RIFLE TEAM IS SELECTED

CAPTAIN JENSEN NOT TO GO BECAUSE OF RULING

Ten Men Picked to Represent Oregon National Guard at National Meet at Camp Perry

The ruling that five men on the national guard state team must never have competed in a national meet before eliminated three of Oregon's best shots, among them Captain Lawrence F. Jensen, company C, 162d infantry, of this city, army officials anounced following the state match held at Clackamas last week.

Captain Jensen scored 1088, which would have placed him tenth on this team. The other two who were ineligible due to this ruling were A. A. A. A. Schwarz, service company, 162d infantry, Portland, who scored 1078 points, and Robert D. Archer, company A, 116 engineers, who scored 1095.

Team Is Selected

The ten who won places on the team and their winning scores are:

First Lieutenant Leonard M. McGee, 482d company, coast artillery, Albany, score 1135.

Staff Sargeant L. H. Spooner, company A, 116th engineers, Portland, score 1123.

Master Sergeant Gilbert A. Pickard, service company, 162 infantry, Portland, score 1127.

Sergeant Chester E. McCorthy, company B, 186th infantry, Portland, score 1110.

Sergeant John Kurowski, company B, 186th infantry, Portland, score 1102.

Captain J. Q. Adams, 484th company, coast artillery, Ashland, score 1100.

Captain Walter Rucker, company A, 116th engineers, Portland, score 1098.

Sergeant Thomas M. Tuve, service company, 162d infantry, Portland, score 1098.

Sergeant Jackson F. Jones, company A, 116th engineers, Portland, score 1084.

Corporal William E. Purdy, company F, 186th infantry, Salem, score 1059. Mr. Purdy is a former resident of Eugene.

Major Fred M. West, who has acted as range officer during the week's meet, will go to Camp Perry as team captain. Major West, besides being an A. E. F. veteran and crack shot himself, is captain in the Portland police bureau and head of the traffic division. Major Leo J. Pirom, machine gun officer of the 162d infantry, also an A. E. F. man, will be team coach.

The rifle team will leave Portland next Monday morning for Camp Perry over the Northern Pacific. At Camp Perry it will compete against teams of the United States army and other national guard organizations. Last year Oregon finished 17th and only five national guard outfits were ahead of it.

F. L. CHAMBERS SUGGESTS SOLUTION OF PROBLEM

Shallow Ditches Cut at Small Cost Would by Action of Waters Provide Sufficient Channel

With the completion of a ditch across the Frank Dunn property west of the fair grounds which is planned by the owner to connect with a similar channel which runs through the Chambers's property, there will be an outlet for the flood waters of the Amazon which in the opinion of Frank L. Chambers will be one of the least expensive methods of solving the annual problem of overflow. The Amazon is at present drawing considerable interest among property owners affected and will be a topic of discussion at the next meeting of the city council.

Mr. Chambers explains that the ditch which he cut across his property four years ago was at that time three feet deep and four feet wide and as a result of the wash of the waters since then the channel is now grooved to a depth of five feet and has a width of eight feet and is sufficient to carry off the overflow.

The cutting of a shallow ditch at small expense and then to allow the action of the waters to deepen the channel has proved a success and the expense is nominal, he states, as the original cost only $65. When the channel is completed on the Dunn tract and connects with the outlet through the Chambers property to the Long Tom slough there will remain only to cut a similar straight channel through the county fair grounds, and then Mr. Chambers states that he believes that the annual Amazon overflow will be controlled.

The ditch across the Dunn property will be about three-eighths of a mile in length and work will start in the near future, according to the owner.

COUPLE FILE CHARGES

HUSBAND AND WIFE ACCUSE EACH OTHER

Trouble at Coburg Leads to Warrant for Woman and Divorce Complaint Against Man

Growing out of trouble at Coburg Saturday night in which Edgar Spores accused his wife of being intimate with another man, a warrant for the arrest of Mrs. Spores on a charge of adultery was sworn to yesterday and a divorce complaint was filed by the woman against her husband. The affair at Coburg was investigated by the sheriff, who reports that the man accused by Spores left hurriedly in a car for Harrisburg, was chased by Spores but escaped and left his belongings in the machine. The man's baggage was brought in by Spores and turned over to the sheriff.

The couple were married in 1898 and have six children, all of age with the exception of two boys 16 years old. The wife charges cruel treatment and also states in the complaint that her husband accuses her of intimacy with other men, which she denies.

The other man involved in the case is said to be known, and a warrant will probably be sworn out against him, according to Sheriff Stickels.

COMING FILM IS PRAISED

"MERRY GO ROUND" SHOWN AT HEILIG IS COMMENDED

Picture Said to Be One of Greatest Ever Produced—All Phases of Life Touched in Scenes

"The Merry Go Round" is a moving picture, but one never thinks of that. It is the nearest to a living picture the cinema world has ever produced. This was the audience's comment.

Last night it was shown in prereview at the Heilig and is soon to be offered to the regular patrons.

A giant directing a merry-go-round of life—many lives interwoven—a touch of happiness, paeans of grief, smiles and horror—all straightened out and interwoven into a great story; such is the impression of one who sees it.

The drama comes in ten reels, directed by Carl Laemelle. Its cast of characters is ideally chosen, and one cannot be praised more than another. A little hunchback trodden underfoot, a great burley, overbearink taskmaster, a kind loving father, a count torn with love, yet held to his position, these are the principal characters.

This story is set in Vienna, the joy spot of Europe before the great war. Here both sides of life at the Prater, Europe's Coney Island, are seen. The scene leaps from sordid squalor to the grandness of Europe's most magnificient court; from peasant suffering to riotous pleasure of the royalty—and then brings all together in a pot pourri that leaves a never-to-forgotten memory.

The film is magnificient. Nothing has been spared to make it so. This will become evident when the picture is presented to Eugeneans. It was highly appreciated by those who saw it last night, and their words of commendation will be repeated by those who see it when it comes to the Heilig.

Another attraction announced at this time by the theatre management is Julian Eltinge and the six Brown brothers, who come October 16.

GIVES FIVE REASONS FOR BOYS LOSING FIRST JOB

SWIFT & CO.'S STATISTICIAN MAKES REPORT

Lack of Sense of Responsibility and Unwillingness to Work Hard Two Causes Cited

(Correspondence of the Associated Press)

CHICAGO, Aug. 25.—Lack of a sense of responsibility, unwillingness to work hard, lack of thoroughness, false notions about salary and promotion, and lack of principle are the five chief reasons why 90 per cent of the boys and girls of the United States lose their first jobs, according to a report made to the Chicago Association of Commerce by A. D. White, statistician of Swift & Co.

Mr. White's report noted that 90 per cent of the boys and girls lose their first positions. The report also shows that in nine cases out of every ten, the loss of the position can be traced to one of the five reasons noted.

His report continues:

"Lack of a sense of responsibility is shown by neglect of work, failure to put the most important things first, and the expression of a general 'I should worry' attitude.

Time Often Stolen

"Unwillingness to work hard, is shown by being late to work, stretching the lunch hour, and stealing a few minutes at the end of the day, watching the clock, and wasting the time by social conversations and telephone calls during business hours.

"Lack of thoroughness, is indicated most frequently by unwillingness to begin at the bottom and to go through the drudgery of mastering each step before going ahead.

"The real secret of promotion lies in constantly doing more than you are paid to do. Keep yourself underpaid. As soon as you are overpaid you are bound to go backward.

"Lack of principle is shown by concealment of mistakes, untruthfulness, and the constant making of excuses."
