Since the exhibition of the two volunteer fire companies on last Wednesday afternoon, considerable interest has been aroused among the members. The boys on the hand engine ran the chemical engine boys a close race and we think honors should be divided even. Although the time made was not record breaking by any means, they did very well for beginners. More frequent practice is what is necessary and the present rivalry will stimulate them to better services. In three or four weeks time both companies will be much better drilled and equipped. Keep practicing.

MARRIED—Once more cupid has done his work and there are "Two minds with but a single thought, two hearts that beat as one," and the happy people are Mr. C. H. Voegtly and Miss Louella Williams. They were married at the home of the bride's parents, March 20 at 6:30 p. m., Rev. A. J. Irwin officiating. The bride is a very charming young lady and has been a resident of this county since childhood. Mr. Voegtly needs no introduction to our readers having been one of our most successful business men for years and is known to almost every one in the county. We join a host of friends in wishing the young couple happiness.

Much discussion was indulged on the question of prices of shearing at the recent woolgrower's meeting at The Dalles. The general opinion was that 6 cents per head should be adopted as the uniform price for this season. In view of the fact that the ordinary sheepshearer averages 100 head per day 6 cents is regarded as sufficient compensation, when added to board and lodging. It was generally conceded that the present status of the wool market does not justify a higher price this season. Another meeting of woolgrowers will occur September the 10, at Hepner.

A recent dispatch from Washington to the Oregonian, says: The Quartermaster's Department is highly pleased with the manner in which horses have been secured in Oregon for shipment to the Philippines. Officials state that Oregon bidders are able to fill orders promptly and at reasonable prices, and the horses when purchased, give unqualified satisfaction in the island service. The transport Kintuck, sailing from Portland in a few days, has been ordered to carry 600 of these horses and 200 mules for Philippine service.
