Plotter?

Former Kaiser Wilhelm was involved, it is said, in the Budapest counterfeiting plot, aiming to place Archduke Albert on the Hungarian throne.

that was given out at the convention was the date of completion of the new cable from Azores to Emden, Germany, connecting with the new cable recently laid from New York to the Azores, which will give the United States direct cable service to Germany and such facilities as will enable the German empire to participate in the four cable services of the company as are now in effect in Great Britain, that is, the regular fast cable, the deferred or half rate cable, the cable letter and the week-end cable.

It was also given out that by the end of the present year the present seven-cable between New York and Great Britain will be doubled in capacity, making it just as easy and simple to send a cablegram to the countries named as though it were from Eugene to Portland, it was stated.

The German cable will have five channels, or five cablegrams may be transmitted at one time.

KOLB AND DILL CATCHY

"A PAIR OF FOOLS" FOUND UP TO STANDARD

Attractive Chorus and Intriguing Plot Combined to Make Many Interesting Features

By G. W. M.

Kolb and Dill speak for themselves—they have been doing it for several years with musical comedies which offer a lot of good clean laughs, colorful costumes, two comedians as funny as comedians have any right to be, and catchy songs. Last night's show at the Heilig theatre was up to the good standard of comedy which the two stars have set for themselves.

"A Pair o'Fools" they were. Tall Kolb and short Dill wove themselves through a plot that was as complicated and troublesome as hunting the tombs of the Pharoahs. Through the highways and byways of intrigue they tore—Kolb as Andy Simmons "fixing" things, Dill as Rudy Valentine" trying to extricate himself, and Sandy Simmons the daughter, being the pivot about which all thing good and bad revolved.

There's no describing the plot —'twas all about partnerships and engagements and taxicabs and lost handbags and extra girls. It started twisting at a rather slow rate, as all first class plots should do, to get you thoroughly entangled, and then unwound at a rate that kept the audience jumping and roaring. It was exactly the kind of comedy that appeals to the theatre-going world as a whole—clean cut and funny, full of ridiculous situations and lines, verging at times on the slapstick but at no time toppling over the brink, and leaving just that pleasant after-taste of having had a good two hours laugh.

Outstanding in the whole play was the chorus—named on the program a "Sweet Sixteen" chorus. That cognomen is enough to make one suspicious in most current shows, but not in this. Every girl was attractive, every girl a good dancer, and the ensemble dancing a delight to watch. Most of the steps were modeled on variations of the Charleston, and were catchy in the extreme. Costumes were simple and smart and chosen by someone with a true eye for color. Notably good voices were found in every role, and the strains of "Tell Me That You Love Me" and a few of the other songs from the show will keep us all humming and whistling for many a day—probably until tall Kolb and short Dill come back again.

THIEVES EXIT HASTILY

LOCAL RESIDENT DISCOVERS FOOTPRINTS

Man and Woman Believed to Have Entered House of C. J. Buley, 833 Seventh West

While C. J. Buley, 833 Seventh avenue west, was searching his house for a trace of thieves who ransacked it, a man and a woman are believed to have made their exit through a window in another part of the dwelling, at 11:40 o'clock last night.

Mr. Buley returned to his home and for a few minutes did not discover the fact that thieves had been through the dwelling. He was about to retire when he tried the bedroom door and found this locked. Investigation revealed that a window had been pried open and that other rooms had been ransacked.

Footprints on the outside indicated that a woman and a man had entered through the window. At a late hour no definite check had been made on missing articles, although considerable jewelry was gone.

WORKMEN DISCHARGED

MARRIED MEN CLAIM POOR TREATMENT ON CITY JOB

A number of married men who are residents of this city have complained that they have been discharged from the work on the new reservoir on the butte and that nearly all of the men employed on the job are foreigners.

One of the men discharged, who has a wife and children to support and who says he is entirely out of work declares that the contractor promised to employ local married men. There are at present 16 men employed on the work, he said.

This man says he and several other married men were discharged for no apparent reason.

YOUTH IS BROUGHT BACK

ALFRED DILL CHARGED WITH FORGING CHECKS

Sheriff Frank Taylor arrived home yesterday afternoon from Marshfield with Alfred Dill, local youth, charged with forgery. He was arrested in the Coos Bay city a few days ago.

Dill is charged with forging of his father's partner, L. I. Ogden, in the garage business here, to several checks. The sheriff says that one of the checks was cashed at the store of J. Matt Johnson, one at Alton Hampton's store and another at the Army Goods store.

He will be arraigned in the justice court later, it was stated.

BRIDGE TO BE OPENED

CRUSHER TO CROSS McKENZIE SPAN MONDAY

The new bridge spanning the McKenzie river near Walterville may be opened Monday, said County Commissioner Hurd. He said that arrangements are being made to allow the county rock crusher to cross that day so that it can be taken to the quarry at Vida where it will be used to get out road maintenance material for several weeks.

No definite date for the complete opening of the bridge has been set, it was stated.

VIOLIN MACHINE COMING

MUSIC INSTRUMENT GIVEN HIGH RATING

An instrument classed by the government on a par with the invention of the telephone and the radio, will shortly be exhibited by Fred Gerot, proprietor of the Imperial cafe, according to a report made yesterday.

The instrument is a "violin machine" in which may be seen a violin and a piano, and which will be used for entertainment of guests and patrons of the restaurant. The operating device is enclosed in glass and will be equipped with a number of musical selections, said Mr. Gerot.

The "violin machine" should be here in a week or 10 days.

FUNERAL TO BE MONDAY

REMAINS OF JAMES M. SCOTT TO BE BURIED HERE

Funeral services for James M. Scott, 74, who died in Salem Friday, will be held at 2 o'clock Monday afternoon in the Veatch chapel, it was announced yesterday. Interment will be in the new I. O. O. F. cemetery. Rev. C. L. Trawin, pastor of the First Baptist church, will be in charge.

Mr. Scott lived in Eugene for 15 years, his residence being at 227 Monroe street. Besides his widow, Mrs. Martha D. Scott, he is survived by four daughters, Mrs. Elva Ruland, Seattle; Mrs. Emma Roach, Grand Island, Neb.; Mrs. Sylvia Haggart and Mrs. Roy Baldwin, Eugene; a sister, Mrs. Hood of St. Paul, Neb., and the following grand children: Earl Starkey of St. Paul, Neb.; Edna Lundgren and Billy Ruland of Seattle and Irma Haggart and Shirley Baldwin of Eugene.

MRS. YORAN'S BODY HERE

FUNERAL WILL BE HELD MONDAY AFTERNOON AT 3:30

Rev. F. J. Clark Will Conduct Services; Interment Will Be In Hope Abbey Mausoleum

The remains of Mrs. W. C. Yoran, who died at Merced, Cal., Thursday evening as the result of an automobile accident near that city December 18, arrived here last evening on the Shasta limited, accompanied by Mr. Yoran and their daughter, Mrs. Lucile Sweek of Pasadent, Cal.

The funeral will be held at the Veatch chpel here Monday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, with interment in Hope Abbey mausoleum, it was announced last night.

The body will lie in state at the chapel Monday from 10:30 a. m. until one p. m., during which time the friends may view it. Rev. Fred J. Clark, pastor of the First Congregational church, of which Mrs. Yoran was a member, will conduct the funeral services.

Mr. Yoran and Mrs. Sweek were met at the station last night by a number of members of the Rotary club, of which Mr. Yoran is a prominent member, and by other friends.

COOLIDGE CHARGED WITH BREAKING LAW

and asked him whether he had 'that letter.' Lewis then explained he did not feel free to furnish the president with the letter which he requested. Lewis said that the president was visibly disturbed and said with a little heat that it didn't make any difference anyway, that the position would be held only at the pleasure of the president. Lewis then said to the president that only two men know the commission was signed and he suggested that the president was at liberty to destroy the commission. The president, however, did not respond to this suggestion and Lewis left the president's office with his commission. A little later on he was sworn in.

"This ends another serious chapter in the tariff commission's history. It indicates clearly, I think, that there is a line beyond which the president will not go in opposing the principles for which the three of us have stood in the development of the tariff commission."

Senator Norris concluded by saying the letter would furnish the investigating committee material for a thorough inquiry.

SHEEPMAN KILLS EAGLE

BIRD CAUGHT TAKING LAMBS SHOT DOWN

Measurement Is Seven Feet One Inch From Tip to Tip; Seven-Inch Talon Spread

Stealing sheep proved a disastrous trade for one of the largest eagles ever seen in Lane county for some time, when the bird was shot down near Monroe yesterday by Ben Porter.

The eagle, which measured seven feet one inch from tip to top, and which had a seven-inch talon spread, is said to have stolen 14 lambs from Mr. Porter's herds in the last two years.

Yesterday the big bird was stretched out on a board and hung in the window of the Danner-Robertson store. Wool could be seen clutched in the talons.

There was some question as to the possibility of violating the law in the killing of the eagle, but it is understood that Mr. Porter was not accused by the state officers when the facts were learned.

HOTEL LOBBY CHANGED

MORE SPACE ACQUIRED BY MOVING PARTITION

Changes in the location of the cigar stand in the lobby of the Terminal hotel, which were completed last week, have added considerable floor space, it was learned yesterday.

Formerly the cigar stand apd the soft drink fountain occupied separate rooms, divided by a partition that extended nearly to the front windows of the lobby. The parcel checking counter was operated in connection with the cigar stand.

By cutting away the partition the entire arrangement was changed and almost twice as much room provided as had been in use before.

Showers Reach Medford

(By The Associated Press)

MEDFORD, Ore., Jan. 16. — A breeze from the south this afternoon brought showery weather to the Rogue river valley and a light fall of snow on the higher levels. The Medford irrigation district announced today that after February 10 no applications for water would be considered because of threatened small storage supply.
