DAIRY PRODUCTS SHOWING STEADY

Supplies Well Balanced With Requirements of Trade In Portland

PORTLAND, March 5.—Local dairy markets show a generally steady tone for the Thursday trade. Supplies are now well balanced with the requirements of local jobbers and the future trend of values will depend largely on the action of outside markets.

In the butter market a half cent advance in cube firsts to 40½c is the only change for the day. Shortage of good butter is not so acute, and a lower trend in the south will prevent any further advance here for the time being.

Egg receipts are coming in liberal but storage and shipping requirements are absorbing all offerings and the market remains steady. A cent advance in firsts to 31 cents is the only change on the local board.

The hay market is exceptionally slow for this time of year with local demand almost negligent.

Offerings are liberal, especially from valley points. Prices are slightly lower; buying price f. o. b. track Portland: Alfalfa $18.50 to $19; eastern Oregon timothy $22 to $24 with sales largely for No. 1 stock; valley timothy $20 to $22; clover $16; oat and vetch $18.50 to $19; cheat $16 to $16.50; straw $8.50 a ton.

Country dressed meats and poultry are unchanged. Receipts were fair today with moderate demand.
