OFFICIAL PAPER OF THE CITY

FRIDAY, AUGUST 10.

The revolt of the people against the democracy has got beyond the arbitration stage. The democracy must be overthrown.

Bids for furnishing the state insane asylum at Salem, with 3,000 cords of fir wood was awarded last Tuesday at $2.20 per cord.

It will be observed that Cleveland does not get along so well with a man like Hill at his back as he does when he has a man like Sherman to help him.

Cleveland doubtless now regrets the writing of that Wilson letter The senate has its way. Gorman's friends, the sugar trust, has ¼ cent on refined sugar. He himself has free iron ore.

The sugar trust may run the democracy, but it doesn't run the country. The republicans in 1897, when they hold all branches of the government, will put all sorts of sugar on the free list.

The one laughable event connected with the strike was the enthusian with which the Knights of Labor all over the country stuck to their jobs when Sovereign called on them to strike to help the Debs out of a hole.

The Argentine Republic is composed of fourteen states, all of which are bankrupt but one. The national government owes nearly $300,000,000 which it cannot pay, and its paper money passes at one-third its face value. A populist policy produced this result.

In taking advantage of their chances to compete with this country, the Canadians have been a little careless in piling up a government debt which is five times as large per capita as the national debt on this side of the line. The Dominion is not throwing out any pecuniary inducements to annexationists.

Forty per cent on sugar and one-fifth differential on refined sugar, forty cents per ton on coal, and free iron ore is the basis of the compromise on the tariff bill said to have been reached. The details were to have been arranged yesterday. The senate had its way. Gorman understood the language he uttered. The president's letter was not convincing.

From a late paper is gleaned the information that a freight train of 20 cars is soon to start from the Fox River, Ill., station with a shipment of half million cans of condensed milk for the San Francisco market. A part of this invoice is to go forward to Japan. The train is to be gaily decorated for the trip and will advertise that station across the continent. From all of which it would seem that there will be a demand for the product of the factory to be started here.

"Bradstreet's" makes the aggregate cost of the recent strike $81,000,000, of which considerable more than half is in wages. The railroad lost by destruction of property about $2,000,000, and this they will recover from taxpayers. Fruit-growers are out about $2,500,000, and can call on no one to reimburse them. Most of them are poor men, struggling to make both ends meet. When the results of a strike are examined they are found to be such a collection of misfits that they would be ludicrous if less a calamity to those who have little to spare,

In 1884 Egypt began to ship cotton to this country, the amount that year being 4553 bales. Since then, there has been a steady annual increase, and last year 40,000 bales were received, most of which was used in the New England mills. The Egyptian crop of 1894 was estimated at over 1,000,000 bales, and the probable success of plans for storing the waters of the Nile for irrigating purposes will double the yield next year. Our cotton-growers are thus confronted by a form of competition that will be apt to make protectionists of them before they get through with it—protectionists for raw materials, too.

The Oregonian of the 9th inst. did a neat piece of reportorial work. Wednesday, Thursday and Friday of this week is the appointed time for the public examination of teachers desiring a license permitting them to teach in the public schools of the several counties. The State Board of Education prepares the questions to be used at the examination, and takes great precautions that they do not "get out." Indeed to "swipe" one of those sheets is a crime. As much as $20 have frequently been paid by the interested for an opportunity to study those interrogatories. But now comes the smart young man of the Oregonian and publishes the complete list. Now if the maidens, young and otherwise, of Multnomah, can hide from Ackerman the fact of publication all will be serene, but woe betide the trusty who helped the reporter to his "copy" when Ackerman is in possession of the facts. Even as far away as Hillsboro, Bond snorted.

WITH POWDERED SUGAR.

Some months ago in their ramblings two reporters, one of a leading New York paper and the other of a Philadelphia daily, unearthed a scheme of bribery in which senators were compromised. A senate investigating committee was appointed, the majority, of course, being democrats. The reporters were examined and because they refused to give their sources of information, were presented to the grand jury, notwithstanding the fact that they vouched for their correspondence.

The charges were that the sugar trust was in the habit of sweetening the tea of senators and prominent politicians, as well as chucking great sums into the campaign funds of the democratic party.

The evidence developed the fact that large subscriptions had been made to the Cleveland fund in 1888 and 1892, and that even the republican party in some of the states solid for them had been "helped."

But when it came to the part of senators the investigation could never get beyond the servant girls, except in the case of Ransome of North Carolina, whose son had chipped in a five with a companion and bought $10 worth of the trust stock. Everyone knew that Ransom was innocent of fraud participation, or that testimony could not have been found.

The committee has at last made its report. Nothing damaging was found. All is fair. No one has been influenced. There were no interests to serve by legislation. All is purity. This is not a case of white washing. It is ornamentation with powdered sugar.

PUT OFF THE EVIL HOUR.

The situation at Omaha is one that ought not to be permitted in any American city. Some 1500 butchers have quit work in the meat packing houses, as they had a right to do. They have armed and organized to prevent others from filling vacant places, as they have no right to do. Their organization has gone to the length of posting pickets about the packing houses to prevent workmen from entering or departing. They have established patrols for the city, so efficient that policemen are required to escort the non-union men to and from work and then frequently the escort is overpowered. The authorities seem dazed. They do nothing. They wait till tomorrow.

Such dallying will end in bloodshed. And since blood is to be let the sooner the puncture is made the better. If "organized labor" demands that kind of a settlement, it is a mercy to all that it come swift. Let the soldiery shoot low.

SOME MORE SUGAR.

It is very interesting to note the sugar crop of the world. The cane crop of 1893-'94 is made up as follows:

Whence it come.	Tons.
Cuba	900,000
Rorto Rico	60,000
Trinidad	50,000
Barbados	65,000
Martinique	32,000
Guadaloupe	50,000
Demerara	110,009
Brazil	225,000
Java	480,000
Phillippine Islands	250,000
Mauritius	125,000
Reunion	37,000
Jamaica	26,000
Minor Antilles	25,000
Louisiana	265,000
Peru	65,000
Egypt	70,000
Sandwich Islands	135,000
Total	2,960,000

The beet crop was made up as follows:

Whence it comes:	Tons.
Germany	1,300,000
Austria	825,000
France	575,000
Russia	650,000
Belgium	225,000
Holland	75,000
Other countries	120,000
Total	3,770,000
Total of cane and beet	6,730,000

Of this amount about 5,700,000 tons is consumed, America consuming 1,800,000 tons. This is brought to this country in more than 1,000 steamers and 1,000 sailing vessels.

UP THE ROAD.

McMINNVILLE, OR., August 8.—The engineer of the water and electric light plant got mixed up in the machinery Monday evening, and the artery of his left wrist was severed. He stopped the bleeding by binding the arm above the wound and came over to town and had the artery ligated.

One of the surveying crew at work in the mountain cut his foot severely with an axe Tuesday, and considerable difficulty was experienced in getting him to this city for medical attention.

The grain is nearly all down and several threshing outfits have started to work. The crop is up to the average, if not a little better. Some of the farmers are complaining that the wheat aphis has destroyed part of the crop.

The hop-pickers are talking strongly of organizing against the hop-growers. The latter have formed an organization and the price of picking has been reduced to 80 cents per 100 pounds. Numbers of people who have heretofore picked hops say that they will not work this year. If the sentiment increases a higher price will have to be paid.

Wm. Poole, foreman of the bridge gang, fell from a log in the mountains on Sunday last and broke his leg. The accident occurred in one of the worst places in the mountain, and it took seventeen men and two pack horses to get him out to civilization. He is doing well.

The Grand Chancellor, K. of P. has been in the city and an effort is being made to organize a lodge of this order. Twenty-three of the young men of the city have signed the petition.

A steer kicked George Dorsay on Sunday last and broke his leg. Mr. Dorsay is an old resident of the county and lives on Dayton prairie.

St. Paul and McMinnville will play a series of five games of ball. The first game will be played here on the coming Sunday. McMinnville was defeated on Sunday last by Silverton at Gervais. The second nine played Cornelius on Sunday and defeated them by a score of 30 to 11.

A HINT OF NEEDED LEGISLATION.

MR. EDITOR: It only requires an examination of the reports of our county officers, as to amount of fees collected during the month of July to satisfy the taxpayers that some at least of the legislation enacted at the last session was inopportune. Let us see how the balance stands:

Salary of sheriff for July	$208,33⅓
Salary for deputy sheriff	66,66⅔
Salary of county clerk	183,33⅓
Salary of deputy county clerk	66,66⅔
Recorder of conveyances	125,00
Salary of deputy recorder	50,00
Total	$700,00

Amount of fees returned for the month of July:

County clerk	$ 165,40
Sheriff	48,21
Recorder of conveyances	131,65
Total	$ 340 45

Leaving a deficit to be made up from the county fund of $349.54.

It is to be hoped that a better showing will be made in the future. If such showing does not appear before the next session of the legislature, it will certainly be the duty of our members in that body to use their earnest efforts to secure a return to the former system. All other counties in the state except Multnomah, and possibly Clatsop and Marion, must be equally interested in the proposed change. Multnomah is certainly benefitted by the present law, and the exorbitant profits of these offices in that county, thousands of dollars of which was thought to be used in corrupting voters, was the strong argument used in bringing about the change from the fee to the salary system.

The difficulty might, and should have been remedied by a proper reduction in the fees in Multnomah county and other counties where the amount received by the various officers was unreasonably large. The legislature, for good reasons given, has repeatedly provided for a difference in the fees charged for same services in various counties and no constitutional question has been raised in opposition. Such reduction and to such amount as would have given only a fair equivalent to these several officers for the performance of their duties would have protected the interest of the public as well as these county officers. The effect of the senseless howl for a change in our laws, without fully understanding what that change should be, not only in the fees of officers but in other matters, is now being felt by the taxpayers; and if the lesson, to go slow, is only heeded in the future, in the end possibly, nothing may be lost. Plans for regulating the state and county finances after being used should not be revolutionized without better reasons than were given by the advocates of the changes made by the last legislature.

When the last session commenced there was a well founded uneasiness in business circles in the state that a financial crisis was at hand, which would tax to the utmost the efforts of the debtor class, as well as the indulgence of their creditors, to tide over the same; and if ever there was a time when prudential reasons required that the law-making power should have guarded the interest of the taxpayers in every way possible, the session of 1893 was that time. Now, was this done? Republicans, democrats and populists, led by a democratic-populist governor, initiated a system of extravagance in expenditures, unparalleled in the history of Oregon's legislation. And then, to gratify what was characterized by one of the ablest men in the legislature as a "universal howl for a change" in the laws, proceeded to throw the burden of the increased taxation rendered necessary by their extravagance, on that class of the taxpayers least able to bear it. The debtor class of Washington county alone pay at least $25,000 taxes over and above what is their just share of the burden of carrying on the government. And this injustice is not confined to this county alone—this class throughout the state bears the same unequal burden. While by reason of the changes made at least one-half of the interest bearing notes the most productive property in the state, for the protection of which almost the entire expenses of the courts of the state are incurred, absolutely escapes all taxation. The next legislature should protect the rights of debtors not by passing laws to enable them to avoid the payment of just debts, but such as will insure them protection from taxation in many cases to an amount of double what they are worth. The re-enactment of a law, properly guarded, allowing deductions of any and all indebtedness in the state, will not only be securing taxation upon all in proportion to their ability to pay, but will insure the listing for taxation of all notes and accounts. As the law allowing deductions for indebtedness, exposes all efforts that dishonest taxpayers would be tempted to use to escape their equal share of taxation.

Believing that such change in the laws would be just to all, the taxpayers of the state have a right to expect that their representatives in the next legislature will make an earnest effort to secure its enaction. Let those who are now driven to the wall by a financial stringency unheard of heretofore in the history of Oregon, speak through the press and by petition to those public servants who have been honored by their choice as representatives. Let this question come before the legislature without being hampered by other issues, and there is a reasonable probability that the laws for assessing and collecting revenue will be amended so as to tax each and every property-holder of the state of Oregon for the support of the state, county and municipality, in proportion to the protection he or she may receive from the laws.

TAXPAYER.

WASHINGTON COUNTY VETERAN ASSOCIATION.

The Veterans Re-Union held at Forest Grove last Wednesday, Thursday, Friday and Saturday was under the auspices of the Washington County Veteran Association. Its membership consists of survivors of the Indian wars of the Pacific northwest, of the war with Mexico, the late Union war, survivors of the regular army of the United States since the late civil war and all other soldiers, sailors or marines who served at any time in any military or national service under the American flag. It was not strictly a G. A. R. Re-Union nor an Indian War Re-Union, as some think but as stated above, for all ex-soldiers, sailors or marines irrespective of what the service may have been.

The G. A. R. is a secret society, while the W. C. V. A. is not, and never work with closed doors, but all who served under the stars and stripes are admissable without any obligations or admission fee.

The W. C. V. A. has two regular semi-annual meetings.

The next semi-annual meeting will be held at Beaverton, Thursday, September 6, 1894, of which due notice will be given.
