Local Events.

J. W. Coffin was down from Wendling last Sunday for a short visit with his family.

J. B. Brooks is building a good residence on the corner east of the H. R. Morris residence.

C. C. Sloan was down from Monmouth last Sunday visiting with his daughter, Mrs. George C. Ritchey.

Miss Eunice Lewis came home from St Vincents hospital last week and is showing some improvement.

The dog census it taken in Newberg without fear or favor would make prominent a rapidly growing industry.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Lucas of Salem, who recently came from Hollister, California, visited W. A. Bales and family a few days last week.

W. O. Robertson arrived home from Dallas Wednesday morning, where he spent two weeks at the saw in the Spaulding Co's mill in that city.

E. W. Launer, who recently bought a lot on the corner of Fifth and Blaine streets where the furniture factory was located, is building a good sized residence.

Emory Hodson has gone to Seattle to again take a position in a drug store. He has followed this business so long that he is lost when out of a nostrum shop for any length of time.

Word comes from Waitsburg, Washington, that Andrew Pickett who has been in a low state of health for a long time, is now laying in an unconscious state and that the end is considered near.

The funeral of jens Hanson, the father of our fellow townsman, H. O. Hanson, was held at the Baptist church last Sunday afternoon. The deceased was born in Denmark and was seventy-three years of age.

The pupils of Miss Jessie Britt and Mrs. C. B. Wilson, some twenty in number, gave a recital at the home of Mrs. Wilson one evening last week which was enjoyed to the fullest extent by the little folks.

George Sykes spent a part of last week in the timbered district in the foothills of the Coast mountains in the upper part of the county, and incidentally made the purchase of a 200 acre tract of timber.

J. C. Sanders who recently bought the Mrs. Ella Palmer property on River street has had a force of men at work remodeling the house and making it more homelike. When completed it will be very much improved in appearance.

In order to keep the fire whistle in proper tune the city council has ordered it to be blown every day at the noon hour. Such a course may prove to be hard on the dogs about town but probably they can accustom themselves to it.

A recent letter from J. Aubrey Kramien, who is assistant secretary of the Y. M. C. A. at Bloomington, Illinois, states that he expects to bring his family home to spend the vacation during the summer. He reports the work to be in a prosperous condition and says he is enjoying it.

The public library committee is busy with making arrangements for holding a society circus at the rink on Friday and Saturday nights of next week. The program will be complete, with parade, side shows and all other accessories necessary to produce two full hours of side splitting merriment. The proceeds go for the benefit of the public library, in which every family in the whole community is deeply interested. The committee will appreciate the interest shown if you will talk it up among your neighbors.

Mrs. Mary White is visiting with her son at Scotts Mills this week.

Nelson Brouillette and wife arrived home from an extended visit at his former home in Kansas, Wednesday evening.

Lee Fortune, a brother of W. E. Fortune, who arrived here recently with his family from Missouri has bought the Alfred Wheeler property on South Main street and is preparing to be one of us.

A traveling man who made a canvass of the homes of Newberg recently complimented our town very highly on the well painted residences and well kept lawns, saying he had not seen the equal anywhere. There is still room for improvement on every hand however, and we hope the city fathers will not take it for granted that a clean up day is not a necessity this spring.

Enos Ellis has resigned his position as carrier on mail route number two and as C. H. Christenson is on the available list he will no doubt get the place. I. E. Holt, carrier on number three also contemplates resigning soon if he has not already done so.

W. W. Hollingsworth has purchased an undertakers casket wagon which arrived here this week direct from Cincinnati. It is of the latest design, having easy springs and rubber tires, and will be a great convenience, as Newberg has never before had a wagon of the proper kind for moving caskets from the trains to the undertaking parlors.

E. L. REQUA
The new pastor of the Friends church at Springbrook.

The Leach and Wilkins farm of two hundred acres located in West Chehalem, five miles from Newberg, and formerly known as the Andrew Johnson farm, has been sold to Portland parties for $115 per acre. It is reported that the purchasers intend to cut it up into small tracts and sell it out. It already has a fair sized walnut grove on it.

Prof. R.W. Kelsey, a brother of President W. I. Kelsey, a former instructor in Pacific College who will complete a three years history course in the University of California this year, has been elected as a member of the faculty of Haverford College for next year. While we regret to see him leave the Pacific Coast we are glad to know that he has a desirable position in a college of high standing.

The Telephone Register of last week says: County Recorder Maloney has just closed a record-breaking month in his office, having received 480 instruments for record in March. The cash receipts for the month were $528.50, besides $80 yet due in cases where parties living at a distance are to remit upon receipt of statement. The number of instruments for record and the amount collected in fees is each almost double that of the best month in the history of the office. Besides the profitable work for the county Mr. Maloney is required by law to record free certain work sent out by the land office, and also to keep track of numerous maps and municipal additions. He has had to employ an extra deputy for the past month to assist his own regular deputy, in order to keep the work from pilling up too deep.

The second anniversary of the founding of the Christian church in Newberg will be celebrated with appropriate exercises today, Thursday, and this evening.

Ebon Andrews, a prosperous Morrow county farmer who was on his way home from a visit with his parents at Ashland, stopped off here the first of the week to call on some of his former acquaintances.

J. T. Smith has removed his stock of merchandise to the room in the Graphic building, formerly occupied by Brown the tailor. The room he vacated has been taken by a Portland lady who is opening up a stock of millinery.

Thomas Roode who came here recently from Wabash, Indiana, has bought a lot of Jesse Edwards on College street, adjoining the lot on which Mrs. Capitola Cummings is building, and is putting in a foundation for a new residence which he will build at once. He is a carpenter and will be his own boss.

Work on the Beaverton cut off in the vicinity of Oswego is progressing rapidly with a large force of men making the dirt fly. The kinks are being taken out of the track, making it as nearly straight as possible. It is generally assumed that with the completion of the bridge across the Willamette at Oswego, trains on the Yamhill branch will be run into the union depot, but it has not been officially announced that this will be the case. People differ in opinion as to the desirability of such a change, some saying they would prefer to be taken to the old Jefferson street station on account of being able to get down town in less time, while others who have a creeping horror of the Elk Rock trestle, say they will welcome the day when they can be carried around to the union station, so there you are. It will be a case of flipping a penny to decide the matter, or of leaving it to the S. P. officials to decide for us, and most likely the latter.
