VOL. LVIII — EUGENE, LANE COUNTY, OREGON, SUNDAY, JANUARY, 10, 1926 — NUMBER 80

SOCIETY

BY GLADYS WILKINS McCREADY

Upper left—Mrs. Everett E. Harpham, a bride of the holiday season who was formerly Miss Josephine Evans.
Right—Mrs. Paul Zumwalt and little daughter, Dorothy of Oakesdale, Wash., who with her husband and three children has been visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Wise, and her sister and brother-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Campbell.

AGAIN, larger social doings have given way temporarily to routine happenings of club women, and the week has been a quiet save for these gatherings.

Whether it is because parents are thoroughly busy getting their daughters, little and big, into the routine of school and work once more, or whether it is post-holiday exhaustion, one might say. Whatever the cause, the rather quiet week seems to have been welcome.

A different story will be the coming week, probably, although no social affairs seem to have been planned so far. The usual rule that busy week follows quiet week and quiet days follow busy ones, in rotation, with chance for drawing ones breath in between, is outstanding for January 14, in the concert appearance of Mischa Levitski, famous concert pianist, who comes to Eugene largely through the personal efforts of those interested intensely in the cause of good music for local concert goers. Levitski is among the rank-and-file pianists of this country or foreign countries in his excellence, and hundreds of patrons are awaiting the concert as they have scarcely awaited any like attraction. In measure, his appearance at the school of music auditorium will be an experiment—to determine just how keenly Eugene audiences demand the very best that is obtainable in the realm of music and the allied arts. It is confidently expected and hoped that the response will leave no doubt in the minds of those who are responsible for his coming to play here. Similarly placed is the present exhibition of paintings from the American academy of design, which now is on exhibition in the fine arts building on the university campus, and which is attracting much attention. It is a selected collection, one of the very finest that could be obtained, representative of the best in American art, and was brought here that Eugene and environs circles might have the pleasure of its beauty and excellence. The showing of like collections largely depend upon the collection of interested folk at this point, and the coming week is expected to bring wide patronage for the exhibit.

After spending a fortnight in Eugene as the guest of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Allen, Miss Lillian Allen left the first of the week for New York City, where she will resume her work with the New York American.

Several very delightful affairs were planned for Miss Allen's pleasure during her stay here, among the more recent ones being the dinner at which Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Wheeler entertained for friends on Monday night and Mrs. F. W. Comings' luncheon at the Hotel Eugene on Tuesday, and Mrs. Flora Macdonald's New Year's day dinner planned in her honor.

Mrs. Elizabeth Prescott is now domiciled in her attractive new home, and two very delightful small affairs of the holiday weeks were most enjoyably given there. Mrs. Prescott had as her guests during the Christmas vacation period on the campus, Mrs. L. E. Woodring and Mrs. Lucy Abrams, both housemothers of campus groups.

Wednesday evening last Mrs. Prescott and her guests received informally, and again on Thursday afternoon they were hostesses for most delightful tea, to which about fifteen guests were bidden.

Continuing "The Tempest," Shakespeare club members met Monday at the chamber of commerce rooms Miss Anne Whiteaker leading the study for members.

As a result of a recent discussion of possible Shakespearean productions to be brought here by W. B. McDonald, manager of the Heilig theatre, the club group is especially interested in "The Merchant of Venice," which will play at the Heilig tomorrow night, with Robert Mantell and Miss Genevieve Hamper playing the leads. They are said to be making their farewell tour and theatre goers are especially indebted to the local Shakespeare club's cooperation with the theatre management to secure a performance here.

The year-end holidays, and the days immediately succeeding them with vacation spirit uppermost, are always a favorite time for entertaining among the younger set, both college and high school students being permitted to take part in the festivities which such vacation always brings.

The past fortnight has seen unusual activity among the two sets, and several attractive and jolly affairs have made the time notable for them.

Miss Elizabeth Thacher, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. F. G. Thacher, was hostess on Monday night last for a small affair planned for half a dozen friends.

Miss Marian Bradley entertained a group of her friends with a theatre party and tea on Saturday.

Among the larger affairs was the dancing party given by Helen and Philip Koke to twenty-five of their high school friends, at the Golf and Country club on New Years eve. Their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Koke and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Franzwa were chaperones for the dance, and a midnight supper and carnival favors made the affair most merry. Guests were Bernice Houck, Evelyn Houck, Marian Franzwa, Frances Franzwa, Marjorie Wilhelm, Elizabeth Wilhelm, Helen Gaeden, Alice Kuppenbender, Agnes Jens, Theresa O'Leary, Irene Moore, Martha Moore, Cecilia Campbell, Philip Ward, George Maxwell, John Ludlow, Billy Ludlow, Billy Colvert, James de Brocchart, Henry Nurre, Leo Schaefers, Herbert Vitus, Jack Dunbar, and the hosts.

Last Sunday morning Della Marshman was hostesses to a very delightful breakfast at her home for the members of the I. A. H. class of the Fairmount Presbyterian Sunday school of which she is a member.

After breakfast the girls talked of plans for the coming year until time for Sunday school.

Miss Marshman was assisted by her mother.

Those bidden to the affair were Mildred and Edna Pike, Beatrice and Pearl Winsted, Florence Champs, Leona Stephenson, Mrs. William Wrenn, Mrs. E. L. Waterbeger, Mrs. J. H. Zehring, teacher of the class, Mrs. Marshman and the hostess.

A most delightful gathering was the informal party of Lane County Graduate Nurses association at the home of Miss Mira Calef, 592 Eleventh avenue west, on Thursday evening of this week.

Cards were the feature of the evening with tables of bridge, five hundred and pinochle.

Beautiful refreshments were served and added to the pleasurable evening of social converse and entertainment.

Among those present were: Miss Mira Calef, Mrs. Alice Hilliard, Mrs. Florence Hendershott, Mrs. Iva Button Dhenin, Mrs. Florence Boehnke, Miss Clara Wyse, Mrs. Olive Bebhan, Miss Florence Dickinson, Miss Amelia Lieb, Miss Margaret Smith, Miss Marie Hershey, Miss Stella Brauninger, Miss Evelyn Marshall, Miss Lewis, Miss Grace Krantz, Miss Ruth Wade, Mrs. Alice Robbins, Mrs. Katherine Dreanlean Clark, Miss Laura Martin, Miss Lulu Gell, Miss Alvine Amort, Miss Vera McConnell, Miss Grace Turner, Miss Minnie Goulet, Miss Nancy Fields, Mrs. Dorothy Wilson, Miss Myrtle Kreinbring, Miss Idella Sundquist, Mrs. Ethel Yarnell, Mrs. Mary Munroe, Mrs. Lulie Weaver, Miss Ada Merrick, Mrs. Agnes Adsit and Miss Laura Campbell.

Mrs. Harold Moore and her small son Berton, who had been spending the holidays in Eugene with Mrs. Moore's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Thomas Bailey, left the forepart of the week for their home in Bend, Mr. Moore having returned just after Christmas.

Several friends planned delightful affairs for Mrs. Moore during her stay in Eugene, among them being the bridge party for which Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Parker were hosts at their home the guests numbering Mr. and Mrs. Moore, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Manerud, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Hill, Mr. and Mrs. Karl Kellogg, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Richardson, Mr. and Mrs. Hubert Moore, and Mr. and Mrs. Fred Mosley.

Mrs. Parker also invited a small group in for tea for Mrs. Moore at midweek and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Shelton entertained very informally at dinner for her.

After spending the holiday weeks with her sister and brother-in-law, Dr. and Mrs. G. S. Beardsley, Miss Jean Taylor left Eugene the week past for Everett, Wash., where she is making her home.

During the visit of their sister, Dr. and Mrs. Beardsley were hosts for a very charming affair of the holiday season, entertaining at bridge at their home. Five tables were in play, the guests numbering Miss Taylor, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hobbs, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Bryson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. Frederic G. Stickels, Mr. and Mrs. Bryant DePar, Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Gullion, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Olsen, Mr. and Mrs. E. O. Immel, Mr. and Mrs. Seth Lardway, Mr. and Mrs. David Auld, Mr. and Mrs. Beardsley.

Mrs. Beardsley also entertained at tea for Miss Taylor during her visit, inviting a group of former friends of the honor guest to the Beardsley home.

The Yuletide season always brings with it a multitude of pleasant customs to serve, pleasant gatherings and interesting affairs of many kinds. Among them all, there is no annual observance of ancient holiday feast days more charming and delightful in detail than the Shakespeare club's yearly gathering on Twelfth Night.

This year the banquet was an event of Wednesday night, and the committee on arrangements which made of it so successful an affair numbered Mrs. Frederick Jennings as its head, Mrs. O. R. Gullion and Mrs. G. S. Beardsley.

The Shakespeare club is nineteen years old, and the affair just past marked the thirteenth observance of this quaint old custom.

The long banquet table, set in the Japanese tea room of the Osburn hotel, was colorful and decked in the spirit of the Yuletide with its massed greens and burning red tapers. There Mrs. Lettie Mowrey, president of the club, presided, and welcomed the guests most cordially. Mrs. N. F. Macduff presided over the ceremonies of roll call, and each member of the club responded with some quotation from Shakespeare's famous characters. Professor F. S. Dunn spoke most interestingly on the meaning of Twelfth Night, and Dr. Henry Tromp, who is a charter member of the club, briefly outlined its history.

Contrasted with Mrs. Tromp's talk was that of Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris, who as one of the newest members of the group spoke on her impressions of the Shakespeare club.

A witty and interesting talk, "Shakespearian Impressions While Abroad," was made by Dr. O. R. Gullion, who has recently returned from several months stay in Europe.

With the final course of the dinner, Dale Burris and Warren Combs as pages in costume appeared bearing the famous Twelfth Night cake, and after passing around the banquet table presented it to Mrs. Mowrey for cutting. Mrs. Macduff and Mrs. E. B. Parks were made king and queen by the finding of the symbolical bean and pea, while the clove made Dr. Beardsley the knave of the court. Merry crowning of the king and queen followed, and entertainment of the court was provided in three charming Shakespearean songs sung by Mrs. Fred Clark—"She Never Told Her Love," from Twelfth Night, "Who Is Sylvia," from Two Gentlemen from Verona, and "Hark, Hark the Lark," from Cymbeline, with Mrs. Gifford Nash as accompanist.

The appearance of the wassail bowl, from which Mrs. Addie Osburn poured, was the sign for drinking the health of king and queen, while the Wassail song was sung by Philip Gatch, James Baker, Donald Davis and Herschel Tinker, as minstrels of the occasion. Dr. W. P. Boynton sang and gave a clever reading as his encore, and the ceremonies were completed by the customary burning of the Yuletide greens, as candles burned low at the end of the festival.

Covers were placed for seventy-two, the club guests numbering Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Martin, Mrs. Eunice Howard, Dr. Delbert Stanard, Dr. Olive Waller, Mr. and Mrs. James Gilbert, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Fay Eddy, Mr. and Mrs. Dugald Campbell, Miss Janet Gilkison, Miss Edith Dunn, Miss Margaret Sorenson, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Jenkins, Mr. and Mrs. David John Jones, Mr. and Mrs. J. H. McKinley, Mrs. Christy, Mr. and Mrs. Fred Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Ware, Mrs. Gifford Nash, Mrs. J. Bishop Tingle, Miss Leona Marsters, Mr. and Mrs. John Straub, Mr. and Mrs. W. O. Swan, Mrs. Lillian Eldridge, Mr. and Mrs. R. S. Bryson, Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Spencer, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Hodge and Mrs. Josephine Stewart.

Club members and their husbands number Mr. and Mrs. S. D. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Boynton, Mr. and Mrs. W. W. Calkins, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin L. Knapp, Mr. and Mrs. F. S. Dunn, Dr. and Mrs. G. S. Beardsley, Dr. and Mrs. O. R. Gullion, Mr. and Mrs. F. G. Jennings, Mrs. Idaho Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Tromp, Mrs. J. Frederick Thorne, Mrs. Addie Osburn, Mr. and Mrs. Blaine Hovey, Mr. and Mrs. N. F. Macduff, Mrs. Lettie Mowrey, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Parks, Miss Mabel Potts, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence T. Harris, Miss Anne Whiteaker, Mrs. Elizabeth Prescott, Dr. and Mrs. G. I. Hurley, Mrs. Flora Macdonald, Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Gilstrap, Mr. and Mrs. Carl Washburne, Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Jewett, Mrs. Nellie Burr Leonard, Mrs. C. S. Dillon.

Another interesting engagement among the university set was made known at the Alpha Xi Delta house Friday night, when girls of the chapter entertained at dinner, to announce the betrothal of Miss Genevieve Elkins to Larson Wright.

The dinner table was gay and springlike with pink carnations in a pastel basket, pink candles in silver holders and pastel ribbon streamers extending to each place. At the end of these varicolored ribbons were found cupids on which the names of Miss Elkins and her fiance were written. During the dinner hour a messenger arrived bearing a huge box of candy, surmounted by a most interesting small box enclosing the engagement ring, which with the candy was passed to the assembled guests.

Miss Elkins is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Elkins, and is a pledge of Alpha Xi Delta. Mr. Wright is the son of Mr. and Mrs. S. I. Wright of Victoria, B. C., and has made his home in the States for several years, being in business in Springfield. No date has been set for the wedding, but it will probably be an event of June.

Coming as a surprise to many of her friends, was announcement of the betrothal of Miss Claudia Broders, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Broders, to Frederick Hartung, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Hartung, which was told at a prettily appointed luncheon at the Hotel Eugene yesterday, for which Mrs. Broders was hostess.

Receiving with the hostess and the guest of honor was Mrs. G. F. Skipworth. A long table set in the east dining room was charmingly springlike in its massed pots of hyacinths in shell pink and white, and its trailing greenery. Favors marking each cover were the daintiest of doll brides carrying miniature bouquets, and in each bouquet was a tiny scroll bearing the names of Miss Broders and her fiance.

No date has been set for the wedding, but it will be an event of the coming summer. Miss Broders is a popular member of Alpha Chi Omega, and has a wide circle of friends in Eugene, where she has lived most of her life, having graduated from the Eugene high school and from the University of Oregon in 1925. She was a member of Samara and the Greek on the campus. Mr. Hartung is a graduate of O. A. C., 1922, and a Theta Chi, being also a member of Scabbard and Blade Military club, the Withycombe club, and Alpha Zeta, agricultural fraternity. He is with Swift and company in Portland at the present time.

Guests for yesterday's luncheon numbered Miss Broders, Mrs. Hartung, Mrs. R. O. Evans, Mrs. Skipworth, Mrs. I. D. S. Wade, Mrs. Ernest Ludlow, Miss Helen Skipworth, Miss Martha Wald, Miss Katie Potter, Miss Eloise Buck, Miss Florence Buck, Miss Marian L. Linn, Miss Sarah Rorer, Miss Mabel Armitage, Miss Fern Perry, Miss Elizabeth Warra, Miss Norma
