MONDAY GOOD DAY AT PUBLIC MART

That Eugeneans are greatly appreciating the new schedule at the Producers' Public market whereby it is open every day was evidenced on Monday in the number of shoppers out and in the sales reported by producers. Retail prices for the day were little changed from those on Saturday when the formal opening of the new market was held.

The home-grown tomato and cantaloupe season is beginning in earnest now. Producers report a good crop of home tomatoes which will be plentiful from now until the early frosts. They are selling at 5c a pound and those on display Monday were large and of excellent quality.

The melons are listed all the way from 5@25c each, depending on size. The Perfections, Grand Rapids, Cream, and the smaller green cantaloupes are all in. Some of the very small ones go for 6 for 25c.

Green corn is a bit cheaper with best stuff selling at 20c a dozen ears Monday. Prices range from 10@25c. There is much corn in now and it is of excellent quality.

Dry onions are coming in more plentifully, selling from 4@5c a pound.

Eggplant is more in evidence, retailing from 10@20c each.

Green peppers are a bit cheaper at 8c a pound, two pounds for 15c.

The Gravenstien apples are showup much riper Monday. Prices are around 4 and 5c a pound for the best ones.

The small red radishes are coming in more plentifully.

New spinach is selling at 10c a pound.

Many asters are added to the collection of flowers at the market now.

Following were Monday's quotations at the market:

PORTLAND EGGS REPORTED DOWN

PORTLAND, Ore., Aug. 26—(AP)—Jobbers began sliding the prices of top grade eggs Saturday afternoon and as a result quotations were 2 cents lower on fresh extras and standard firsts. The Supply, however, is still somewhat short.

Butter prices were firm. The hop market was weakened in the last two or three days. The 1928 hops sold from 12 and 14 1-2 cents, with some sales reported to have been even lower than those figures. New crop sales were made from 12 to 13 cents.

Crab apples made their appearance at the East Side market Monday. They brought on an average of 75 cents a box. Seaside peas sold for 8@8 1-2c; cantaloupes 11.25; corn $1 a sack of 6 dozen ears; tomatoes 50c and Gravenstein apples at $1.35. Other prices were unchanged.

CHICAGO GRAIN

CHICAGO, Aug. 26—(AP)—Foreign demand for North American wheat was dormant today and the domestic and Liverpool markets moved downward together. Trading here was dull, however, and within rather narrow margins, an early decline of more than two cents a bushel being largely made up by a late rally influenced partly by a wave of short covering and to some extent by a smaller increase in the visible supply than had been anticipated. Showers in the corn belt precipitated a selling movement that carried corn down nearly three cents at mid-season.

Wheat finished easy 7-8 to 1 3-8c lower, with corn weak, 1 1-8 to 1 5-8 down, oats easy at 1-2 to 3-4 cent decline and provisions unchanged to 20 cents lower.

PRUNE OFFERINGS REPORTED GOOD

It is said that 9 to 9½c a pound is a ready offering for the good prunes in western Oregon and Washington, according to the report from Seymour Jones, state market agent. The crop is not large this year but the price will make up for the shortage.

Oregon's apple yield for this year is estimated at 1,401,000 barrels, or 199,000 less than 1928. Pears are 2,080,000 bushels for 1929 as against 2,700,000 for 1928.

The estimated potato crop is 5,316,000 bushels as against 6,240,000 for 1928. The estimated potato crop for the whole country will be 372,812,000 bushels against a total yield in 1928 of 462,943,000 bushels.

Market Master to Move on Wednesday

W. A. Ayres, market master, will be moving his offices into the new Producers' Public market plant at Broadway and Charnelton streets on Wednesday.

The formal opening of the market was held on Saturday for the vegetable and fruits producers' section but a number of the concessions and offices will be opened this week. The lunch room will be opening at the mid-week and other concessions will be ready, too.

SEVERAL CHANGES FOUND IN MARKETS

A drop of two cents wholesale on top grades of eggs and a general revision of grains and hay prices featured the local markets Monday.

Wholesale prices on eggs are listed at 38c an extras and 37c on standards. Mediums continue at 35c. All buying prices on eggs remained unchanged Monday.

Poultry, butter, oats, and vetch hay all at $14 a ton. Farmers are hauling their hay in now for storage.

Threshing of grain is in its last lap now in the county, local dealers report. The past week-end found wheat lower, the white at $1.15 and the red at $1.11. Barley and oats are both a bit higher, the former quoted around $32@..33 and oats from $34@35.

The early Crawford and Charlotte peaches for canning will be coming in next week-end. The first of the week find but few local peaches in, the very early varieties being cleaned up quickly.

Local stores are beginning to buy some of the early fall squash. Banana squash was quoted around 2c, buying price, Monday. Other vegetable prices remain unchanged.

EGG SHIPMENTS GIVEN

In the weekly report from the federal state market news service, Eugene is credited with four in the table on carlot movement of eggs from Pacific coast states for the week ending on Aug. 17. Two went to New York and two to Pennsylvania. There were nine for the state's total, Portland having five.

DAIRYMEN TO SEE PASTURE IRRIGATION

About 15 Lane county dairymen and O. S. Fletcher, agricultural agent, will go to Corvallis Tuesday August 27, to attend a field day in which an irrigated pasture will be studied.

Irrigated pastures are rare in western Oregon. Lane county has only one, that of Mrs. Myrta Nolf eight miles northwest of Junction City, in which clover has been raised successfully for seed and grazing, Mr. Fletcher said.

The pasture near Corvallis which will be inspected is an example of the rotation pasture, in which three sections of Ladino clover pasture are maintained and the stock moved from one to the other.

Fourty-five head of Livestock are said to have been pastured on the 12 acres with success.
