SURVEYING WILLAMETTE RIVER.-The party detailed by City Engineer Elliott, some ten days ago, under charge of Depsome ten days ago, under charge of Dep-uty J. B. Hansen, to make a survey and soundings of the Willamette from Ross Island down to Glisan street or there-about is progressing rapidly with the work. Soundings are taken at points about 150 feet apart, north and south, and about 50 feet apart east and west. For the greater part of the distance surveyed, the depth of the channel is about 70 feet. It is probable that the survey will be completed to Glisan street in about a week. From the notes taken a map of the river is being made in the Engineer's office, showing the frontage on both sides of the river, the locations of bridges. docks. etc., which will be completed and ready to lay before the Council very soon after the survey work is finished. It will then be necessary to make some observa-tions as to the direction and speed of the current, and when this is completed, the city will have in available form about all the information necessary in connection with the matter of locating buildes.

ASSESSOR McDonell's BAD ONEN.-County Assessor McDonell has felt that some disaster was impending over his head, ever since his tent was blown down while in camp at Gearhart, and his camp mirror broken. Tuesday evening he joined in the carnival parade, and yesterday morning discovered that his brand new hat had had several holes burned through it during the march of the procession, probably by sparks or chunks from Roman candles. He thinks the im-pending disaster has fallen and the hoodoo is off, and he feels relieved. Just how the others feel who had lost no mirrors, but had holes burned through their hats, is not known, but they probably feel re-joiced that no holes were burned in their

MUSHROOMS IN MARKET.—As a result of the cool showery days of last week mushrooms are in the market. They are the real old-fashloned meadow mushrooms which most people prefer to any other species, and their pink gills are evidence of their freshness. The supply is not large as yet, and the price is therefore rather high. The first lots sold for 65 cents are round but flex have now come. cents per pound, but they have now come down to 10 cents, which, most will consider sufficient, though there is sale for all that can be obtained at that price. When the Fall rains set in in earnest, the mushrooms will be more plentiful and will sell for 15 cents per pound, and they will be just as good as if they cost 50

FINE EXHIBIT OF CONES.-The rather remarkable collection of pine and other cones connected with the exhibit of woods in the free museum has been placed in a glass case, where the cones are displayed to good advantage. They attract much attention, especially from Eastern visitors, who are astonis their large size, some of them being well along toward a foot in length. Clusters of pine needles of about the same length are shown in the case. Some of the cone look at a distance much like pineapples They are put in the case to prevent their being handled, as some visitors cannot forbear from pawing them over and a few have been slightly marred in this COMPLAINT AGAINST NUISANCE-Complaint comes from Sellwood that a butcher named Myers, who has a butcher shop on Tenino avenue, has a slaugh-ter-house connected with it at the rear ter-house connected with it at the rear which is a nuisance. It was suppressed some two months ago by the authorities but was started up again a month ago. The odor from the place and the noises connected with the slaughtering of ani-mals are very annoying to residents in the vicinity and especially to the guests at the Sellwood Hotel. The city authorities are to be requested to examine into the matter and abolish the nuisance.

PARENTS DIDN'T WANT IT.-Wrapped in a man's shirt and a gunnysack, a pretty little girl baby, about one day of age, was left in the kitchen of Frank O'Nelli, a grocer of 583 Hood street, Tues-day night. When O'Nelli entered the kitchen vesterday from an unlocked back room, the baby was found swaddled up in its strange covering. No mark of any kind was upon either shirt or sack. The baby will be adopted by the O'Nelli's if no

PREPARING BIDS ON FIREBOAT .- Pros pects are favorable for a lot of bids for a fireboat being handed in on Thursday. There have been so many applications for copies of the plans that it was found necessary to have a number of addi-tional sets of the plans prepared. These were completed yesterday, and the Au-ditor thinks he now has enough for all who want plane.

The committee on street has had this matter under consideration for some time, but have had so many things of more importance to attend to that it has been put off from time to time. Several propositions for furnishing such signs, accompanied by samples have been made to the Council, but none of them have been accepted. It is charged that linemen or pole climb-ers of various companies do most damage

LEANING TOWER TO BE BRACED.-The fire bell tower at the rear of the engine-house on Fourth street, between Morrison and Yamhill, has undergone an overhauling. The braces have been readjusted and new ones put in and it has about assumed a perpendicular position again. The weather boarding is badly cracked and the tower leaks, so these matters will have to be attended to, and when put completely to rights the tower will need to be painted. Several of the fire engine houses need overhauling and repainting badly, and the occupants of some of them wonder why the Council does not make an appropriation for this, and say it is poor economy to let the houses get in bad condition. and Yamhill, has undergone an overhaul-

RETURNED MARRIAGE LICENSE.—The marriage license issued for Thomas Flynn and Nina J. Risdon was returned to County Clerk Fields yesterday, presum-ably by the person who performed the marriage ceremony. The copy of the li-cense was evidently sent to the Clerk in-stead of the marriage certificate. The Clerk cannot tell who sent it as the li-cense does not show, while the certifi-cate if properly filled out would show who solemnized the marriage, and is the document which the law requires shall be filed for record. The Clerk desires the party who made the blunder to call and correct it.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"Janice Meredith" Next Week, Edward E. Rose's dramatization of Paul elcester Ford's popular novel, "Janice deredith," will be given for the first time Meredith," will be given for the in Portland at popular prices by the great Neill-Morosco Company at the Baker The-ater next week, beginning with Sunday matinee. This play was one of last sea-son's greatest successes, and served to star Miss Mary Mannering and Blanche Waish. Mr. Wingate will be seen as Charles, the bondman, and Miss Lillian Kemble, already acceded to be the most talented and handsome leading lady that the local stage has seen in some years, will appear in the title role. H. S. Duffield, the stage director of the Neili-Mo-rosco Company, promises some particu-larly elaborate scenic investitures. The story of the play deals with stirring his-torical incidents of the American Revolation during the days "when Washington crossed the Delaware."

Clever Child Actress at Cordray's, Among the good things to be found in "Buried at Sea" at Cordray's Theater this week is the clever acting of little Baby Dody, who plays the part of the hero and heroine's child. She speaks her lines in nner that indicates that unlike other child actresses, she understands the mean-ing of every word she utters and her enunciation is as clear and distinct as that of any of the older members of the com-pany. As a rule a child in melodramatic parts excites but little interest but with Baby Dody it is different. She shares the honors with the leading members of the cast. The ladies and children who attend Cordray's this week are all in love with years old and is one of the cleverest child actresses on the stage. Even Better Than Before.

At the Empire Theater this week Raymond and Caverly are even better than during the first seven days of their en-gagement. The fun these clever jokers. make is so contagious that after they have been on the stage one minute the whole house laughs at their every move and work. Arthur Hahn, one of the most popular acts which has even appeared at this theater, turns his big bass voice oose and demonstrates by the applause he receives that the public appreciates really good singing. The Yerkes, a team of contortionists; Walter Orr, the electric bug-puncher, and many other features go to make up a programme of genuine merit. Matinee this afternoon. Prices only 29 and 10 cents at all afternoon performances.

"The Chaperons" Matinee at 2:15. This afternoon at 2:15 o'clock "The Chaperons," which has made such a decided hit at the Marquam Grand Theater the past two nights, will be the matines attraction. This is a musical comedy, with a plot and a half hundred people who are certainly about the best in their line Portland has had in many days. Special prices will prevail and those an up-to-date musical organi-looking for an up-to-date musical zation will have to go no further. In all the attractions that will visit bere this season, probably none will be cleaner in music, action and dialogue than "The Chaperons." This evening, the King and Queen of the Multnomah Carnival will occupy a box at the Marquam.

Auspicious Opening of the Garrick CHICAGO, Sept. 15.—The Garrick Theater, formerly the Dearborn, opened its doors to the public last night under a new management with a musical comedy, "A Girl From Dixie." The book of the new offering, which is produced here for the first time on any stage, is by C. F. Hodgson and H. B. Smith, the music being the combined efforts of 12 com-posers, Victor, Herbert, Cole and John son, Manuel Klein and Ludwig Erlanger ng them

The songs are for the most part pleasing, and range from plantation meiodies to conventional trifles reminiscent of current hits. Good bits of character acting are contributed by Arnold Daly, Ferdinand Gottschalk and George Schiller. The Garrick with its fresh decorations in white and gold, new upholstery, bright carpets and a few architectural changes, made an auspicious debut, and its initial offering was enthusiastically received by an audience that taxed the seating ca-pacity of the house.

CANADA GIVES ITS SIDE. Alaska Boundary Commission Hears

First of the Arguments, LONDON, Sept. 15.-The Alaska Bound LONDON, Sept. 15.—The Alaska Boundary Commission reassembled at the Foreign Office today and the oral arguments were begun. Additional interest was lent to the proceedings by statements attributed to some of the Canadians that their country would seriously resent an adverse decision. Nevertheless, only a few spectators, including the wives of the commissioners and of counsel, were present when Attorney-General Pinlay rose and commenced the presentation of the Canadian argument.

adian argument It was evident that he commissioners at first were not deeply interested in the Attorney - General's statement. Having considered the documents already present-ed, the commissioners felt that they were as familiar with these facts as any of the counsel. The arguments were more for the purpose of removing any doubts which counsel feel may exist in the minds of the members of the tribunal. The agents of the governments, however, sitting on either side of the blue-covered table, be-hind which the commissioners sat, and counsel occupying the desk in the center of the chamber, followed the Attorney-General's address with the closest attention.

While Attorney-General Pinlay was speaking. Chief Justice Fuller, accompanied by Ambassador Choate, entered the chamber. They were conducted to a table directly facing the commissioners. The Attorney-General briefly described the historical aspect of the question, and took up the treaty under which the commission was appointed. He they presented the was appointed. He then presented the Canadian contention, each point of which has already been stated in the argument of Clifford Sifton, the Canadian Minister of the Interior, and urged the commissioners to confine themselves in consider-ing the questions strictly to the terms of the controversy between Great Britain and Russia of 1825, and not to depart

The interest of the commissioners grew as Attorney-General Finlay proceeded with his analytical study of the question. speaking of the location of the line along the coast from the head of Portland Channel, as fixed by the treaty, the Attorney-General pointed out that the report of General pointed out that the report of the United States Coast Survey in 1803 showed that the Washington Government had adopted the view that the line should llow the "general trend of the coast," which supports the Canadian contention. Senator Turner at this point interrupted the speaker, saying that the report re-ferred to the "trend of the general coast." Attorney-General Finlay remarked that this was a "subtile distinction," and Chief Justice Alverstone ended the discussion with saying that it made little difference, as it was "merely the direction of the sur-

Lord Alverstone's ruling was regarded by American counsel as being a point in favor of the United States. The Attorney-General went on at such length that Lord Alverstone reminded him that the tribunal was familiar with the documents in the case, and suggested that he simply cite the pages and volumes in which his references were founded.

After luncheon Attorney-General Finlay, who had previously laid much stress on the contention that the United States boundary line was drawn "in ostentatious defiance of the treaty of 1825," resumed his argument.

The meeting of the commission today ended shortly after 4 o'clock. Attorney-General Finlay tomorrow will resume the presentation of the Canadian case.
