LITTLE BABY HORRIBLY BURNED

By Boiling Grease—Skin All Came off One Side of Face and Head—Tried an Ointment which Made It All Fester—Wee Sufferer Seemed Disfigured for Life.

CURED WITHOUT A MARK BY CUTICURA

"About a year and eight months ago my baby, aged ten months, was sitting on the mat beside the fender and we were preparing the breakfast when the frying-pan full of boiling grease was upset and it went all over one side of the baby's face and head. One of the family ran and wiped the scald with a towel and you may think what a mess she made, pulling the entire skin off. We took her to a chemist who told us to get a doctor, which we did. He tended her a week and gave me some stuff like lard to put on. But it all festered and I thought the baby was disfigured for life. A woman close beside me told me to try Cuticura Ointment. I used about three boxes and it was wonderful how it healed. In about five weeks it was better and there wasn't a mark to tell where the scald had been. People used to ask me if that was the baby that was scalded and they would hardly believe me when I told them she was and what cured her face. Her skin is just like velvet and I have never been without Cuticura since. Cuticura cured three other children of ringworm besides, so I have good cause to thank it for what it has done. Mrs. Hare, 1, Henry St., South Shields, Durham, England, March 22, 1908."

REGISTRATION OF CORRESPONDENCE SCHOOL 500

Professor L. R. Alderman Tells of Correspondence Department's Growth

"Five hundred students will take work in our correspondence department next year," declared Professor L. R. Alderman, of the department of education, who looks after the correspondence work at the University of Oregon. "Last year we had over 360, and the prospects are so bright that 500 seems to be a conservative estimate."

These figures, with those given out by the School of Music at Eugene, and the regular undergraduate department, means that 1200 students will receive work from the University's departments, or about fifteen hundred, when the law and medical departments in Portland are included.

The courses in the department are: Pysiology and botany, 1-2 each; elementary algebra, advanced algebra, plane geometry, solid geometry, mathematical methodology, pedagogy, school administration, English classics, Shakespeare, Oregon history, political economy, mechanical drawing, graduate courses.

A course in current history will also be offered.

A School of Journalism

Another branch that is being discussed by University students, alumni and Eugene people, is a school of journalism, similar to that maintained by the University of Missouri, Columbia University and a number of other colleges. Professor Carson gave one course as a sort of general introduction to newspaper work, but if the school should be established the time of a man would be wholly occupied with that branch of the work. At most colleges those registered in this department take a third or half of their work under their major, and the remainder in the regular departments.

The registration at the University of Washington is 160. Missouri has done even better. For a time the advantage of college journalists was ridiculed, but now such departments are accepted as a possible remedy for the so-called evils of American newspaperdom.

RUMOR OF HOP SALE AT 20 CENTS

Unconfirmed Report of Sale by John Mills—Local Offer of 17 Cents

An unconfirmed rumor was started yesterday and pretty generally spread throughout the country around Gervais to the effect that John Mills, one of the big hop growers of that vicinity, had disposed of a large share of his crop at 20 cents. It was impossible to get into communication with Mr. Mills and dealers here could not verify the report. Mr. Mills is the owner of seven acres of hops.

The best legitimate offer confirmed, which has been made in this vicinity as yet, was made yesterday, by a well known local man, at 27 cents. The deal has not been consummated and consequently names are not given.—Salem Statesman.

In sickness, if a certain hidden nerve goes wrong, then the organ that this nerve controls will also surely fail. It may be a stomach nerve, or it may have given strength and support to the heart or kidneys. It was Dr. Shoop that first pointed to this vital truth. Dr. Shoop's Restorative was not made to dose the stomach nor to temporarily stimulate the heart or kidneys. That old-fashioned method is all wrong. Dr. Shoop's Restorative goes directly to these failing inside nerves. The remarkable success of this prescription demonstrates the wisdom of treating the actual cause of these failing organs. And it is indeed easy to prove. A simple five or ten days test will surely tell. Try it once and see. Sold by all dealers.

CAN PROVE IT

We will make a present of $150, to be donated to any charitable institution or church in Eugene, providing the salvage concern will do the same, if we cannot prove by their own advertisements, as well as by reliable citizens, that our representations regarding the fake nature of their salvage sale is not as we represent it to be.

Salvage Concern Squeals at Truth

NO KNOCKING

We do not knock against any competition, but we do reserve the right to state facts for the benefit of the public at any time. We are here to stay and give the public a square deal, but an imported salvager cannot come into Eugene and do fake advertising and business methods without having his methods exposed to the public.

The salvege concern worm has turned at the limelight thrown on their faking methods, and to prove their sincerity they offer $25.00 to any charitable institution if one of the articles they advertise is not true as represented. Just note this proposition—they advertise that only one article is as represented—in other words they only sell the one article to you at a reduced price, and fool you on the balance. Proof of the faking nature is shown in their advertisements. We give one instance: Beds that were advertised at $1.95 each as cut, and when customers who entered the store for them they were plainly told they didn't have them ,but they are now re-advertising the same bed at an increased price. Is this a greater reduction, or is it an effort to flimflam and bunco the unwary? On the morning of the salvage opening that concern stated to one of the leading citizens of Eugene that the cheapest bed they had on sale was priced at over $4.00. It is no wonder that they are indignant at our exposure of the methods they employ

SEE OUR GOODS AND PRICES

All we ask is that you make comparisons in every line of goods you want, and if our price is not better than the salvager's price, then don't buy from us. You can depend, however, that our advertised prices are genuine, and we have got the goods as advertised. This salvager claims the sale here is under his charge, and then claims "20 years in business here." At that rate we have been here a thousand years ,and will be here centuries after the salvager has gone.

The public should compare prices and see if the legitimate merchants of Eugene or the salvage concern of San Francisco are the best. Buy while you get the goods and prices. That's what you are entitled to, and if you don't get it, it is your own fault.

If the salvager from San Francisco is interested in fake advertising laws of Oregon, by consulting the assistant district attorney in this city he can find out what the law is. We are willing at any time called upon to prove our assertions of fake advertising by the salvage concern.
