As will be seen by the notice in this issue of the GRAPHIC, David Lamb administrator for the estate of the late Cyrus Lamb deceased, will sell at public auction on Saturday, Jan. 16th, the twenty acre tract of land out north of town belonging to the estate. The subject of changing the location of the college has been the general topic of conversation on the streets for the past week. While great interest is manifested, we are glad to note the general good feeling which prevails. The fact that a matter of this kind which is of general interest, can be freely discussed without warm words, speaks well for the community.

The Rural Northwest comes to us this week full of matter of intesest to the farmer and fruit grower. We can only offer this paper with the GRAPHIC up to January 1st, and we hope all our subscribers will avail themselves of this opportunity to get a first class paper at a very low figure. Dr. Wm. Ellis' Liniment cures cancers, (if applied in time) cancer warts, tumors on man or beast, bruises, stiffness of joint, fistula on horses, and often removes enlargements of the bone. Is a good liniment for rheumatism and all aches and pains, will not eat or remove the hair on animals. This is a remedy prepared and used by Dr. Wm. Ellis during a constant practice of 35 years. Try it. For sale by Delphina E. Ellis near Friends' Boarding Hall. Also by G. M. Bales first door west of the bank building, First Street, Newberg, Oregon.

Let all our fruit growers remember the meeting of the Horticultural society Saturday afternoon. Jesse Edwards, Elisha Smith and E. H. Skinner will discuss the question, "What is the Future Prospects of the Fruit Industry," and E. W. Weesner, George Stabler and Cyrus Hoskins will talk on "Concerted Action in the Sale of Fruit." Both subjects are full of interest to all fruit growers and others as well and there ought to be a large crowd and a very interesting time. Come out and bring a neighbor with you.

We are requested to announce that a meeting is called for tonight at the public school building to discuss the question of the improvement of our streets. Anyone can see at a glance that there is lots of room for improvement and the question may very properly be discussed. We understand that Dorrance Bros. offer to plank River street from the top of the hill at the river to First street, if the town will finish it up First and Main streets to the depot. This is certainly a very liberal offer on their part.

Thomas Roberts sold his farm at the foot of Bald Hill last week, to Mr. Haworth lately from Illinois, and Zimri Mills. The consideration was $9000. Although Mr. Roberts realizes a profit of $5000. on the place, he says he would not have thought of selling even at that price, had it not been for the necessity of making a change on account of his wifes health. They will go south, probably to Florida, where it is to be hoped Mrs. Roberts may be permanently benefited. They have many friends here who will be sorry to see them go but who will wish them well wherever they may go.

Henry Austin and new wife will now be found at their home on the corner of Second and Center streets. Henry showed us an armful of big yellow ears of corn Wednesday morning that brought to mind the days of yore when we lived in the land of "hog and hominy" and the old refrain, "pig-oole" came to our mind at once. The corn was a sample of 600 bushels raised on the opposite side of the river by George Eberhardt on twelve acres of land. The samples we saw were just as they were gathered from the field and were dry and the grain solid on the cob. Mr. Eberhardt is feeding thirty head of hogs for market.

Just where the old hen had been for the past month we are unable to state, but we noticed one sitting out in the middle of the street last Wednesday apparently with the view of soaking her webs for winter travel. On a closer examination it was found that there was a "hen on" and that she was likely to remain there unless relief came for she was stuck in the mud. Riley Smith helped the unfortunate out of her predicament, and the mud, and the last seen of her she was looking for the parties who are getting up the meeting for Friday night for the purpose of discussing the question of the improvement of streets.

We want every mother to know that croup can be prevented. True croup never appears without a warning. The first symptom is hoarseness; then the child appears to have taken a cold or a cold may have accompanied the hoarseness from the start. After that a peculiar rough cough is developed, which is followed by the croup. The time to act is when the child first becomes hoarse; a few doses of Chamberlain's Cough Remedy will prevent the attack. Even after a rough cough has appeared the disease may be prevented by using this remedy as directed. It has never been known to fail. 50 cent and $1 bottles for sale by C. F. MOORE, & Co.

Died.

Again the community mourns and sympathizes with the family of a neighbor who mourn over the loss by death of a loved one. Little Ruth Stanley, the three year old daughter of Calvin Stanley, whose home is on River street, died on last Monday morning after a short illness. Dr. McConnell was the attending physician and on Sunday Dr. Michaux, of La Fayette, was called for consultation with him. They were unable to determine just what to call the disease as it was a complicated case of sore throat and fever. The loss of the little one is a sore trial to the family, as she was the youngest and a favorite with all. The funeral services were held at the residence on Tuesday at 10 o'clock a. m. and were conducted by President Thomas Newlin.

While we are anxious to avoid saying anything that may unnecessarily alarm anyone, we think it best to give warning where justice demands it. Lee Stanley was taken sick Monday morning and Dr. McConnell pronounces the disease a clear case of scarlet fever. Clarence Edwards was taken sick on the same day and his symptoms are the same. Neither are considered at all dangerously sick and care is being taken that the disease may not be spread. Just how these young men contracted the disease is a mystery that cannot be accounted for. With proper precaution, it seems that it need not go any farther and it is with a view of putting the public on their guard that we make this statement, believing as we do, that there is nothing to be gained by endeavoring to cover up unpleasant news of this kind.

Frank Mills returned from Puyallup, Washington yesterday, where he has been for some time selling nursery stock for the Newberg nursery.

MARRIED: On Wednesday, December 16, 1891, at the residence of the brides father at Pleasant Hill, Clackamas county, Mr. Samuel Galbreath, of Tualitin, to Miss Jennie McE. Graham, Mr. Frank Kruse, J. P. performing the ceremony. After the ceremony, the happy couple received the congratulations of the guests present, who consisted of relatives and a few near friends of the bride and groom. An excellent supper was spread before the guests to which they did ample justice. Miss Graham is well and favorably know here, having formerly been proprietor of the Newberg House and station agent for the P. & W. V. R. R. Her many friends wish her a long and blissful life.

Signal Station.

Some time ago we received a letter from B. S. Pague, of the Signal Station, at Portland, stating that he thought we ought to have a station at Newberg and that if we would recommend some one who would take charge of the office and receive the dispatches and display the flags, he would recommend that the appointment be made. We accordingly confered with Samuel Hobson, the photographer, who consented to take the place and we sent his name forward to Mr. Pague. Last Wednesday Mr. Hobson received information that he had been appointed to the place and that flags and the necessary instructions regarding their display would be forwarded at once. On and after the 21st inst., telegrams will be received daily giving the forecasts for the next twenty-four hours and the flags will be displayed from the flag pole on Hoskins' new brick building. Judging from the kind of weather we have been having for the past month it is quite likely that the flags will not be to change very often this winter.

UNION ITEMS.

Cherries and strawberries in bloom. Look out for strawberries and cream.

The Abernethy boys are making it hot for the old line boats in the way of freight.

A. Carr and sons are making prairie with their grubbing machine. Those who want clearing done would do well to give them a call.

Christmas tree at the Union church on christmas eve. Come one and all. A good program will be executed. The judge of police will be on hand to amuse the boys and girls. One of the grandest plays will be executed ever produced on the Pacific coast, as well as other amusements too numerous to mention.

OLD MOSSBACK.

"Of course it hurts, but you must grin and bear it," is the old time consolation given to persons troubled with rheumatism. "If you will take the trouble to dampen a piece of flannel with Chamberlain's Pain Balm and bind it on over the seat of pain your rheumatism will disappear," is the modern and much more satisfactory advice. 50 cent bottles for sale by C. F. MOORE, & Co.
