All cars on the O. W. P. now run a trailer out as far as Gresham.

City Recorder J. B. Haviland returned, Monday, from his Eastern Oregon trip.

Mr. and Mrs. H. Cooper have both been quite sick this week with the grip.

Al Lindsey and Ed Miller have been putting the finishing touches on Prof. Surface's house.

Mayor and Mrs. J. W, Reed and family spent Thanksgiving at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Campbell in Portland.

Portland has a Mr. Bruin, and from the commotion he is making it isn't possible he has been out of mountains long.

Merchant Elliott and wife of Eagle Creek were among those who enjoyed the Firemen's ball and the supper at The Estacada.

Mayor Sommer of Oregon City retires from his one year term of office on December 15 and then leaves fora year's professional study in Europe.

V. Lingelbach brought a few fine large strawberries to town Monday. There has not been enough sunshine lately to ripen them, but they were large and well formed. Mr L had ripe berries last year in the holidays.

The people at Eagle Creek are discussing the subject of building a Presbyterian church at that place Estacada has a church or soon will have one and there is no reason why Eagle Creek should not be up to date also.

L. W. Van Dyke of Springwater Mill Company has been in California for a number of days buying additional machinery for their saw mill plant, which it is intended, will be enlarged and improved when the change of location is made.

Merchant Elliott of Eagle Creek is having a large warehoue built near the railroad track. The O W P has agreed to put in a 250 foot side track on the west side of the main track. This will give Mr. Elliott better loading and unloading facilities.

Rev. Stubbs and Rev. Welter went to Gresham Sunday morning to take part at that place in the dedication ceremonies of the new Free Methodist church. Rev. Beers of the Seattle cemetary was present and made the dedicatory address. The congregation filled the church.

H. M. Richards has sold his restaurant business to Mr and Mrs. Al. Lindsey and Mr. and Mrs. John Marchbank, who took possession of the place Monday. They will continue the business and serve the bests meals possible at the usual popular price.

An accident which came near being fatal to John Gobel occured at Cazadero at 5, p. m. Tuesday. Mr. Gobel was working below the dam and a heavy rock fell over the precipice striking him on tne head and shoulders. He was taken to Portland's Good Samaritan hospital on Conductor Lebrecque's car 26 which returned to Portland at 7:30 p. m. for that especial purpose.

Mr. Hughes of Spokane, a brother of Mrs D. M. Marshall, arrived in the county last Saturday after an eight years absence and will remain here for awhile.

Clackamas county Barred Plymouth Rock hens were the prizewinners at the Corvallis poultry show. The birds are the property of James Murrow.

Mangelwurzels as big as a nail keg were grown on the banks of Eagle Creek this year. Jack Brown had a lot of them in town this week. Eagle Creek heads the list in the culture of the mangelwurtzel.

The Union Sunday School under the direction of the auperinteudent and the teachers is making all preparations to have a Christmas entertainment, and, perhaps, a Christmas tree also. It is about time something of this sort was taking place. Why dont the Ladies' Aid serve an oyster dinner for the benefit of the minester?

A family reunion took place at the home of Mr. and Mrs. John Tracy on Thanksgiving Day last week. Six of their own children were present, four sons-in-law and fourteen grandchildren, which, together with Mr. and Mrs. Tracy and Henry Boyer, made a grand total of twentyseven present. The occasion was properly celebrated, and turkey and good cheer reigned supreme.

The Estacada Brick & Tile Co. Extending Its Plant.

The Estacada Brick & Tile Company has begun the construction of two large dry kilns at the brick plant. Each one of these sheds is to be 30 by 60 feet with an alley between. They are located near the railroad side track so that the brick may be loaded from the kiln onto the cars. Just as soon as these sheds are finished the company will begin to manufacture brick. At present there is no place to store the product. The company has a sample of light colored clay drying and from this will be made buff colored brick which is used in putting up the finer and handsomer buildings.

An electric lighting plant has been put in the brick factory sufficient to rupply the plant with all the light necessary.

SPRINGWATER NEWS

We understand W H Kandle has disposed of his interest in the Springwater Milling Co's sawmill and in the near future will return to his farm and devote his time to farming.

S M Warnock and wife spent Thanksgiving with friends in Oregon City.

We had enough snow last week to make the ground white.

Young Miss Estacada should be a little careful about those city ordinances prohibiting farmers from peddling their products within her limits, for the way it looks to us your future depends very largely upon the farmers. Your council should not lose sight of this fact.

Yes Aunt Polly we are all proud of the News and want it to continue to grow but we don't want to write unless there is something to write about.

R A Wilcox has got all moved over and is busily engaged turning up the brown soil and seeding.

Enjoyed The Dinner

Those who ate diuner at the Hotel Estacada on Thanksgiving night are warm in their praise of the spread that was given the firemen, their ladies and friends. A number of the town's epicurean critics took dinner there with friends and to say that they were pleased is not half the truth. They were delighted. "The tables were simply loaded with the best things you ever saw" is the way the one person puts it. The new management of the hotel is to be congratulated on the success of the dinner.

The Firemen's Ball

The Second Annual Ball given by the Estacada fire boys was a social and financial success. Over 125 tickets were sold and there are yet some to be heard from. The large pavillion on the banks of the Clackamas was just comfortably filled and every dancer and spectator enjoyed himself. Good order and harmony prevailed during the evening. At 11 o'clock the dancers unmasked and the prize-winners selected.

The judges awarding the prizes were George Stratton, M. C Meachum, and Lew Tucker, and they decided that Neva Green was entitled to the lady's prize for having the most comic costume, Mabel Simmons to the lady's prize for the best sustained character, Wiley Howell to the gentleman's prize for having the best sustained character and M. Clyde Morrow to the gentleman's prize for the most comic costume. Considering the fact that it was a hard matter to pick out the ones who were entitled to prize recognition, the judges did right and we believe everyone was pleased.

Miss Neva represented a Chinese lady, Miss Simmons, a Spanish maiden, Mr. Morrow a little dutchman, and Mr. Howell represented George Washington.

Portland friends who purchased tickets to the dance—G. W. Morrow W. P. Keady, W.H.Hurlburt, John Matheson, Sam L Beary, Studebaker Bros., Geo. Lawrence & Co., W. P. Fuller & Co., Marshall Wells & Co., and R. M. Wade
