HILLSBORO INDEPENDENT.

FRIDAY, MAY 20, 1898

LOCAL AND GENERAL.

Miss Ramsey of East Portland is visiting this week with Mrs. W. D. Hare.

Miss Aiden Bennett of Portland was a guest of Miss Tongue over Sunday.

Mrs. Thos. H. Tongue is visiting at Jacksonville with her daughter, Mrs. Reams. She will be absent a fortnight or more.

Judge B. P. Cornelius was at Schulmerich's school house last Wednesday evening. He was looking after his fences.

The rain Saturday caught the soldier boys both at camp McKinley and the Presidio at San Francisco, but it did not ruffle their equnimity in the least. They were equal to the occasion.

Hon. W. N. Barrett is making speeches in Clackamas county this week in the interest of Congressman Tongue, who remains at Washington. He is kept there by the conditions growing out of the Spanish war.

Wm. Mohr makes boots at his shop on Second street, Hillsboro, for $5.50 per pair, sewed shoes for $5, and gives special attention to repairing. He uses only first-grade stock which enables him to guarantee his work.

Hon. H. V. Gates and wife are at The Dalles this week attending the state encampment, G. A. R. While in Wasco county Mr. Gates will make speeches in the interest of Mr. Moody, republican nominee for congress in the second district.

Piano recital—Miss Neally Stevens one of America's best pianists will give a recital at Pacific University, Forest Grove, Friday evening, May 20. Reserved seats 25 cents. Ticket on sale at Thompson's Bazaar. Orders by mail or telephone promptly attended to.

The great political meeting of the county is to be held in Beaverton next Friday May 27. The town expects to feed 2500 guests that day. It will require three beeves and six muttons to do it. People will be there from every part of the county. Hon. F. X. Schoonmaker, a man of national reputation will be the chief orator.

The Superintendent and officers of the congregational Sunday school are planning for a picnic excursion into the country. The day now selected is Saturday the 18th instant, though unfavorable weather may necessitate a postponment. The Tualatins Plains Presbyterian school has been invited to join in the merry-making.

Hon. F. X. Schoonmaker of New Jersey will make two speeches in Washington county, the first at Forest Grove this, Friday, evening at 8 o'clock and the second at Beaverton next Friday at 11 o'clock a. m. The speaker has a national reputation, and is said to be very lucid on the money question. He is able to do more than hold up a dollar and say it is worth 100 cents. He tells why it is worth as much as gold.

A golden wedding was celebrated last Wednesday evening at the residence of Calvin Adams. The guests were the members of the Congregation in Mr. Hugins's church and invited guests. Mr. Adams and his wife were married fifty years ago. Present on this occasion were his brother Rev. Wm. Adams, Mrs. Adams sister, both witnesses at the first ceremony, and several of the children of the aged couple. The presents were not gold baubles, but genuine gold coin. The evening was ideal and the guests who were of all ages, from the grey beard to the sleeping babe enjoyed the occasion to the fullest.

The Washington County Cycle Association made a path in April between Hillsboro and Cornelius which was anything but a success. Since it was smoothed with round point shovels, it was so full of bumps, small 'tis true, but bumps that riders were driven into the middle of the wagon road. Mr. Zena Wood, one of the committee in charge of the work was disappointed and commenced devising tools to smooth the rough places. He has succeeded. He constructed a sort of sled about 8 feet long and thirty inches wide to be drawn by horses. He uses two horses, tandem. About the middle of his sled he has placed a knife that acts something like a carpenters plane bit. This knife he can adjust so as to take a deep or slight cut. The path is left as smoothe as a board and there is not a sliver on it. The cyclers are delighted.

Dr. Linklater last Friday afternoon made a professional call at the residence of W. J. Robinson in West Butte. He was ready to ride at sundown, but the ladies of the house prevailed upon him to stop and eat supper. When he went out his team was gone, stampeded perhaps. Dr. Linklater accompanied by an employee from the farm, started on a hunt. For a time no trace of the runaways could be seen, but after a time the tracks were found. It was also noted that the team was carefully guided either by instinct or human hands for the roughest places in the road were passed with out loosing any of the rugs or wraps which were in the cart. The team was tracked to Sylvan three miles this side of Portland. Here the doctor left the search party and came home Next day he received a telephone message from Portland that his team had been found. It seems that the team had taken the hill road and entered the city by seventh street Portland. The cart had run against a telegraph pole and tipped over the horses jerked loose and were caught by a policeman and taken to the Fashion stables where they were recognized. The theory is that some one might have driven the horses from Robinson's to the outskirts of the city a distance of eight miles and there turned them loose. The team is not much injured but the cart is a wreck. Dr. Linklater has a snug reward for the discovery and conviction of the party that drove his team away.

These are the names of the young men who enlisted with the 2d Oregon Infantry, of Hillsboro. In company E, Edgar Bryan, lieutenant; private, Albert F. Doughty, James P. McGruder, Lanford Martin, Edgar L. Street; company F, Geo. H. Cronkite; company H, C. S. Doughty, Harry H. Heltzell, Roy Latham, Sydney M. Lace, Thos. R. Mann, Chas. P. Oliver, John W. Perkins, Chas. Purdin, Jesse M. Robinson, Peter, Albert and John Speirings and Eugene Skully. A squad from company E spent Friday night in Hillsboro and said good bye Saturday morning. The squad from company H came home Sunday to have a last look on familiar scenes. Citizens met them and as they gathered about the wagon preparatory to the return to camp, the old brass canon was run out and a salute fired. The parting was quite as serious as that of the next day when the last battalion boarded the train for California where a short tarry will be made before the voyage to the Pallippines is commenced. The soldiers had much attentions shown them at Portland. The churches gave each soldier a testament, and a liberal lunch to be eaten on the way to the Presidio.

Oregon women who last year entered the field, literally speaking, to work up the flax industry in the state have reason to be more than gratified thus far with the success that has attended their endeavor. They have made a name for Oregon flax that takes precedence over the product of any other section of the Union in which flax culture has been tried. With 140 acres of the best flax land in the state under crop, orders in hand for every ounce of fiber that can be produced, a fair degree of knowledge in regard to the cultivation of the plant and the preparation of the fiber for market, and reasonably adequate means at hand for preparing it, the association in charge of the movement certainly enters the season of 1898 well equipped for the work. It has furthermore been fully demonstrated that systematized, intelligent effort is all that is necessary to make fiber flax culture one of the growing and permanently profitable industries of the state.

A. T. Knox of Forest Grove had bad fortune last Friday evening. He was at Hillsboro attending the regular session of the odd fellows encampment of which he is a member but on reaching home he found that in his absence his house had been fired and burned with the entire contents. He saved nothing save the garments he wore. There was $400 insurance on the dwelling and contents, which is all that is left of several years of hard labor.

There is a new export from Hillsboro this week. A gardner from the sand pit near Sherwood came up and loaded a flat-car with manure from the livery stables. This is the first manure that has been taken so far away from home. It goes by rail through McMinnville to Whiteson, then north through Lafayette and Newberg to the sand pit, where it will again be loaded on wagons and delivered on the onion fields.

W. R. Jackson is building a new side walk and fence in front of his property on Main street. He will also tear down the old hovels that years ago were tenanted by Chinese.

Dr. Ward's dwelling at Forest Grove caught fire yesterday afternoon but fortunately it was put out before any great damage was done.

Mr. I. E. Burst has sold his meat market on Main street to Mr. H. Burson late of Missouri. Mr. Burst continues in business, buying, butchering and selling at wholesale in Portland. His son Ed. remains in the shop.

Rev. M. J. Ballatyne, of La Fayette will arrive on Saturday to hold the first quarterly meeting of the conference year in the United Evangelical church Preaching services on Sunday both morning and evening.

The home of C. Blazer was sad Tuesday when the message was delivered that Mrs. Blazer's mother who lived in Tillamook county was dead. Her home was so remote that none of the family here could reach it in time for the funeral.

License to wed were issued in Multnomah county last Wednesday to Henry G. Kent aged 29, of Polk county and Lucia Sawyer aged 20, of Multnomah county. Miss Sawyer formerly lived in this county and is well known in Hillsboro.

The case of the State v P. H. Hanson charged with the larceny of a string of suckers, a kind of fresh water fish, was tried before J. P. Savage, of South Tualatin yesterday. Dep. Dist. Atty. Bagley appeared for the State while Benton Bowman defended. Hanson was cleared.

Dr. E. DeWitt Connell, an eye and ear specialist of Portland, spent last Sunday with relatives north of town, preparatory to leaving the following Tuesday for a year's trip abroad to pursue studies along the line of his specialty in Berlin, Vienna, Paris, and London, where the advantages are unsurpassed for such work. On his return he will re-occupy his present offices in the Dekum, Portland.

Mr. A Davies of Beaverton was in town Wednesday transacting items of business preparatory to starting to Alaska next week. He is going in a company of 10 men to the mouth of the Yukon. There they will build a boat, put in machinery and go up the river prepared to dredge for gold. Bars will be prospected as well as the bed of the river. They go prepared to remain till 1899.

Jewels for jewels. Of course, and why not? In the natural order of things nothing else to be expected. My stock of jewels contains what are jewels with a large J. It's the season now when the belle of the ball weaves her spell and the beauty instinctively seeks the reinforcement of art. When it comes to jewelry we are floating down with the stream of fashion and are nothing if not correct. My stock wasn't purchased to keep. "Sufficient unto the season is the stock thereof." In my case "sell" is the order of business and sell I will. For the goods and the prices are right. Hoyt, the jeweler.

The annual Recreation Number of The Outlook has for many years been one of the finest illustrated issues of magazine literature. This year it will have as a prominent feature three articles by the winners of prizes in a competition instituted by The Outlook for the three best articles dealing with vacation life, illustrated by photographs taken by the authors. Twenty-five pages are devoted to these articles, and the many pictures are really extraordinary specimens of amateur photography. A novel and beautiful cover design, an illustrated article on "The Photographic Beauties of Objects in Motion," with many fine examples; Dr. Hale's "Lowell and His Friends;" an illustrated poem by Henry van Dyke; an out-of-doors story, and many other interesting and seasonable articles will be included. ($3 a year. The Outlook Company, 287 Fourth Avenue, New York.)

FARMINGTON.

Otto Tren has returned from Cal. after an absence of one year. He reports it rather dry down there, but says most of the farmers will raise seed and feed.

Mrs. Gambelia, whose house was destroyed by fire last week, is quite ill at Mr. J. H. Wilkins where she has taken up her temporary abode.

The Methodists held services in the church last Sunday. They gained six new members, which were baptized in Tualatin river.

Mr Fred Rood of Portland was visiting at home last Sunday.

John Simpson left for Portland last week where he has obtained a lucrative position.

Mrs. J. Pavogel who has been quite sick is convalescent.

A. Osmund was out from Portland last week, looking after interests on his ranch.

They're Built That Way.

When The Great Chicago Tailors, M. Born & Co., send out a man to take your measure—he,ll be an expert. If he wasn't that kind he could'nt keep his name on their pay roll. There'll be one of them at our store tomorrow, May 21, with their entire line, and if you'll rally at our store on that date, there will be plenty of stylishly dressed men in this community this season. Samples representing the entire monster line. Schulmerich & Son.

Dead Letter List.

The following is a list of letters remaining uncalled for in the postoffice at Hillsboro, May, 14, 1998:

Mr C. P. Johnson.
Mrs. Josie Barret.

All letters not called for by May 28, will be sent to the Dead Letter Office. One cent will be charged for each letter called for.

UPTON IS CONVICTED

Of Murder in The Second Degree.

JURY WAS OUT OVER 10 HOURS

DeJournette the Victim—Sentenced to the Penitentiary for Life—He was at Large 11 Years.

About 11 years ago, one DeJournette was killed in Columbia county by George Upton, and not until last Tuesday morning was the guilty man brought to trial.

Upton had been boarding with DeJournette and wife at a shingle camp at Clatskania. After a time DeJournette discovered that Upton was paying attentions to his wife and remonstrated, whereupon Upton became angry and being armed with a revolver shot DeJournette in the back of the head, killing him instantly.

Upton was arrested several years afterward but broke jail at St. Helens some three days before the day set for trial, three years ago. Upton was recaptured in Portland in January and his trial was commenced at St. Helens, May 3d, before Judge T. A. McBride. District Attorney Cleeton, for this district appeared for the state unassisted, and handled the case in an able manner. His path was beset with difficulties from the beginning of the trial to the end, as the crime had been committed eleven years before. No record of the coroner's inquest could be found, no doctor was at the inquest, no examination was made of the wounds and the only eye-witness of the crime, the wife of DeJournette, was shown to be a woman of bad reputation and but little credence could be given to her testimony. Attorney Cleeton closed the argument for the state in an able and logical manner at 9 o'clock last Saturday night.

The case was submitted to the jury which stood nine for murder in the first degree on the first ballot, and finally a compromise was affected and on Sunday morning a verdict of guilty in the second degree was returned. Monday morning Upton was sentenced to imprisonment for life in the penitentiary.

District Attorney is to be congratulated. It will be remembered that Mr. Cleeton was the attorney who so ably prosecuted Gus Wachline in this county assisted by his deputy and Hon. S. B. Huston, wherein a conviction of murder in the first degree was obtained and that Wachline expiated his crime on the 4th day of February at Hillsboro, Oregon. Mr. Cleeton is a tireless worker as his record will show. This work all being done by himself and his deputies excepting a very few instances where special counsel was imployed by private parties. He has not only been successful in these two important murder cases but his entire administration has been a successful one. Four cases have been appealed to the supreme court without a reversal and only one case dismissed by reason of a defective indictment. In T. J Cleeton the citizens of the fifth judicial district have found an able and conscientious officer and one of whom they may justly be proud.

The readers of this paper will be pleased to learn that there is at least one dreaded disease that science has been able to cure in all its stages and that is Catarrh. Hall's Catarrh Cure is the only positive cure now known to the medical fraternity. Catarrh being a constitutional disease, requires a constitutional treatment. Hall's Catarrh Cure is taken internally, acting directly upon the blood and mucous surfaces of the system, thereby destroying the foundation of the disease, and giving the patient strength by building up the constitution and assisting nature in doing its work. The proprietors have so much faith in its curative powers, that they offer One Hundred Dollars or any case that it fails to cure. Send for list of testimonials.
