1909 crop is a mystery to the dealers here and elsewhere, and consequently there is much speculation among the buyers as to the available supplies. Paul Weidner, a prominent grower of Yamhill, and a dealer of national reputation at Detroit, Mich., tells the Journal that recently while making a tour of his trade he was surprised at the number of bales of the 1909 crop brewers had secured under contract. "Instead of wanting to buy hops at present prices," he says, "brewers were quite willing to sell me some at the figures I was asking. I believe that considerable business could be secured if growers were more reasonable in their demands.

"Hops are looking quite fair around Yamhill. A short time ago I didn't believe my yard there would go very heavy, but latest prospects are for a crop of about a ton an acre in my 50-acre yard."

Butter Market Decidedly Firm.

City buttermakers say that in all probability prices will be lifted within the next few days. Production is now a good deal lighter than a few weeks ago, while the demand continues strong all around.

There was nothing new in the cheese trade today. Prices were well maintained and no changes are likely in the near future. Light receipts of poultry and a moderate trade, generally at last week's quotations, were reported.

Eggs held their own fairly well at the prices that prevailed yesterday.

Both pork and veal showed moderate activity and strength, with no price changes announced.

MILLETT HOME NEAR JUNCTION CITY SOLD

Handsome Farm Residence in North Lane Changes Hands — Hotel Is Sold

The handsome Millett home was sold last Friday to Andrew Peterson, of Ponco, Nebraska, for $10,000, together with forty acres of land. This is the finest farm residence in North Lane county, and complete in every detail, modern and up to date. It commands a beautiful site and is a home to be proud of. Mr. Millett retains the crop, stock and farm implements, but these will be taken over by Mr. Peterson, which perhaps will amount to $2000 additional. Possession will be given January 1st. Mr. Peterson has returned East to dispose of his property there and expects to return during the last of December. His family consists of a wife and four children. The sale was negotiated by Jensen & Milliorn.

Hotel Changes Hands

H. N. Burchell has traded the Junction City Hotel property to Loren Sewell, of Vancouver, Washington, for twenty-one acres of land within one-half mile of the city limits of Vancouver, and a farm of 183 acres in Yamhill county. A large amount of stock and farm machinery goes with the Yamhill farm. The base valuation of the transaction was $25,000. We have not learned what the intention of the new purchaser is, whether he will move here, or be represented by a local agent. Mr. Burchell is undecided yet just when to take his departure. There will be no change in the management of the hotel, however.

Small Items

Dr. Kuykendall, together with other parties from Eugene, and also a number of men from this city, will make an auto trip Saturday to Triangle Lake to inspect the water power at the lake. It is the intention to organize a stock company, build a plant and bring in electricity to this place, not only for domestic purposes, but for all kinds of power. Power for any kind of a factory can be furnished, it is stated, for less than half the cost of steam. It is to be hoped that the enterprise will be a go.

J. F. White returned from Spokane where he registered for a chance at government land. He reports a tremendous crowd, and trains loaded to the steps, even women crawling in at the window. H. L. Rann left Thursday to try his luck. He will register at all three offices.

REPLICA OF ROBERT FULTON'S FIRST STEAMBOAT, RECENTLY LAUNCHED IN NEW YORK.

This is a photograph of the replica of Robert Fulton's steamboat, the Clermont, which was launched recently at Mariners Island, New York, and which is being built for the Hudson-Fulton celebration to be held next September. The photograph was taken while the hull of the old looking craft was on the ways prior to the launching. The vessel will be a duplicate of the original Clermont and will steam up the Hudson just as her predecessor did a hundred years ago. The builders had considerable difficulty in duplicating the primitive machinery of the original boat.
