JULIAN BYRD - - - - Manager

"Simply overwhelmed by the manifold resources and possibilities of this immense Valley," is the way J. J. Sayer, field secretary of the Oregon Development League, expressed himself upon his visit here the first of the week. That is the manner all express themselves when first viewing this big country. It is impossible to tell about it one must see it to fully appreciate its greatness and this is the right season of the year to come.

COMMERCIAL CLUB.

Two call meetings of the Commercial Club were held this week, one on Monday evening and another last night. The first was to meet with J. J. Sayer, field secretary of the Oregon Development League. Mr. Sayer made some very good suggestions in respect to organized efforts to advertise the resources of this great interior country and his trip was for the particular purpose of getting in closer touch with this section, and establish a closer relation with the people. He said he had not been prepared to find such a tremendous country and was simply overwhelmed with its great possibilities. He left Tuesday morning for Prineville being taken over by C. F. McKinney.

Last night a meeting was held at the court house but there were only a few present. Judge Miller was elected president to fill out the unexpired term of Hon. Frank Davey, who resigned.

The matter of a representative [illegible]ation to attend the meeting [illegible] Prineville to organize the [illegible]ral Oregon Development [illegible]ue was taken up and a [illegible]tee was appointed to can[illegible] situation and see how [illegible]uld go. There will be a [illegible]egation.

[illegible]ommittee consisting of Harry C. Smith Platt Randal, Ben Brown, Morris Schwartz and Dell Dibble was appointed to arrange for a celebration on July 4.

I. S. Geer suggested that as the county now has the necessary machinery it might be well to macadanize main street, purchasing the material from the county. Those present seemed to favor it and and a committee consisting of I. S. Geer, J. L. Gault and Fred Lunaburg will take up the proposition with property owners, ascertain the procable cost and see what can be done.

SOME ENCOURAGING PROSPECTS.

The Portland Telegram says: W. P. Keady, right-of-way agent of the Milwaukee system who secured most of the property required by the Earling road for its extension to the Pacific Coast, went into Central Oregon today as a scout for the Harriman people, and will spend the Summer preparing data preliminary to the construction of an east-and-west line across the state. This is the project known as the Oregon Eastern, which is to connect the present main line of the Southern Pacific with the Oregon Short Line at or about Ontario, probably using the Malheur Valley Railroad as the connection from the Idaho boundary. The project also embraces the valuable rights which were acquired by the Harriman people some months ago from the Boise & Western, a reputed Hill scheme for paralleling the Harriman route across Oregon.

The route which will be taken by Keady in his reconnoitering expedition will cover first the proposition of a branch line from some point on the Deschutes Railroad—Madras or Metollius to Prineville. The next, proposition will be in relation to the route that will be followed from the present extension of the Oregon Eastern, now built about 35 miles south from Natron on eastward through Crook, Harney and Malheur Counties over to the Oregon Short Line.

He expects to be in the interior for several weeks before making his first advance report here following the opening of the fiscal year of July 1.

GOLDEN WEDDING.

On Thursday, June 15, Mr. and Mrs. A. W. Howser, pioneer residents of this valley, celebrated their golden wedding at the family home near Harney. Fifty years ago A. W. Howser and Hannah Kuster were married in Marysville, California. They came to Harney valley Septembes 28, 1876 and have since resided here. Each will be 73 years old in September and they have journeyed the half century with few ills so far. They are highly esteemed pioneers who enjoy a wide acquaintance. Eight chi'dren were born to them, six daughters and two sons. Two daughters have died and all the other children with the exception of one daughter, Mrs. C. C. Kilburn, were at the old family home Thursday. They were: Mrs. Lou Stenger. Mrs. Thos. Vickers, Mrs. J. E. Loggan; Thos and Rad Howser. Sixteen grandchildred and five great grandchildren were present.

A large number of friends of the family called during the day to express their congratulations and wish the estimable old couple several more celebrations of their marriage before either is called to the long rest.

The writer has known Mr. and Mrs Howser for 28 years and during all these years from his childhood up to the present has always counted them among his best friends who still retain the hospitable feeling of the early pioneer days when he first met them.

ROAD MACHINERY HERE.

The fine new road building equipment recently ordered by our county court, has arrived and will be put to work immediately. The big roller and engine broke the Foley slough bridge down Tuesday then the drivers attempted to cross and caused considerable inconvenience. The machine had almost reached the opposite end of the bridge when a bent gave way, the machine dropping down some distance. No part of it was broken and a force of men with cables, pulleys, etc, succeeded in pulling it out Thursday. It seems the planking on the bridge did not give way but one of the supports had slipped causing the accident.

Judge Thompson and Commissioner Sylvester yesterday picked a site for the rock crusher on a ledge of rock just east and north of the Frank Welcome residence in this city where it will first be put into operation.

We learn the machinery received is satisfactory so far as first appearances are concerned and that the people who sold it will give a practical demonstration of its work before the county is obliged to pay for it.

LAND GRANT OFFICE HERE.

John R. Stinson, Crook county representative of the Oregon & Western Colonization Co., came over from Prineville Thursday bringing A. J. Wasgatt, of Duluth, Minn., who comes to establish an office here for the company and who will have charge of the land grant lands in Harney county. Mr. Wasgatt has fixed temporary headquarters with the Silver Creek Irrigation Co. awaiting a suitable suite in the Hissner building which will be in readiness later.

For the present Frank Johnson, who preceded the party several days, will be with Mr. Wasgatt and assist him in getting familiar with the lands and matters pertaining to leases, ect. Mr. Jonnson is well known to Harney county people and more or less familiar with the entire road grant lands in this territory therefore will be of much assistance. Frank is connected with the Prineville office but will spend more or less time in this county as his services are required.

Mr. Stinson was accompanied over by his wife and also by Mrs. Frank Johnson and little daughter who will remain here visiting relatives and friends until Frank goes back to Prineville. Mrs. Johnson was formerly Miss Jennie McPheeters.

Mr. Stinson expects to return to Prineville tomorrow. President Davidson of the company will not come in at this time as was expected. He was in Prineville the first of this week in campany with a big party of Northern Pacific Railroad officials and stated to Mr. Stinson that he would not visit this section on the present trip.

The establishment of an office to handle the lands of Oregon & Western Colonization Co. in this county would indicate a more active campaign to dispose of lands and coupled with the announcement of railroad right-of-way men entering the field it is significant.
