Mr. Deichman has sold his stock in the Bryan-Laidlaw Cash store to Mr. Bryan. Mr. Deichman has not decided yet into what new venture he will embark.

The change of stock-holders in the Bryan-Laidlaw store will not change the management, but the same liberal dealing will be continued that has heretofore been extended to customers.

Mr. W. H. Rasser has an enquiry from a prospective purchaser of farm lands in this county. Persons having tracts for sale or rent may find a buyer or tenant by calling upon Mr. Rucker.

The tents that are being used at Warren's Grove during the celebration, are for sale at actual manufacturing cost—8x10 size, $6; 10x12 size, $7; and 10x14 size, $7.50. Call on J. M. Wall, sec. of committee.

On and after May 27th the steamers of the O. R. & N. Co. which leaves Portland for San Francisco every five days will carry passengers for $10 cabin and $5 steerage. J. I. Knight Hillsboro communicates the particulars.

The Shasta Special train that has been running between Portland and San Francisco every five days, has been taken off but the low rates of $10 and $5 applies to the daily trains between those cities. The trains leaves Portland every evenining at 6 o'clock.

On the speaker's platform last Saturday at the celebration, sat Mrs. Mary Wood who was 104 years old May 20th last. By her side stood her baby Mrs. Reynoid's who was born in 1830. Mrs. Woods came to Oregon in 1853 and has lived in Hillsboro ever since.

Mr Saml. S. Sutter of Reedville on the march from Hillsboro to the celebration grounds last Saturday lost his gold filled case Elgin watch and chain. The number of the movement is No. 13339. Will the finder kindly leave the same with Hoyt the jeweler at Hillsboro.

Why suffer with coughs, colds and la grippe when Laxative Bromo Quinine will cure you in one day. Does not produce the ringing in the head like sulphate of quinine. Put up in tablets convenient for taking. Guaranteed to cure or money refunded. Price 25 cts. For sale by the Delta.

Prof. W. J. Grimes will be married next Sunday at the Hood View church 3 miles south of Sherwood, to Miss Orilla Stahlnecker. Mr. Grimes is well known in many parts of this state as one of the prominent educators and is a graduate from the university. The bride is also a graduate from the Portland Schools. The Rev. Mrs. Dora Barber will officiate in the ceremony.

Mr. E. S. Booth who two or more years ago wedded Miss Young daughter of J. T. Young, has returned from an eastern horological school and will commence business in Hillsboro. He has leased the Finney building on Main Street where he will be found on and after Monday next. In addition to watch and clock repairing, he will repair bicycles and carry a stock of jewelry and musical instruments.

Dr. M. H. Parker of Greenville, passed through Hillsboro on a visit to the encampment of the veterans association. Incidently he mentioned the name of a mutual acquaintance, that of Hon. John Kelly, of Lane county, who is now approaching his 100th birthday. Kelly was at one time an important leader in Oregon politics, but now, though retaining a clear and active mind, he is sadly handicapped by the loss of his hearing.

Mr Miles Everitt, druggist at the Delta, had his vacation last week which he spent most wisely. He wandered away toward San Francisco and brought home with him a lady whom he met as Miss Mae Clark but whom we all now gladly greet as Mrs. Everitt. The lady is not a stranger here but takes up the associations which were interupted two years ago when she went to California. Mr Everitt and his bride will reside in J. I. Knight's property on Washington street.

E. B. Tongue, not to be outdone by his failure to get the fast pacer Pathmont, has done much better and has secured the fastest of the trotting get of the great Altimont, Vinmont, 2:21¼. Vinmont is by far the best bred of all the Altimonts. Besides being the progeny of the sire of Clothalis 2:07¼, Del Norte, 2:08, Ella T. 2:08¼, Doe Sperry 2:09, Altiao 2:09¾, Pathmont 2:09¼, etc., his dam is a daughter of Tecora the dam of Chehalis 2:07¼ Del Norte 2:08, Tauchet 3 year old record 2:15. Coquette 2:30 etc. Tongue telegraphed a week ago to Sacramento for the horse and he was landed in Portland Sunday evening, and brought to Hillsboro Wednesday by his trainer, Mr. Callhan and is now quartered at the fair grounds. The horsemen of California on finding that this horse was to leave the state made several attempts to retain him by purchase or otherwise. Andy McDowel who has driven several horses to world's records in speaking of this horse said under favorable circumstances and in good condition Vinmont would give a good account of himself in a race with the best horses in the country and that 2:10 would be a very easy mark for him. Vinmont has raced in Oregon and those whose horses have been so unfortunate as to be obliged to compete against him, have some faint recollections of his capabilities. Vinmont is a handsome bay about 15½ hands high, with black points. Tongue is elated over his success in obtaining such a horse and will take great pleasure in exhibiting him to lovers of good horses.

INDEPENDENT readers have learned through the advertising columns that A. Schilling & Co. of San Francisco offers a $1000 prize to him who supplies a missing word. That was a legitimate advertising proposition, and will be fulfilled to the letter and to the satisfaction of all contestants, August 31st next, offered another prize of $200 to the two contestants who would return the greatest number of yellow tickets which are found in the bottom of every package of tea put up by the Schilling company. That was legitimate advertising too but it did not work out quite as was expected the day the contest closed. On June 15th T. Saimon and Ring Bros., two San Francisco grocers drove up to the wholesale house and dumped out a delivery wagon full of yellow tickets. The grocers' tickets were not counted but simply measured. They got their money, but the manager realized that should things work in the usual channel, he had been digging a hole for both himself and the firm. Sure enough an hour later two consumers, Mrs L. Daring, 819 Bryant St. San Faancisco and Mrs. W. Fank of Winnemucca, Nevada, came in, each with a modest pasteboard handkerchief box well filled with the yellow tickets. Then [illegible] and disappointment stamped in the faces of the ladies. At this stage of the proceedings the senior member of the firm, A. Schilling, himself, happened in at that part of the store where he learned that the advertised terms of the contest did not specify that it was to be confined to consumers, "Ah, that's bad, but I can fix it. We will not worry." He turner to the desk and wrote two checks for $100 each which were delivered to the ladies who declared that the liberality of the firm is equaled only by the aroma of its teas. When the ladies had departed, Shilling dismissed the whole matter by saying, "Hadley, we must keep the spirit of our contracts as well as the letter. Only use care next time in writing our advertising propositions."

At an expense of $60.00 Sheriff Bradford put John Fisher in jail and now he is gone, and Mr. Bradford is not feeling happy at the turn of affairs. This is the story of the escape. John Moore, a fellow prisoner states that about two o'clock Sunday Morning a masked man appeared at a window looking in on the coridor, and covered him with a pistol at the same time giving him a wrench. He was commanded to tear off the lock on the steel cage which confined Fisher. Moore occupied a bed in the coridor instead of his proper place in another steel cage. Moore broke the hasp fastening the door and let Fisher into the coridor. Boards from the side of the building were removed and Fisher left taking the wrench and lock with him. Moore says he was so badly frightend that he could make no alarm. But he went to sleep and slept soundly till eight o'clock next morning. Some facts have been noted which Moore's story does not explain. The padlock was carried off but tell tale filings remained. The truth seems to be that Moore filed the lock off or assisted and thus helped the escape. Sheriff Bradford has preferred charges against him for aiding in the escape of a prisoner and he has been bound over to await the action of the next grand jury. Mr. Bradford takes the care of prisoners into his own hands hereafter and will have those taken into custody on hand at the next term of the Court. He took Moore to the Multnomah county jail on Wednesday evening last. There the Kangaroo Court will take him in hand.

Serg. J. K. Harrison Co. I. 1st Oregon Infantry, was in attendance at the veterans reunion last week. A different man is Harrison from the strong robust fellow that 33 years ago campaigned with Capt. F. B. Sprague through the wilderness of Southeastern Orogon where now live cattle kings. The exposures of those winter bivouacs are written in bold characters on the bent form of the grizzled veteran. Serg. Harrison owns a small tract of land on the lower Nehalem where he passes quiet months though his hermitage is made lively when a neighbor hints at opposition to the protection and sound money ideas of the Republican party.

Saturday last was the principal day in the Fourth of July celebration. The immigrant wagon drawn by mules had its place. Among those in this wagon was Mr. J. S. Griffin who was seated in his arm chair which he made at his log cabin in 1842, fifty five years ago. He also was seated in this same chair on the platform during the literary exercises which were a part of the celebration. Quite a number were disposed to make Mr. Griffin a sort of hero of the day as he is the only one left of all who were engaged in commencing the settlement of Washington county in 1841.

Mr. H. Corum who lives North of Cornelius exhibited ripe peaches at the celebration last Saturday that were picked from the trees on July 1st. The variety of this first fruit is the New York Earliest. The trees were imported two years ago and though they made a poor growth the first year, they did better last season and this summer they have fruit. Mr. Corum knew that he had an early peach but he was surprised when one day last week he found peaches on the ground beneath the tree and that they were ripe. The fruit is not large but it is beautifully marked and the flavor is fine. Mr. Corum claims his peaches for the earliest in the state unless the same variety has been introduced in Jackson county.

The Hillsboro Reed and Cornet band is the only musicians in Washington county, that maintains its organization, the others having disbanded for the season. The Hillsboro boys keep up their practice and meet for that purpose on Tuesday and Friday evenings. The next open air concert will be given next Saturday evening. The ladies of the Congregational Church serve ice cream and cake on that occasion.

There are a great many watchmakers who can repair a watch properly, but don't because it takes considerable time to do it thoroughly. There are many others who can't do it right no matter how hard they try, and one does the watch about as much good as the other. There is still another class(and Hoyt, the Jeweler, wants you to set him in this class) who know how and do the work concientiously.

Born in Hillsboro, July 1st to Mr. Horace Lake and wife a son.

Hay weather has come.

THE CIVIC PROCESSION

Procession was Headed by a Large Flag.

OLD PIONEERS DRAWN BY MULES

Float Beautifully Decorated—Officers of the day Ride in Carriage—The G. A. R. in the Procession.

The parade last Saturday was as fine as has been formed in the county. The procession was headed by Mr. James Lankin who carried his fine flag which is the largest size used in parades. Following him came the Bethany band. Then a carriage in which was seated Hon. W. N. Barrett, mayor of Hillsboro, Senator Saml. Hughes, president of the day instead of Mayor Hinman, of Forest Grove, who was confined at home by illness and Hon. J. F. Caples orator. A large float beautifully decorated was next. In the center of this stood the goddess of Liberty represented by one of our handsome young ladies. She had a guard of honor composed of four young ladies stationed one at each corner of the float. These guards represented the four colonies that were first settled, Virginia, 1607, New Bork, 1613, Massachusetts, 1720 and New Hampshire, 1623. These guards wore a white sash bearing the name of the state printed in large extended letters. Between the guards and all about the central figure were elves personated by small girls beautifully dressed in pure white. After this car came the emmigrant wagon drawn by mules in which were seated Father J. S. Griffin 1839 and Grandma Wood 1853. This was followed by a smaller float "Oregon," decorated with green corn, wheat and oats. The presiding genius was a small girl aged four or five years dressed in a beautiful pink frock.

The G. A. R. veterans made a splendid division. They were headed by the colors of Gen. Ransom post carried by an infantry man and guarded on one side by an artillery man and on the other by a cavalryman. The infantry and artillery were on the right and the cavalry on the left. The colors of J. B. Mathew's Post were carried about the center of the column. The Hillsboro band followed this after which came the section occupied by bicycle riders, and this was a very attractive part of the great column. Both wheels and riders were gaily dressed, and as the cavalcade moved slowly the cyclers had time for riding in an elipse so that while some went forward others circled back though the section as a whole progressed forward with the procession.

The Callithumpians were both seen and heard, they were skirmishers and loaded and fired as they marched. The casualaties was a dead cavalry man who was carried on a litter. The squad earned the reward of $100 offered by Gen. Hooker in 1862 for a dead cavalry man. The corpse was afterward burried by the W. R. C.

After the fun makers came the fire department and then citizens in carriages forming a line more than a mile in length. The grounds were occupied by a vast concourse variously estimated at from 6000 to 10,000 people. Miss Minnie Heidel read the Declaration of Independence and won great applause for perfect enunciation and great volume of voice. The Oration by Hon. J. F. Caples was a fine effort teaching patriotism throughout.

In the afternoon the athletic sports entertained, a delighted throng. The leading exhibition was given by the Forest Grove Athletic Club which exercised on the bar and trapese rings. The tug of war caused great merriment.

Some of the people went home but most stayed for the fire works in the evening which were all that had been advertised.

The day closed. Not an accident had occured to mar the mirth of the hour. The jubilee was temperate yet on a scale large enough to demand respect.

PIONEER MEETING.

The following paragraph is from the Tribune published at Hwaco Washington. The "Invincibles" were recruited in this county and there are many still here who remember the flag mentioned by the Tribune. The press used by Dryer was a Washington hand press. At that time there were no cylinder presses on this coast and the Gordon jobber had not been invented. The Tribune says:

"Mr. W. E. Lingenfelter, the well-known pioneer of the Northwest and Indian war veteran, has left temporarily in the Tribune editorial room a valuable souvenir of the Yakima war of 1855-6 in which Mr. Lingenfelter as also Mr. L. A. Loomis, Capt. J. N. Skidmore and many others of Pacific county, took a conspicuous part. This souvenir is a silk flag, six feet long and four wide, and was presented to Company D, the "Washington Invincibles," by the ladies of Portland in September 1855. It was a beautiful flag as it came from the hands of its fair donors in those heroic days, with its circle of white silk stars around a blue shield, with the name "Washington Invincibles" on a central scroll. T. J. Dryer, then the owner of the Oregonian, had this name printed on the old press of that pioneer journal. All the work was done by hand in the making of the flag and it would be interesting now to know the names of those whose fingers stitched its glowing stripes and sheeny stars. Did they have lovers and brothers in the ranks? Are they living now?

Col. T. R. Cornelius, still living in Washington county, Oregon was captain of the company and Mr. Lingenfelter was one of its members. After the presentation of the ensign, which is worn and faded now, the company went to The Dalles and thence to the theater of war. It is a proud yet pathetic relic of those troubled times."

Died—July 6th at the family residence in Hillsboro, after a brief illness of two days, Mrs. J. H. Stanley, aged 35 years and 8 months. The deceased was born at Monmouth, Polk county, this state, Nov. 1861. She was the daughter of Hon. A. W. Lucas of Polk county. About a month ago one of her children had a severe illness and the mother gave her undivided attention to the child. She over-taxed her strength so that when a trivial derangement came last Saturday there was not reserve force to enable her to rally. Mrs. Stanley was greatly respected by all who knew her. She was the idol of her family. The funeral was from the Christian church last Wednesday evening after the arrival of the trains bringing sisters and brothers from Portland and Corvallis.

Some weeks ago County Clerk Imbrie was up at Wapato Lake near Gaston where he found a land tortoise. He brought the reptile home and turned it over to the children. They soon domesticated the new comer and it contentedly ranges about the yard. On Monday last it commenced laying eggs and up to date it had deposited three in its rude dirt nest. These were so much of a curiosity to the children that they broke them in handling. But it is understood now that they have agreed to let mama tortoise take care of any more that she lays and await the hatching of the baby tortoises.

Excursion tickets from stations on the S. P. Co.'s road west side, will be sold on Monday morning next for Gladstone Park and return the same day. The rate from Hillsboro and Cornelius $1, Forest Grove $1 15, Dilley $1.25 and Gaston $1.40. Close connection will be made at Portland both going and returning. Hon. W. J. Bryan speaks at Gladstone on Monday.

At the annual meeting of the stock holders of the Climax Milling Company an annual dividend of 30 per cent was declared on the capital stock. Is that prosperity? This represents the profits on wheat bought last fall at 45 and 50 cents.

Clearance Sale—Bryan-Laidlaw Co. Cash Store commencing Monday. Look out for bargains, everything reduced, must have money, come early and get your purchases before stock is broken. These goods must go.

Dr. C. B. Brown will be in Hillsboro about the 12th inst. Those wishing first class dental work should call as early as possible.

THE MARKETS.

Wheat has dropped to 61 cents at Hillsboro and the transactions are light. This will be the conditions till the new crop begins to move. Valley wheat in Portland is quoted at 67, this of course includes sacks and freight to that point. This exceptional condition is attributed to the small lots of wheat offering which are too inconsiderable for a foreign cargo.

PORTLAND QUOTATIONS.

Wheat—Walla Walla, 65@66; Valley, 67. Flour—best grades, $3 50@3 60 per bbl. Oats—white, choice, 32@40; grey 37@39; Hay—Timothy, $10 to $13 50; Clover, $11 50 to $12 50.

BUTTER, EGGS, POULTRY.

Eggs, 13 per dozen.

Chickens—old, $2 50 to $3 00 per dozen; chickens—young, $2 00@3 00; Turkeys—live, 10@11 cents per pound; Ducks—$2 50@3 00 per dozen; Geese—$2 50@3 00 per dozen.

Butter—Fancy Creamery, 30@35 and Dairy, 20@25 per roll.

VEGETABLES

Potatoes—Burbanks, 40@50 cents per sack; New, 50@60.

HILLSBORO FRUITS.

As one dealer expressed it, "rotten." He pointed to a keg of wild blackberries that are beyond their prime. It is not advisable for pickers to bring blackberries to this market expecting to get more than three cents if that much. Cherries are out of market and summer pears and plums have just appeared, but the local demand is limited since most consumers here have a few trees about their residences.

Whatever may have been charged on the board of regents heretofore touching the selection of a president of the Agricultural College by political methods and to pay party debts cannot be laid to them this year. President Gatch is a good citizen who never neglects to vote and never conceals his political preference but he is not a party man as that term is frequently interpreted. Gatch is a school man and that work he understands. He came to Oregon in 1858 and did his first work as professor of mathematics in Willamette University. The next year or the second year on the resignation of Pres. F. S. Hoyt, Gatch was advanced to that responsible position, and there he remained for twenty years. He was then called to Washington where he has been till now. Pres. Gatch is a Methodist, an odd fellow, and a republican, all good organizations. He will have the support of the whole state and the esteem of every self-respecting student.

The proposed tariff discrimination of Canada against the United States seems to amuse rather than to alarm the intelligent citizens of this country. Canada can cut off its nose to spite its face if it desires to. That country has everything to lose and nothing to gain by a policy of retaliation. Canada buys American goods because she likes them better or can get them cheaper than she can buy English goods. It isn't love or loyalty that prompts that country to be such a large buyer of American goods—it is the advantages which accrue to it from the trade.—Norwich Conn., "Bulletin."

The coast defense monitor, Monadnock, has orders to leave Portland this week but the Monterey may remain for some weeks yet.

Wm. Mohr makes boots at his shop on Second street, Hillsboro, for $5.50 per pair, sewed shoes for $5, and gives special attention to repairing. He uses only first-grade stock which enables him to guarantee his work.

HAVE YOU USED
BUTTER PARCHMENT?

... All gilt-edged butter put on the market by creameries is wrapped in paper.
... The product of the private dairy would reach its market in much better condition if wrapped in Butter Parchment than it does when wrapped in cloth.
... Parchment is not only better than cloth, but cheaper.
... Cloth sells at 6 cents per yard, from which 27 sheets can be cut— 27 Parchment wrappers cost 3¼ cents.

500 Sheets, 8x11, - 55 cts
500 Sheets, 8x13, - - 60 cts

... The standard size for 2-pouud rolls is 8x11 inches; 2-pound blocks are wrapped in the 8x13 size.
... One reason why paper has not been generally used heretofore, farmers could not get it at the general store
... It is now kept at the Independent office cut to any size wanted.
