Hillsboro Independent.

D. W. BATH. Editor and Proprietor.

The Corvallis Republican is one year old, and a bright and growing yearling at that.

J. F. Woods, of the Washington County News, was over from Forest Grove Monday and found time to give this office a fraternal call.

The Hillsboro Independent certainly looks well in its new dress. It has increased the appearance of the paper 100 per cent.—Tillamook Herald.

W. T. Fogle of the Forest Grove Times was in the city Monday. We regret that we were not in when he called at this office to give us the fraternal greeting. Glad you called, however.

Milton has more pretty girls than any other town in the state.—Milton Eagle.

And it is a safe bet that the writer of the above has not been outside of Milton in twenty years.

The Methodists rejected Fairbanks as a conference delegate because he served cocktails. Senator Booth of Oregon, who is under indictment by the United States grand jury, received recognition.—Woodburn Independent.

The Tillamook Herald, under its new management, is greatly improved and its publishers, Dolan & Murphy, promises greater changes for the better. The make-up of the paper shows care and is carefully edited. Success to the new owners.

Fred Mulkey is announcing his candidacy for U. S. senator on a calendar. Not a last year's calendar, but for all the good it will do him it might as well be. Mr. Mulkey has a host of friends who would like to see him land the nomination, but they do not take kindly to the almanac idea. If you want to advertise, get down to modern methods and leave Ayer's means of reaching the public to the patent medicine fiends.

Every town has its specimen and Newberg is not the only place that has one or more of the breed that we would all be glad to bid good bye. The Graphic says:

The fellow who has stood on the corners about Newberg for the past two or three years wearing a slouch hat and waiting for a grub chance to buy property at a bargain, now warns people who will stop to listen to his wail that prices are entirely too high. As a bit of information that shan't cost our friend a cent, we will say there are several places where real estate can be had for less money and walking is good. Delays are dangerous.

"The Hillsboro Independent came out last week in a brand new dress and very much improved in appearance generally. Bro. Bath publishes a good paper, and from the support indicated by his advertising columns it would seem that his efforts are appreciated, a fact which the many friends of The Independent will be pleased to note."

The above from so good a paper as the Hood River News-Letter is certainly appreciated by us. Hood River is not only a pushing, enterprising progressive city, but has two of the best weekly newspapers published in Oregon.

Editors in Oregon will no longer be required to publish the delinquent tax list. They were making too much money out of it and some poor fellow might get a chance to live on something better than printer's paste, and it would never do to have any of the boys too well fed. It seems that whenever a man gets his eyes open to the fact that economy is needed in public expenditure, he makes his first onslaught on the newspapers, and whenever a lot of such men get together, their economy always begins, and usually ends in an effort to reduce the fees of the papers for publications. This arises from the fact that publishers of papers so soon become wealthy and accumulate immense fortunes at such an extraordinary pace. But the time is not far off when the publishers of newspapers will be driven to unite for self preservation and see to it that the men whose hands are constantly raised against them are kept where they will do no harm. The State Press Association will assume this character or a more strictly business union will be organized. This is becoming imperative by the continued encroachments of politicians who seem to make a reputation for themselves at the expense of publishers.—Corvallis Republican

The Hillsboro Independent has raised its subscription price to $1.50 a year. A good newspaper, and well worth the money. The passing of the $1 subscription rate habeen hastened by the increased cost of white paper and the sharp advance in wages. The publishers who are giving their readers newsy papers find that no one objects to paying the higher rate. The Observer was one of the first to raise its subscription price after conditions had made it impossible to print a dollar paper at a profit, and our subscription list shows that not a single subscriber was lost by the change. The reading public is fair minded and does not ask the publisher to furnish his paper at less than the cost of production.—Dallas Observer.

You are right Bro, Hayter. Not a subscriber has stopped his paper since the raise in price, while on the other hand, six new names have been added to our subscription list and the cash was paid in advance in each instance. That's the kind of encouragement that makes the publisher wish to give his patrons the worth of their money.

To the Ladies.

I have demonstrated to the ladies of this city and vicinity what an up-to-date millinery establishment can do for them, and the very liberal patronage I am receiving is appreciated. My materials are the best I can procure. I have a first-class trimmer for the season and am told every day that my prices are more reasonable than at any other millinery store either in this city or in Portland. I guarantee, also, that all orders placed with me will be filled to your entire satisfaction.

MRS. IMOGENE BATH.

Romance, comedy, sensation, pathos, music, scenery, electrical effects and costumes seasoned with a reasonable quantity of powder and served by an excellent company of players, is what may be said of "The Cow-Puncher" to be seen at the Crescent Theatre, October 28.

"The Cow-Puncher," a play depicting life in Arizona, by Hal Reid, will be one of the events theatrically during the coming season at the Crescent. This play enjoyed a most prosperous season East last year and the producer, W. F. Mann, promises local theatre goers an attraction worthy in every particular.

The Two for $2.75.

The Hillsboro Independent and The Youth's Companion one year for $2.75. Old subscribers can take advantage of this splendid offer by paying their subscription one year in advance.

J. B. Jamieson had quite on exciting experience one day last week as he was coming down the hill this side of Sylvan in his two horse wagon, accompanied by W. R. Keefer, a neighbor. One of the singletrees came loose and hit one of the horses on the heels, which caused it to jump, pulling the neckyoke off and the tongue dropped. The sudden lurch threw both occupants out of the wagon. Mr. Jamieson was unharmed but Mr. Keefer sustained a fracture of his left arm. The horses lit out for home, leaving the wagon as they went, one piece in a place. They were found tied to the fence with one singletree, two hitched to one tug.

Mrs. Downing's school, after winning three out of four prizes at the Aster show, won all three of the pumpkin prizes and one corn prize at Beaverton last Saturday, making seven out of ten prizes.

The residents of Tigardsville and vicinity are mourning the absence for a few days of Monseur George W. Clarque, the musical prodigy, who has been cultivating his voice the past summer at the old McMahon house. Mr. Clarque has a wonderful voice, which the neighbors say has improved greatly from the effects of planting and cultivating 50 acres of potatoes. Night after night his voice could be heard floating in musical waves far out over the broad expanse of Fanno Creek Valley, or floating in billowy waves up the sides of Bull mountain, to be thrown back and echoed over toward Beaverton. Mr. Clarque expects to go to New York this winter to finish training his voice and may possibly go to Greenland to put on the finishing touches, where his voice will echo from one iceberg to another. When he condescends to return to Portland we will all be falling over ourselves to pay $5 a seat to hear him.

Badly Injured.

Hermann Braemer, a well-known farmer residing near the home of Albert Creiger, his son-in-law, on the mountain two miles west of Middleton, met with a serious, if not ultimately fatal, accident last Friday. Braemer was assisting in building a flue in a new residence on the place, and while so engaged slipped and fell upon a platform some four feet in height, and from thence to the floor, alighting upon his head and shoulders, producing unconsciousness temporarily and paralysis of the lower extremities afterward. Relatives decided to have him removed to a Portland hospital, owing to the serious nature of his injuries.

Ferd Langer, the wood sawyer, has disposed of his steam power outfit and bought the latest gasoline machine, accounted much superior in many respects. He has been sawing wood for local residents of the town for the past week.

T. I. Patterson is building a new residence for Henry Smith on the land recently acquired by the latter on the swamp by Solomon Weckert's place. The house will be two stories and modern in every respect and situated on a rise overlooking the onion district in that locality.

The new 60-horse power sawmill located half a mile south of the Middleton depot was opened up last week and made an initial sawing on Saturday. A spur will be laid from the railroad track near Dewey's place, thus allowing the loading of cars at the mill site.

Emil Jaeger, a farmer residing near Wilsonville, died on Thursday from the effects of pneumonia, after an illness of about two weeks. He leaves a wife, two children, parents and several brothers. The interment took place at Hoodville on Saturday.

A serious accident happened to Herman Braemer, a farmer residing with his son-in-law, Albert Creiger, on the mountains west of Middleton, Thursday afternoon. While carrying up brick for use in building a flue, he made a misstep near the top, fell upon a platform several feet below and thence pitched to the floor, alliting on his head and shoulders. When reached he was unconscious but revived soon afterwards when it was discovered that parlaysis of the lower limbs had taken place. He was removed to a Portland hospital where he is undergoing treatment, the outcome of which is problematical owing to the serious character of his injuries.

Peter T Meeks and Harnden Eyman, of this city, left during the week via cayuse transportation for Bay City, Tillamook county. They go by the Grand Round route and expect to be absent same three weeks, hunting and fishing in the mountains while not otherwise engaged.

Milton Kerns, a prominent farmer residing near Lafayette, Yamhill county, has been in town several days on a visit, returning home Tuesday evening by the south bound train.

George W. Saylor, local jeweler, has gone on a visit to Bellevue, Yamhill county, the home of an uncle, Robert Griffith. China pheasants are reported more plentiful and of a tamer variety in that locality, hence George expects to bag a decent number before returning home.

LATER—After Mr. Braemer was removed to the hobpital in Portland Saturday his condition did not improve, death resulting on Monday following. Funeral services were held here in the German Lutheran Church after which interment took place in the cemetery two miles west of town.

The local warehouse here is a scene of activity at the present time on account of farmers bringing in farm products for shipment. The onion crop is coming in rapidly, also some potatoes, but as yet hops have not begun to move very freely, however, there is no deficiency in the output.

Hard Times in Kansas.

The old days of grasshoppers and drouth are almost forgotten in the prosperous Kansas of today; although a citizen of Codell, Earl Shamburg, has not yet forgotten a hard time he encountered. He says: "I was worn out and discouraged by coughing night and day, and could find no relief till I tried Dr. King's New Discovery. It took less than one bottle to completely cure me." The safest and most reliable cough and cold cure and lung and throat healer ever discovered. Guaranteed by all drug stores. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free.

Auction Sale.

The undersigned will sell at Public Auction, on the Canyon Road, near the Poor Farm, on Saturday, October 26, 1907, at 10 o'clock a. m., the following property:

1 Gray Mare 5 years old, weight 1100; 1 Bay Horse, 6 years old, weight 950; 1 Bay Horse, 4 years old, weight 900; 40 head selected dairy cows, six fresh now and 5 to be fresh in November, the rest in milk; 1 milk wagon.

Terms.—All sums under $10, cash; over that amount 6 months' time on bankable note at 8 per cent.

Parson (on a bicycling trip)—Where is the other man who used to be here as keeper? Park Gatekeeper—He's dead, sir. Parson (with feeling)—Dead! Poor fellow! Joined the great majoritty, eh? Park Gatekeeper—Oh, I wouldn't like to say that, sir. He was a good enough man, as far as I know.—Punch.

Fox—There is one thing that I can say for Badger. Whenever he goes shooting his family is sure of game. Knox—Why, is he such a good shot? Fox—No. But it really doesn't make any difference whether he shoots anything or not, for if he doesn't get any game his wife makes game of him.

The Sunday school teacher was explaining to his Scottish class the parable of the man who fell among thieves. Then he asked the class why the priest and the Levite passed by on the other side. Silence fell—until the small boy said, "They knew he had been robbit already."

His Dear Old Mother.

"My dear old mother, who is now eighty three years old, thrives on Electric Bitters," writes W. B. Brunson, of Dublin, Ga. "She has taken them for about two years and enjoys an excellent appetite, feels strong and sleeps well." That's the way Electric Bitters affect the aged, and the same happy results follow in all cases of female weakness and general debility. Weak, puny children too, are greatly strengthened by them. Guaranteed also for stomach, liver and kidney troubles, by all Druggists. 50c.
