FOUND WEST NOT SO WOOLLY .- E. R. Puffer, assistant general freight agent of the Burlington, who has been in the city with a party of Chicago friends, is high-ty pleased with Portland, and believes that the city and state have a great future before them. Mr. Puffer and his friends were agreeably surprised to find Portland the substantial and bus, city that it is, and they left yesterday impressed with the idea that great things may be expected of this country. In speaking of the city Mr. Puffer said that it was far more substantially built than was generally believed by Eastern people. In the East the idea prevails that this is a wild and woolly country where Indians go on the warpath and "Alkali Ikes" run at large. But he found that Oregon offers great inducements to homeseel and to capitalists. Mr. Puffer and party have been making a tour of the coast visiting the cities of interest and getting in close touch with the repre sentatives of the Burlington stationed in this part of the country. The party left here for Seattle.

SHIRTWAIST OWNER LOSES SUIT.-The condition of a lady's shirtwaist, a 40-cent laundry bill and sundry troubles be-tween Mrs. H. Cook and J. Belgbeder, the proprietor of a laundry at 62½ North Twentieth street, occupied the attention of Justice Reid's Court yesterday after-noon. Last August Mrs. Cook took a shirtwalst to Beigbeder to be laundered. When she called for it she says that the colors had run and that the dainty garment was ruined. So she sued the laur dryman for $5 damages through her at-torneys, Miller & Miller. Beigheder employed another laywer, R. B. Sinnott, to fight the case. Belgbeder denied every-thing except that he conducted a laundry and had washed the shirtwaist in ques-tion, for which he wanted 40 cents. After the legal lights had displayed all their Prores knowledge on the important subject of the washing of a shirtwaist, Justice Reid decided in favor of the defendant, the plaintiff bearing all costs.

MOTHERS' MEETING AT HARRISON SCHOOL.—The mothers and teachers of the Harrison-Street School will again this year hold monthly meetings, the first of which will occur tomorrow afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. The purpose of these meetings has always been to promote friendly relations and co-operation between mothers and teachers and to discuss topics relating to child cultivation. The first work for this year is a review of Nora Archibald Smith's excellent work, "The Children of the Future." Mrs. J. Allen Gilbert will give an outline of the thought contained in the first chapter of this book, and this will be followed

The first and second courses of broken stones, taken from the gravel pit at Rockwood and crushed, were placed in the center of the road, but the fine course for the surface has never been put on, and wagons cannot use the center owing to the broken stones. A top dressing of fine gravel would put this stretch of road in good condition.

BROKEN JAW MENDED.-Kenneth Clark, the 6-year-old son of Mrs. A. P. Clark, of Woodstock, has recovered from a com-pound fracture of his jaw, which was caused by a kick from a horse some six weeks ago at Trout Lake. Mr. Kistler had pinced the horse in the pasture with some others last week. That the horse was stolen there is no doubt. From the barn on the ground a saddle was taken, and an old bicycle was left.

GOLD MINE NEAR PORTLAND .- Dr. E. O.

Smith, an old mining man of Portland, who has prospected in all the well-known mining districts in the world, is in town, and is very enthusiastic over a new mining district he is promoting. It lies at the headwaters of the south fork of the Santiam River, southwest of Mount Jefferson, in a basin in a spur of the Cas-cades that is visible from The Oregonian tower. Dr. Smith wishes it were further away, as he finds it hard work to persuade people that there is good mining prop-erty so near home. If he were to bring specimens, he says, no better than those he has from Brazil or Siberia people would believe in them, but his present scheme has not the romantic lure of dis-

Armour's Proposed Chairs of Orthopedic Surgery Develops Division famous authors, lingering with delight upon Concord and Brook Farm. Most tourists are acquainted with the outside Among Portland Surgeons.

> The telegraphic report that Mr. Armour, of Chicago, is much incensed at the attitude taken and maintained by American surgeons against Dr. Lorenz, who successfully operated upon his lit-tle daughter for congenital dislocation of the hips, and will, partly as a reproof to the surgeons, and in order to enable parents to secure this wonderful treat-ment for deformed children, establish a school of orthopedic surgery in the lead-ing city of each state in the Union, was discussed among prominent surgeons yes-

It is the general opinion of the great majority of the Portland surgeons that the establishment and maintenance of such a chair in so many cities would be a useless expenditure of a large sum that might be employed to a far greater advantage for other purposes. While the method referred to has been perfected by Dr. Lorenz, he is not the originator of it, nor is the practice of skillful manipulation for the reduction of dislocations anything new to American schools of surgery, for it is practiced every day and the graduate medical stu-dent has had a training in this as well as other branches of surgery. That some prove skillful where others make bunglers is not the fault of the teach-ings but of the material the school has in its classes. While the public discusses the wonderful work Dr. Lorenz did in the Armour case, and the press indulges in panegyrics about bloodless surgery, the fact that Dr. Bradford, of Boston, succeeded in curing one of the child's hips before the Vienna surgeon was given the case is overlooked or unknown. While Portland surgeons are unanimous While Portland surgeons are unanimou in their opinion that the press has done more to make Dr. Lorenz unpopular than he himself has done, there seems to be a variety of views on this perfected method as employed by him. Dr. Alexander C. Smith expressed him-Dr. Alexander C. Smith expressed him-self most emphatically on this latter point, saying that the method as em-ployed by Dr. Lorenz often works to far greater damage than the knife would. It is his opinion that Dr. Lorenz atmpts many cases where the patient is too old or the joints and ligaments are so tense that greatest harm is done by the force necessary to press a joint into place by manipulation, tendons and ligaents often being torn and not frequently arteries being severed and the head or cap of the bone shattered again. There are many cases where conditions are perfect for the application of the method, but he deems Dr. Lorenz an extremist and says that American surgeons are well schooled in this art of manipulation and it is only a hysterical of the public that this man is so

Dr. K. A. J. Mackenzie, on the other hand, considers Dr. Lorenz a very great man, one who has the welfare of humanity at heart and who follows up his profession from most honest and con-scientious motives. Dr. Mackenzie has ersonal acquaintance with Dr. Lorenz, having traveled in company with him and witnessed operations performed by him in New Orleans. He does not be-lieve that Dr. Lorenz's judgment is at fault as to what cases are susceptible of treatment by his method, and does not think that he would under any cirnstance employ it when the kn ald be used to greater advantage. He considers this surgeon's skill in manipu-ation marvelous and the good he does numanity untold. Dr. Mackenzie did not deny that there was an unfavorable at-titude toward him by the surgeons here, out feels that it was caused by the newspapers giving a wrong impression of him. Dr. Woods Hutchinson, while not a Dr. Woods Hutchinson, white not a surgeon, has the same general views as Dr. Smith and says the establisher of such a chair would be the greatest waste of funds that might accrue to far greater good expended in other channels. He thinks that five cases a year would probably be a large estimate for any state and, as children with this affliction are fully able to walk, the best idea was stolen from the reticule of Mrs. E. Greenberg, of San Francisco, last Wednesday, has not yet been found, nor has any trace of the thief, if such there were, would be to establish one institution, if any, and let the comparatively few pa-tients go to it. Dr. Hutchinson is been discovered by the detectives. The purse contained three diamond rings, a diamond pin and several gold coins, the whole valued at $2000. Mrs. Greenberg missed the jewels when she entered a store on Washington street near Fourth. She is certain they were inside her shopping bag when she left another store at Fifth and Alder streets.

Exemple Provincement Tubber Loose Another expert pickpocket floated into the city Monday night, and, after being cross-questioned by the police, was transported to discussion of the Lorenz method, at the end of which it was decided that Dr. Lorenz's claims as to what his method could accomplish were not sustained.

COMING ATTRACTIONS.

"The Lost Paradise."

"The Lost Paradise," now being played by the popular Neill-Morosco Company at the Baker, was one of the first American plays to be successfully produced in Lonto the private office of Chief Hunt, where the head of the police department inter-viewed her for a time. Then she left don by American actors. Mr. Thomas Oberle was in the original cast and has a large fund of interesting experiences to relate of the time. It is a play that appeals with equal earnestness to all classes of society, gives remarkable scope for dramatic situation and leaves one with a feeling of satisfaction and contentment which few of the modern lovers of the beautiful art of engraving should avail themselves of the oppor-tunity to see and study the examples of playwrights seem to produce.

ROSES ON STREET CURBS Plan for Beautifying City Favored by Rose Society.

At a meeting of the Portland Rose So-First Unitarian Church, plans were discussed for beautifying Portland's streets by the growing of roses on the curbs so that it may deserve its name of "City of Roses," when the great influx of visitors

Mrs. H. L. Pittock presided over the meeting and urged all to discuss the matter and give individual ideas as to the best method of procedure.

Mrs. Rosa H. Hoyt told of her efforts among the residents of Thurman street, the approach to the Fair Grounds, and reported that all were enthusiastic over the proposed plan of planting good bloomers along the outer grass plats. Many are willing to furnish the bushes and give them the necessary attention if the society will have some expert gardener to plan them. Mrs. Hoyt thought varieties that will bloom the most constantly and make the greatest show were the ones to avored, and mentioned such hardy loomers as the Hermosa and Sophrana.

Mrs. George Lamberson thought it noth ing short of criminal to suggest planting such as these when the same care would grow the choicer varieties. She favored the idea of confining each block to a single color, so as not to have such a conglomation of colors. F. V. Holman made a most interesting and instructive talk on rose culture in general, and advised those interested in the subject to plant La France and Malmaison bushes in ordinary or poor soil instend of fertilizing highly as is generally done. He urges all to plant bushes now so they will be well rooted by Spring, and says if all will begin at once the cit; will be a bower of roses by 1905. He doe not favor the idea of giving plants away, as it destroys the proper spirit that right-fully should prompt all citizens to want-Portland to look its best. He says the Caroline Testout, will root splendidly from silps, and if put in the ground in the next week or two and lightly covered with straw, by Spring will be ready to trans-plant and make fine bushes. Hothouse rose bushes are apt to be lacking in vitality, while those raised out doors from slips will be sound and hardy.

Mesdames Killin, Julia Corbett, J. L. Barnard, George Lamberson, D. H. Stearns and H. L. Pittock were among
