TRADE WAS VERY SMALL

Hop Market Is Less Active at Unchanged Quotations---Shipping Inquiry for Potatoes --- Produce is in Demand.

The closing week of October has failed to deelop any striking feature in the local business world. Trade on the whole seems to be rather fragging. In the wheat market there is not tivity usual at this season of the year, because buyers and sellers are apart in their nged prices. Fruits are quiet, with only a limited assortment available. Farm produce is doing better this week. The jobbing business in groceries is fairly good, but things lack light and clean up promptly.

WHEAT-Both the Portland and the interior eat markets are unusually dull. Farmers ness, but their anxiety does not go to the extent of offering over a parity with European markets. The consequence is that but little business can be consummated when the views of buyers and sellers are so far apart. Millers Receipts of dressed meats have been heavier are still buying wheat in the interior, but in than usual, and mutton has declined, but other emaller quantities.

Market conditions in Europe are thus report- as last quoted. ed by J. W. Rush, of London, in the Northwestern Miller of October 21:

There has, if anything, been a slight recovery in foreign wheat values during the week, but there is no general desire to operate, and is not likely to be until something definite be known with regard to the Argentine crop. Cables received yesterday state that the condition of the crop leaves nothing to desire, and if all goes well there is no doubt that the yield will account least seem's, which was about 100,000,000 goes well there is no doubt that the yield will exceed last year's, which was about 100,000,000 bushels, out of which about 65,000,000 bushels will have been exported by the end of the year. No credence is attached to the reports of an increase in the acreage of 80 per cent, compared with last year, this being regarded as impossible in the whole country, although there are authenticated isolated cases of an increase of from 20 to 25 per cent, partly at the expense of lineed, prices of which are no longer regarded as remunerative. The probability, however, of a surplus from the next Argentine crop (to be reaged/fin December) of 10,000,000 quarters or more is sufficient to check speculabor buying, and so the trade continues to pursus a hand-to-mouth policy. The shipments to Europe have been enormous during the last four weeks, averaging 1,300,000 quariers a week, which includes no less than 800,000 quarters a week from Russia and Rou-mania, 150,000 quarters a week from India, arts are swelling visibly, and on November 1 ill not be far short of 2,000,000 quarters in e Russian ports alone. The world's visible supply October 1 proves be somewhat larger than expected, owing to be increase in the Russian stocks, but the merican and Canadian portion has only once een amaller than it now is in recent years, Barley is unchanged. HOPE-This market was decidedly active at reased somewhat in the last few days. Mail advices from Germany figure the Bavarian hop ordy at 222,884 cwt., compared with 271,896 in 1902. From another source the Baof last year. The official estimate of the Eng sh 1903 crop is 421,000 cwt., against 311,000 third. Advance figures from Washington indicate that the beer sales for Weptember were figurd at about 13 per cent.

WOOL-The American Wool and Cotton Reorter of October 22 said of the Boston mar-

the volume of business transacted the past week foots up a yery fair total, owing to the ring of a few good-sized lines of territories w Australian crossbreds, the latter being for pment abroad. Rumors of other large sales ere current, but they cannot be traced to any eliable source, and wool merchants generally, going, report trade as very inactive. The sea-son thus far has been a disappointing one, as manufacturers are still determined to pursue a conservative policy in the purchasing of wools, especially those making worsteds.

The Reporter quotes Oregon wools at Eastern seaboard markets as follows: Enstern staple. 17617%c; Eastern Oregon choice clothing. Inc.

Valley Oregon No. 1, 20921c; do No. 2, 230 23%c; do No. 3, 21%@22c; do lamba, 16@17c. PRODUCE-Farm produce of all kinds is in good demand. The last few days have seen an specially lively inquiry for poultry. Turkeys, ducks and seems came in quite plentifully, but quotations were easily maintained. Chickens ere inclined to be scarce. The egg market is in the same shape as a week ago, fresh Oregon ranch stock being scarce, and Eastern eggs plentiful. It is the abundance of the Eastern article that prevents any advance in Oregons.

The shipping movement in potatoes is under way, but whether it is permanent or tempowery remains to be seen. Liberal shipments were made on the last two steamers to San Francisco, and about 2000 sacks will go down on the next boat. The present California demand for Oregon potatoes is due to the scarcity of good Salinas at San Francisco, the potatoes of that variety reaching the market being wormy and generally poor. mand on this state may not last long. The fruit trade has been as good as could be expected at this time of year with changeable weather. Grapes were especially abundant, and the best offerings moved well, but many of the local shipments were not in the best condition views. The hop trade is moderately active at Apples are coming forward quite freely and sell readily at quotations. Oranges are in good demand, but will be none too plentiful until the new crop arrives. quariers a week from Hussia and Roumania, 150,000 quarters a week from India, and only 305,000 quarters weekly from America and Canada. These figures, of course, include flour.

There are no signs, however, of accumulating stocks in this country. On the contrary, the quarierly stock returns October 1 show an unexpected reduction in first-hand stocks in the ports, where the total instead of being 2,300,000 quarters, as expected by many, proves to be only 1,850,000 quarters of wheat and flour.

There is, in fact, no longer any doubt that the consumption of foreign wheat this season in the United Kingdom will be very large. The English crop this season is, for the most part,
of wretchedly poor quality, as is evidenced by the fact that a certain proportion of the country.

Another reason for a large consumption of flored is to be found in the finiture of the potato crop, the effects of which will be more acute
as the season progresses, because the potatoes will not keep, and still sanother reason is the high price of fruit and meat.

In Prance there is much variance in the crop settimates, which are from 45,000,000 to 51,000,300 quarters. Meanwhile prices in that country remain quite below an importing level, except at Marseilles.

NET CHANGES ARE SMALL

EFFECT OF ST. LOUIS SITUATION ON STOCKS.

Traders Show a Waiting Attitude Rather Than Disposition to Sell -- Money for Crop Movement.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28 .- The effect of the St. Louis situation on the stock market was somewhat obscure today. The expressions of cor fidence over night from that center that the situation is sound had a reassuring effect on the early trading, and prices hardened. The opening of business in St. Louis, which was later, owing to the difference in time, was followed by a reaction in stocks. The very heavy withdrawals of currency from this center by St. Louis carried the level of prices of stocks generally below last night. But the last hour of the market showed the best prices of the day, the morning level being generally exceeded by a fraction. In the final dealings, prices yielded ogain, and the closing was rather easy. A survey of price changes will show that the fidence over night from that center that the A survey of price changes will show that the whole newement was very trivial, and not changes were small, except in a few cases. The duliness of the market in itself a reflection in some sort of the meertainy felt over the St. some sort of the uncertainy folt over the St. Louis situation, which prompted a waiting attitude rather than a disposition to sell. There was no selling which was attributed to St. Louis account, unless it might have been in American Car. The quarterly report of net earnings of the Pressed Steel Car Company, showing them to be less than half of those for the corresponding quarter last year, naturally had a sympathetic effect on American Car, as well as weakening the Pressed Steel Car stocks. On the other hand, the stocks of the Gould Southwestern railways, centering in St. Louis, were among the few features of positive strength in the market, although there was nothing to show that there was any significance local to St. Louis attaching to the movement. Pennsylvania was also strong, and Peometr. ment. Pennsylvania was also strong, and Peo-ple's Gas had an early advance on a favorable court decision.

The speculative movement in Amaigamated Copper might be classed as marking time, and the dealings in the stock were in much dimingraphic transfers to that city from here through the Subtreasury of $2,100,000. Banks are also known to be shipping heavily through other chainels. This is a plain intimation that the Western erop movement needs, though long de-ferred, are making large inroads on local bankferred, are making large inroads on local bank-ing reserves, quite aside from the emergency requirements at St. Louis. It was not surpris-ing, therefore, that the rate for call money should rise to 5 per cent this afternoon and the rate for time money grow distinctly firm. The rise in local money rates may have con-tributed to the sharp break in sterling ex-change, although the offerings of cotton bills and 100 lower. PLACING BAN ON SOCIALISM. Russia Permits Rabbis to Call Convention to Suppress It.

NEW YORK, Oct. 28.-The Jewish Morning Journal tonight received from its Warsaw correspondent the following cable dispatch:

"The rabbl of Poltava has received from Minister von Plehwe permission to call a rabbinical congress to be held in Gredne for the purpose of devising means that will tend to suppress the constantly increasing spread of socialism and Zionism among the Jewish Inhabitants of Russia.' Commenting on the dispatch, the Morning Journal says this so-called permission which the rabbi received, actually amounts to an order directing that the congress be held. The rabbi of Poltsva is known as a strong opponent of both socialism and Zionism. Continuing, the paper, which is usually well posted on matters concerning Russia, says:

"Von Piehwe wants all of the rabbis of Russia to put a ban on these two move-ments, in the hope that the Jews at large will become more loyal to its tyrannical and despotic rule."
