Turkey's Licorice Root.

Thousands of tons of licorice root, an article that by the natives generally is esteemed a pest and worse than worthless, are annually gathered in Turkey for exportation to America for use in the manufacture of chewing and smoking tobacco, as well as for flavoring confectionery and beer. The principal collecting stations are Bagdad, Alexandretta and Smyrna, at which places the exporters maintain offices, hydraulic presses and warehouses. The business is largely controlled by an American concern.

Local Talent goes to Riverton

The Elliott Stock company, composed of local talent under the direction of Edson Elliott, went to Riverton Saturday night where they put on the play which they produced here some time ago, entitled "The Cowboy and the Lady." The members of the cast were: Misses Violet Robbins, Geneva Bither and Josephine Thom and Messrs. Edson Elliott, Earl and Keith Leslie, Earl Schroeder, Leland Jackson and Roy Avery. All carried their part well and the performance went off in a splendid manner considering the disadvantages under which the company worked, owing to the lack of proper equipment. Saturday night was Miss Thom's first appearance with the local company, although she has had some experience in this line, having played for a time with the Margaret Iles company. She proved herself to be a splendid addition to the cast. After the show the floor was cleared and the crowd danced until a late hour, the music being furnished by an orchestra taken from here. Mr. Elliott expresses it as his intention to make the Riverton show and dance a regular monthly occurence. He also intends to produce his plays at Norway. The steamer Coquille was chartered for the trip and quite a number of young people accompanied the players from here

"Little Folks" Party

The L. O. M. S girls held a very jolly "eight year-old" meeting at the home of Miss Olive Howey last Friday afternoon. Six little girls and two little "boys" had a merry time for several hours with tag, blind man's buff and other games suited to the youth of the participants. Those that returned to their early childhood in such an enjoyable way were Mildred Norton, Aouda McCabe, Vera Kelley, Olive Howey, Myrtle Cunningham, Dorothy Snow, Mary Levar and Mary Fussonne.

A Full Cargo

Saturday night A. P. Miller, our city marshall, took a logger in tow who had over a gallon of concealed liquor in his possession; that is, Miller states the booze was inside the logger, so he arrested him for drunkenness which the man didn't seem to appreciate very much and tried to retaliate with a knife, but he was easily overpowered and spent Saturday night in the city jail.

Bids Opened Tonight

The city council will meet tonight to open and consider the bids on $17,000 water bonds. At noon today two bids were in the hands of Recorder Lawrence. In the absence of Mayor Morrison the meeting will submit to the gentle ministrations of Jesse Beyers, chairman of the council.

Industrial Work Forwarded

L. P. Harrington, who was sent here from the office of the State Superintendent of Public Instruction in the interest of the children's industrial fairs, left Friday by way of Marshfield and Mapleton for Grants Pass, where he was scheduled to attend a large meeting.

Working in conjunction with County Superintendent Baker, he did much very effective work during his stay in Coos and expressed himself as highly pleased at the spirit he found existing in the schools.

On his trip down the river last week he organized a club at Bandon including four rooms of the high school, with Miss McKay as advisor.

At Prosper, he organized a club with the following officers: John Goodman, president; Dora Young, vice president; Florence James, secretary; Courtland Smith, treasurer. A sewing club for little girls will al so be a feature of the industrial activities at this school.

At Lampa, Mr. Harrington found a club already organized.

Eventful Voyage

After a four hour's run from Riverton the boys arrived at this city about noon Sunday none the worse for their terrible experience.

Electric Mill Starts

Eugene McAllister who arrived here yesterday from Brookings, the new town in Southern Curry county, says the modern electric mill is running one side of the plant and it is capable on that shift of sawing 60,000 feet of lumber a day. The mill has been shipping occasional cargoes to San Francisco on the steam schooner Brooklyn and a large number of ties were included in the consignments. Recently the mill has been running on dimension timbers for the huge dock the company will build at a cost of $2,000,000. The mill is run by electricity and the fuel is oil. The Brooklyn brought 100 tons of oil for the company on her last visit. Mr. McAllister states that many are leaving Brookings, owing to the high cost of living, and says workmen in general cannot save any money above their regular expenses. Three others came out with Mr. McAllister.—The Record.

Views Wanted

Have you any fine scenery in your vicinity? During the present year Oregon will be visited by a great army of tourists and it is desirable that they be encouraged to visit every part of the state if possible. The Press Bureau of the Portland Commercial Club would like to receive a brief description of the notable scenic attractions in every community in the state. In addition to the description, state how the scenery may best be reached, whether by train, trolley or automobile and its approximate distance from principle points.

Seaweed Fertilizer

Assuming that in the near future the present fertile farms of Western Oregon will be in urgent need of fertilizing materials, State Engineer Lewis has recommended that some action be taken to make use of the great kelp beds along the Oregon coast in order to save the enormous amount of potash which is annually going to waste. He states that it is comparatively easy to procure supplies of nitrates and phosphates, but the principle source of potash is now closed by the war. It is believed the kelp beds can be made to produce enough potash for present and future needs and may also open up a new and profitable industry.

Basket Ball

It was a very one-sided basket ball game which took place here Thursday evening when the local high school quintet defeated the North Bend team 37 to 13. The first half the score was quite close and the game very interesting; at the end of this half Coquille had 13 points to North Bend's 10; but in the second the home boys piled up the points in a manner most gratifying to their supporters.

Next Saturday the boys go to Bandon to play the team there which they defeated so decisively here earlier in the season. However, Bandon has defeated every other team on their floor, their latest victory being over North Bend last Friday night, and the game Saturday night will undoubtedly be a close one. An excursion boat will be run from here.

Duck Season Extended

The hunters on the Coquille will no doubt be glad to learn that a letter received from C. R. Barrow says the duck season has been extended two weeks. It is little enough at that, but every little bt helps.

The Herald's clubbing offer of four magazines at an extra cost of 25 cents for one year is proving a winner.
