RESIDENCES OF STONE RISING

FRENCH'S NOW ABOUT COMPLETED

Combination of Pink, Brown and Black Rock Quarried Locally Makes Attractive Home—McCuiston Also Building of This Material.

Located on a knoll in Deschutes addition with a commanding view of the town and mountains, the new home of A. L. French, which is nearly ready to move into, takes its place among the best residences Bend has. It is also the first to be built of stone. The cost was $4000.

Mr. French's house is of two stories and has seven rooms, with bath. There are four rooms downstairs and three upstairs. There is also a front and back porch, with cellar underneath the former. The living room has a fireplace, the other rooms being heated by stoves.

The outside front is trimmed with brown and black stone, which gives a beautiful effect in conjunction with the pink sandstone of which the house is constructed. The interior finish is first grade fir and is quite attractive. The fireplace in the living room will have a cement hearth and mantel. The approach to the house from the front is by cement steps and walk, with the walk extending around to the rear.

The stone work was done by W. A. Beaver and the carpenter work by W. P. Golden, both being good jobs.

Already the Frenchs have flowers and shrubbery set out around the house. The building will be ready for occupancy within a short time.

McCuiston Builds of Stone.

Bend's second stone residence is now under construction in Park Addition, being built by W. C. McCuiston. It will be a story and a half high and have six rooms, with all modern conveniences. The walls are well up, the stone work being done by Hunnell & Van Matre. The McCuistons will be able to move in this summer, the construction being carried on rapidly. The cost will be about $4000.

Since it is a necessity, most desirable, and will last a lifetime,
—isn't it thoughtless not to get it now instead of later? The durability of "Standard" modern bathroom fixtures make the question of length of service merely a matter of whether we are permitted to install the equipment now or later.
