Mayse Wins Again

Appeal of the U. S. government from decision of the federal district court in Oregon that tax liens took priority over purchase of land by the United States, was lost in a ruling by the federal circuit court of appeals at San Francisco.

The case involved lands granted in 1869 by the government to the state of Oregon in exchange for construction of a military road from Coos Bay to Roseburg. A. J. Mayse, S. L. Leartherman and Otto E. Parry were found to have tax liens which the United States must satisfy before it gains title to the land by re-purchase from the Southern Oregon company.

Federated Club Program

Speakers of outstanding prominence, both men and women, have been secured for the twenty-fifth annual convention of the Oregon Federation of Women's Clubs which opens in Marshfield, Monday, June 1st, and continues over Thursday afternoon.

B. F. Irvine, editor of the Oregon Journal, will speak of "The American Home," the chairman of that department in the Federation, Mrs. Jessie D. McComb, of Corvallis, presiding.

Dr. Jonah B. Wise, of the Temple Beth Israel, Portland, will speak on "The Future of America," this being a repetition of the lecture given by Dr. Wise at the annual guest day meeting of the Tuesday Afternoon club of Portland recently.

Miss Celia Gavin, city attorney of The Dalles, will speak on "International Relations and American Citizenship" at the Tuesday evening session, which will be presided over by Mrs. Charles H. Castner of Hood River, a former president of the Federation.

Mr. C. C. Colt, of Portland, president of the Doernbecher Hospital Guild, will tell of the need for that institution and of the plan for endowing it.

Dr. Walter Brown, nationally known sciologist and child health authority, who is conducting a Child Demonstration in Marion County, will present some phases of child health.

Mrs. Sadie Orr-Dunbar, president of the Federation, will preside at all sessions assisted by the vice presidents, Miss Grace H. Chamberlain, of Ashland, and Mrs. Louis E. Bean, of Eugene, and by Mrs. Ida B. Callahan, of Corvallis, a past president, and Mrs. A. Y. Myers, president of the Marshfield Club.

Miss Grace Phelps, chairman of the department of Public Welfare, will report the work of that department and Dr. Brown will speak on her program. Mrs. Alexander Thompson, chairman for the department of legislation, will report on that department and Senator Charles Hall will speak. The art division of the department of fine arts will be reported by the chairman, Mrs. E. P. Mossman; Mrs. J. L. Fairbanks will report for the billboard committtee and Mrs. W. H. Braiger will report for the music division.

Mrs. J. A. Churchill, chairman of the department of applied education, will present a report as will also several of her assistant division chairmen. The department of press and publicity, Miss Vella Winner, chairman will devote considerable time to a discussion of the official organ of the Federation, The Oregon Federation News. Luncheon conference will be held by this department and by the departments of American Citizenship and the department of the American Home.

The scholarship loan fund, Miss Jessie McGregor, chairman, will have a prominent place on the program as will the report of the endowment fund, Mrs. Arthur H. Johnston chairman. Excellent music will feature all programs this being furnished by Marshfield and Portland artists.

The North Bend Federation of Women's clubs, the Alert club and the Rainbow club will give the delegates a dinner at North Bend Tuesday evening. A beach supper will be a feature provided by the Marshfield club. Election of officers will take place Thursday, the polls to be open from 9 a. m. until 1 p. m. Little interest is manifested in the election as it is the custom to re-elect all officers for a second term.

Calling Cards, 100 for $1.50.

MYRTLE POINT ITEMS

Monday evening the grandmothers and great grandmothers of the Rebekah Lodge entertained the younger members with an old Colonial program, which consisted of some interesting numbers. First there was a lot of fancy marching. The crowning of the great grandmothers, Mrs. Noel, Mrs. Leach and Mrs. Prey, under the May Pole came next, followed by a song entitled "Old Fashioned Dears." The concluding numbers proved to be of unusual benefit. A recitation "Long Ago" was followed by a minuet and an old Southern "Hoedown." The women who took part in the entertainment wore powdered wigs and were dressed in crepe paper costumes of quaint design. The participants were: Mesdames N. G. W. Perkins, Lloyd Spires, W. W. Baynes, C. C. Carter, Jess Clinton, Ralph Racklefff, Al Miller, Harriet Harris, Frank Hazlewood, William Weekley, S. U. Alsee with Mrs. Gus Hamilton as pianist.

J. L. Jackson, of Marshfield, was a business visitor in this city Tuesday afternoon.

Albert Bright, who suffered from a paralytic stroke last week, died Saturday at the Clarke hospital.

Miss Leah Heather, of Coquille, came up to Myrtle Point with her brother, George, Tuesday.

The Commencement exercises of the high school were held at the Hiland theatre Friday, May 22nd. There was not seating capacity in the large hall to accommodate the enormous crowd, so many persons were obliged to stand outside. Twenty-one students received their diplomas, which were presented by Dr. Oliver Clarke. The address given by F. A. Magruder proved to be very interesting as well as educational. At the end of the program the ushers, Dena Mast, Lorna Harris, Vernita Laird, Ardyce Clinton, Lila Dement, Alice Noaler, Wilda Barker and Maybelle Dey presented the bouquets and gifts to the graduates.

Pullets 2 months old, from trapnested White Leghorn hens, $1 each. S. B. Leeper, Bandon, Oregon.

Last Monday morning Mrs. W. W. Baynes, Mrs. Benson and Mrs. Pearl Hendricks went out to the Rebekah state lodge convention at Ashland and returned Friday. They report a very delightful trip.

Lela Kirk, Maybelle Dey and Wayne Robinson went to Powers Sunday afternoon.

The construction of the new Union high school building under the supervision of Joe Heckart, began Monday. As there is such a scarcity of work at this time, men from all over the county have applied for positions.

Miss Marianna Steele, who has been confined at her home for several days, is rapidily improving.

Lon Schriefer was a business visitor in Powers Monday.

Elbert Dean, of Norway, drove up to Myrtle Point Tuesday afternoon.

Anne Johnson, a telephone operator, is taking her vacation this week.

Charles Hall, president of the Coos and Curry Telephone Co., visited the Myrtle Point office Tuesday.

Mrs. A. A. Schriefer went to Lakeside Saturday evening and returned Tuesday.

Jay Schriefer is visiting in Marshfield with his brother.

Mrs. W. R. Mast came down from McKinley Friday. She intends to manage the Plumber's shop during her uncle's absence.

William Allen Bright

William Allen Bright was born in Decatur, Iowa, July 26, 1862, and passed away at his home here in Gravel Ford, May 23rd, 1925, at the age of 62 years, 9 months, 27 days.

When but nine years of age he crossed the plains and came to Oregon. His family first went to California and in 1871 came to the North Fork here in Coos county. On September 14, 1884, he married Sarah Ellen Culbertson, and to this union seven children were born, all of whom with the widow are left to mourn his loss.

The children are: John E., San Jose, California; Mrs. Roxie E. Stinson, Powers; Mrs. Millie Childs, Coquille; Sylvester P., Zeno, Alden and Dorothy Stevents, all of Myrtle Point; and three sisters: Mrs. Thomas Tucker, Neuman, California; Mrs. Lucretia Geisman, Decatur, Iowa; and Mrs. Martha A. Brady, Grants Pass, Oregon. There are also many nieces, nephews and grandchildren.

Mr. Bright was known and loved by a host of friends and was never known to refuse any call for aid that came to him.

Funeral services were held at Gravel Ford Sunday, May 24, 1925, at 2:00 p. m., and interment was made in the Gravel Ford cemetery.—Myrtle Point American.

Court of Honor Friday

A court of honor for advancing four Boy Scouts was held in the city hall here last Friday evening, with Scout Executive H. Ricksecker, J. J. Stanley and Ned C. Kelley, as examining officials.

Clarence Barton was awarded a merit badge for firemanship; George Pankey one in public health; James Galbraith one in first aid to animals, and Harold Stevens was advanced to a second class scout.

Marshfield Not to Celebrate

Marshfield merchants are overwhelmingly opposed to any sort of Fourth of July celebration, according to questionnaires returned to the chamber of commerce. Of 100 questionnaires sent out to merchants, 23 have been returned to date, Secretary Earl W. Murphy announced. Of these 16 oppose any celebration, while 7 are in favor of some sort of celebration.—Daily News.

He Married the Girl

Alleged to have contributed to the delinquency of a juvenile, Theodore Burr, North Bend, minor, was to have been arraigned before the grand jury here this week. It is stated, however, that Burr has married the girl in the case, Irma Smith, of Eastside, and the charge against him has been dropped.
