Clip! Clip! Clip!

That's the way to get a splendid lot of votes.

And don't depend altogether on your own clipping, either.

See that your friends, and all who have subscribed to The Guard, through your efforts, clip, too.

And for you.

Maybe they are clipping.

And just saving up their votes for whoever calls first for them.

Be sure to let them know that you are in the contest.

And mean to win.

And that you want their coupons.

There's a dandy in today's issue of this paper.

Good for two hundred votes.

Ten of these mean two thousand votes.

Get ten, by all means.

Get as many more as you can, too.

Remember this, though:

They're good next Saturday, June 10, only.

Not before that date.

Nor after.

Saturday, June 10, only.

Contestants in the outside districts may mail them on that date; and they will be counted.

Two hundred votes each.

Get lots of them.

Hurry up.

Sombeody else is after them now—even as you read this—probably.

Hurry up.

♠ ♠ ♠

Use the phone.

Read these columns every day.

If you don't, you're going to lose some valuable pointers one of these fine days.

♠ ♠ ♠

Speaking of fine days:

What are you doing to take advantage of these fine days?

You'd better get right out into the open air and solicit.

It's good for your health.

And for your pile of votes.

And the biggest number of votes will win.

But see that the shears never stop clipping.

Clip! Clip! Clip!

That's the way.

♠ ♠ ♠

The Guard has been assured by the steamship company's high officials that no effort will be spared to see that the winners of this contest have a good time, so far as lies in their power.

Think of it!

An especially good time, as the guests—the honored guests—of the Guard Printing Co., on one of the most wonderful trips in the world.

And the same thing will be true of the railroad ride—to Portland and Seattle. And back.

And those splendid watches and diamond rings—

But you can't be told all about everything in one issue of the Guard.

Just watch these columns.

Every day.

♠ ♠ ♠

District No. 1 is lead today by Miss Amy Hurlburt.

How long can she remain there?

Unless the contest editor's memory plays him false, only once has the same girl been in the lead two consecutive times.

It's a clip and tuck race.

Clip the cupons.

And tuck them into the ballot box.

Edna Ball is second.

That's where she was yesterday.

Look out for tomorrow.

♠ ♠ ♠

Katie Gray, of Oakland, leads district No. 2.

With 98,740 votes. Pretty good.

Creswell, represented by Nellie Stanton, is surging strongly toward first place, though.

Miss Stanton and Creswell have second place cornered today, with 91,160 votes. Pretty good, too. Look out, everybody.

♠ ♠ ♠

Pauline Anderson, R. F. D. No. 1, Eugene, is leader of the Third district today.

She has 89,740 votes to her credit. And she's not out of breath, yet. Look out.

Anna Nelson, of Coburg, is only about 5,000 votes behind. A mighty close second. And coming up fast.

♠ ♠ ♠

Look for changes tomorrow.

Everybody is working hard, and something's bound to happen.

Somebody's bound to drop.

♠ ♠ ♠

Take care that it's not you.

I must whisper this to you, though:

Those watches.

Oh, my, but they're beauties.

Any girl, or young lady, if you please, certainly will have a right to be happy and proud when she is presented with one of them.

And they're good time keepers too.

No excuse for being late for the theatre, when you get them, girls.

And the rings!

My! my!

My eyes haven't recovered from their shock yet.

They're almost too good to be true.

And they'll fit, too.

Shall we order them made to fit you?

You are the one who will decide.

♠ ♠ ♠

Everybody in this section of the state—and many far removed from Eugene—knows what a scholarship in the splendidly equipped Eugene Business College means.

It means the best to be had anywhere.

That's the second prize, you know.

It's complete.

Absolutely nothing left out.

It's something that will benefit you your entire life.

♦ ♦ ♦

Will you get it?

Clip! clip! clip!

Hustle! hustle! hustle!

♠ ♠ ♠

My!

I almost forgot to remind you of that splendid special vote-getting offer now open.

It's positively the biggest vote-getting value of the contest.

Here it is.

Read it over, and then take advantage of it:

Greatest Offer of the Contest.

For two weeks, twelve days, The Guard Printing Company will give to every contestant 100,000 extra votes, in addition to the votes given on subscriptions according to the schedule given below, for every ten NEW subscribers to The Daily Guard turned in between Monday, June 5, and Saturday, June 17, 1911. The news subscribers to count on this offer must be people who are not now getting the Daily Guard.

The only restriction to this offer is that the ten new subscriptions must average three months each. For example, if you turn in six new one-month and two new one-year subscriptions you will be entitled to 100,000 extra votes. Or if you turn in ten new three-months subscriptions to The Daily Guard you will be entitled to the 100,000 extra votes. This is for NEW subscriptions only.

Also ten new yearly subscriptions to The Semi-Weekly Guard will give an extra ballot of 100,000 votes.

You surely know ten friends who now do not take the Daily Guard and who would willingly take it for three months each. This is positively the most liberal vote-giving offer of the contest—this is your opportunity. Subscribers to The Weekly changing to the Daily will count in this offer.

PENDLETON STUDENTS COMING TO EUGENE

Fifty Per Cent of Graduates of High School Will Continue Their Education

Fully fifty per cent of the members of the 1911 graduating class of the Pendleton high school will continue their education in some college or university, says the East Oregonian. This is an unusually high percentage, although Pendleton his sent a large number of students to institutions of higher learning for the last seven or eight years.

The University of Oregon and the Oregon Agricultural College will get the majority of the students who will go on to college, each of these institutions drawing four each. Brooke Dickson, Dude Devine and Dale Chessman will all enter the state University at Eugene next fall, while Nat Kimball, who was a member of the class of 1911, has been at the same institution the past semester. James Hartwell, president of the student body, leader of the debating team and valedictorian of the class, will also probably go to Oregon but will defer his entrance for a year.

Louis Anderson, salutatorian, Beatrice Brownell and Elmer Dahlgreen have all signified their intention of entering O. A. C. next fall, while Arthur Jordan is contemplating the same course, but has as yet made no definite decision. Charles Milne will probably enter Washington State College at Pullman to take an engineering course, while Miss Blanch the University of Washington.

REV. RALPH E. STOREY HAS RESIGNED

Pendleton, Or., June 8.—Rev. Ralph E. Storey, who resigned his pastorate at the First Baptist Church here Sunday, said today: "You can quote me as saying that there is no inharmony between me and the general church. Owing to opposition on the part of a few members who oppose modern methods, such as an open communion, an organized system of Sunday schools and finance, and especially my preaching in the pulpits of other denominations, I have resigned from the pastorate here. There is no quarrel between me and the general church and I am in sympathy with the doctrine laid down by the general conference. It is my intention to do religious work, but for the present I do not desire an organzed church. I intend to go to my farm south of Bend, in Lake county, and spend my time in developing the farm and doing what religious work I can there."
