MERCHANTS AND CLERKS ENJOY BIG PICNIC ON THE METOLIUS

Members of the Bend Merchants association, their employes and friends, numbering nearly 200, spent yesterday picnicking at the Heising ranch at the head of the Metolius, returning to the city Wednesday. Fine weather was enjoyed, with the exception of a brief shower, and the greater part of the day was spent in the open, a program of athletic games and contests being provided by the entertainment committee. Meals were served by the O. I. C. cafeteria, and music for dancing, which was enjoyed indoors at irregular intervals, was furnished by Emmett Molitor. The outing was generally declared one of the most successful of the season.

Features of the program were the volley ball game, between the merchants and the clerks, won by the latter by a score of 50 to 47; the men's baseball game, won by the merchants from the clerks by a 39 to 14 score; and a ball game between the married and the unmarried women, won by the latter by a score of 18 to 8.

Results in other sports were as follows, winners listed in the sequence in which they finished: Fat men's race, L. M. Foss, R. M. Smith; ladies race, Mrs. J. C. Vandevert, Miss Laura Ziegler; men's free for all, Claude Metz, John Steidl; merchants' race, M. P. Cashman; broad jump, M. P. Casnman; race (ladies) Miss Triplett, Miss Markel; egg race (men) M. P. Cashman, H. J. Power; boys' race, Blaine O'Rell, Frederic Howard; three-legged race (men) Metz and Barnes, Cashman and Power; potato race (ladies) Miss Myrtle Harris, Miss Laura Ziegler; throwing contest (ladies), Miss Ziegler, Miss Neff; girls' race, Venola Gibson, Virginia Huston.

Voting contests for the most popular man picked R. M. Smith for first place and E. L. Payne for second, while Miss Helen Becken and Miss Maybelle Boyer were selected as first and second, respectively, in a personal pulchritude contest. J. L. Gaither was acclaimed the most homely man present, D. G. McPherson taking second honors, and Miss Becken was first in popularity among the ladies, with Mrs. Vandevert second.

QUARRY IS STARTED FOR BUILDING STONE

Red and Black Rock to Supply Local Demand Will Be Produced By New Organization.

To provide a steady supply of high grade building stone in answer to the local demand for a material of the kind, an organization of Bend business men, including O. C. Henkle, J. Ryan and H. Mehl, has been formed, and preparation of the quarry site for the production of building blocks from native stone was started on Saturday.

The plant is located on the fish hatchery road immediately west of West Bend Acres, which was recently placed on the market by Mr. Ryan. Mr. Mehl, who will manage the quarry, is a stone expert who recently arrived in Bend from Chehalis, Wash.

It is expected that the output will amount to approximately 500 cubic feet at the beginning, with a possible increase later on. Both black and red varieties of stone are available.

BUILDING BONDS ARE DONATED BY MOOSE

Building bonds, which had been sold three years ago by the Moose lodge of Bend, to the value of more than $1100, were donated to the lodge by their purchasers at the meeting of the order Thursday. The donations started spontaneously in the course of a discussion of the possibility of building a lodge club and office block.

BEND IS URGED TO CAPITALIZE ITS RESOURCES

WONDERS OF NATURE COMMENTED ON

PAVING MAN SPEAKS

C. S. Reed, Head of Willite Company, Addressing Emblem Club, Advises Surfacing For Downtown Streets of Bend.

C. S. Reed, president of the Willits Paving company, served the final course of Los Angeles spirit to a gathering of Bend business and professional men Friday at an informal dinner given at the Emblem Club. Mr. Reed is in the city this week in the interests of his company, which has the contract for the laying of Willite paving for the tramways at the plant of The Shevlin-Hixon Company.

That Bend has opportunity to capitalize its natural opportunities just as Los Angeles, today the metropolis of the Pacific coast, and that Bend's business interests should make known to the world those natural wonders was advice given by Mr. Reed who commented at length upon Central Oregon which, he said, persons living about them seldom appreciated to the fullest extent. Los Angeles, he said, capitalized its climate, beauties and its water. Bend, he said, from his observation has these three fundamentals and that if the world knew about them the world would come.

Chance For Factories.

"This section," said Mr. Reed, "is essentially a wood country. If I were you business men I would bring into Bend factories whose operations have to do with wood. There's the match, the tooth pick, wooden shoe peg, toys. With these others would come. Go out and show big business concerns that you have what they want. You should take advantage of your location. Get out and get in touch with the world. Today there are homeseekers eager for just such country as yours and they ought to know what you have. There are people who want to buy the land and work it."

In speaking of roads Mr. Reed said that he could see the great necessity for good roads in Central Oregon, owing to the absence of other transportation facilities into interior points. Mr. Reed commented at length upon the rapid growth of the good roads development throughout the United States and especially upon the Pacific coast.

Mr. Reed stated that he had informally taken up with citizens of the city the matter of laying Willite on some of the downtown city streets and from his observation of materials for road construction his company could make the most attractive offer of any city in the United States owing to the nearness of road construction materials and the low cost of bringing them to the work.

"Picture Brides?"

The manner of "picture bride" marriages in California is this: A Japanese sends his picture to his relatives in Japan who select a suitable maiden and in turn forward her photograph to the waiting suitor in America. If satisfactory, the relatives on both sides meet, hold a banquet and the marriage is considered a fact. The wife then joins her husband in this country.

SHORTAGE OF TEACHERS IN BEND FEARED

QUALIFICATIONS ARE MADE LESS STRICT

MARRIAGE PERMITTED

Board Still in Quandary Over Seating Question—Decision Expected at Adjourned Meeting Set For Monday Night.

A widespread shortage of teachers, threatening to leave the Bend schools with a faculty much smaller than is actually necessary, induced the directors of district No. 1, in session last night, to authorize a temporary downward revision of formal qualification standards insofar as the schools outside the Bend city limits are concerned. The rule against the employment of married women as instructors was also set aside for the territory outside of Bend, but it was stipulated that none of the instructory elected under these special conditions should later be transferred to the city schools without first having met the city requirements. Aside from the rule against the employment of married women, the chief change in requirements is in the temporary abandonment of the rule that a new applicant for a position on the faculty must have a normal school training.

New Teachers Named.

On the recommendation of City Superintendent Moore and the teachers committee of the board, one high school instructor, Miss Tressa Churchman of Portland, was elected to fill the vacancy in the commercial department. Consideration of the recommendation for the appointment of Merle Moore, athletic coach and manual training instructor here last year, for the position of high school principal, was postponed to a later meeting, and Miss Nellie Pattison of Bend was elected as grade principal to succeed Mrs. Veronica Cane Coleman, resigned. The new grade teachers elected are: Stella M. Andrews, Bend; Emma C. Brack, Woodburn; Pearl Dutt, Fayetteville, Ark.; Anna Lund, Portland; Genevieve Maher, Balaton, Minn.; Louise Yarnell, Bartow, Fla.; Harry Seeling, Bellingham, Wash. The board accepted the resignations of Mrs. Coleman and of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph C. Johnson from the faculty.

On the Way.

The time seems to be coming when those who indulge in luxury and show will be regarded with quite as much suspicion and contempt as was formerly directed toward those who haunted the doors of chicken coops after dark.—Utica Observer.
