LOCAL NEWS—HARNEY VALLEY.

WEDNESDAY, MARCH 21, 1888.

DEMOCRATIC PRIMARIES.

Returns from Burns Precinct.

On motion, Mr. Grace was made chairman; W. C. Byrd, secretary. The proper committees and judges were appointed. The following delegates were elected to represent Burns precinct in the county convention: Robert Terrell, George McGowan, Joe Wooley, William Skinner. Next in order, nomination of Justice of Peace and Constable: J. Parker received nomination for Justice; Henry Cheatham, Constable.

W. C. BYRD, Sec'y.

BURNS, Oregon, March 20, 1888.

Chairman of County Convention: This is to certify that the following named delegates were duly elected to represent Burns Precinct in the County Convention: Robert Terrell, George McGowan, Joe Wooley, William Skinner.

W. C. BYRD, Sec'y.

—Club meeting at Bent. Embree's, on 24th inst.

—Democratic County Convention Wednesday, March 28.

—Wild goose shooting is all the rage, with P. S. Early and "Tex" in the lead up to date.

—Chas. Bowman, fancy carpenter, will be in Burns in a short while, and go into business.

—Chas. Johnson left yesterday for Cow creek, where he will be in the employ of W. W. Johnson.

—Road-Supervisor Harvey has been busy working the road near Warm Spring below Burns, this week.

—Mr. Davis, of the firm of Davis & Blut, and a resident of Nebraska, was in town for a few days, buying mutton sheep.

—John Robinson of the firm of Robinson & Dodson, is slowly recovering from an attack of inflammatory rheumatism.

—The "Burns Beer" manufactured out of the best material by Locher, the Burns' brewer, is a superior article; 25c per bottle. *

—Geese, ducks, and swans may be seen in the swamps by the thousand: now is the time for sportsmen to get in and try their luck with the gun.

—Blitzen has organized a school in District No. 45, with the following board of directors: G. W. Wilshire, Mr. McGlothlin, N. Comegys, and Mr. Howell, clerk.

—George LeDuc, a professional dancing master came from Paisley to Burns, last week in company with George Hays of Summer Lake, and will remain several days.

—The name of John W. Sayer is is this week presented for the consideration of the republican voters of Grant county, for the office of County Clerk.

—Canyon City's democratic candidate for the office of assessor, T. J. Cosad, is mentioned most favorably as a citizen and gentleman of worth and credit to the party he is willing to represent as assessor.

—The saloon next to the post-office is always open for the reception of customers, and never fails to keep on hand the best brands of liquors: wines, brandies, and whiskies, as well as cigars, and tobacco. *

—D. T. Aubrey, of Silver creek, was in town Monday. He reports his sheep doing well; that during the severe weather this winter, his sheep were without feed for 26 days; and out of a band of 1100, his loss was 100.

—An early exodus of citizens to their ranches is taking place: this week we noticed the family of J. C. Garrett, moving out to Silver creek; that of T. D. Harris to the Island; and four other families, names not known to us, passing northward.

—Our thanks are due Geo. Hays of Summer Lake, for a half-dozen catalpa speciosa with which to adorn our office lot; Mr. Hays passed through town last Saturday, enroute to the Blitzen country, with trees and plants for his ranch, situated within two miles of the Comegys ranch.

—Jud. I Haguewood, John Day's candidate for sheriff, is spoken of generally, by his friends as a good citizen, therefore, a good democrat, and vice versa. That is exactly the kind of man the democratic party of Grant county means to put in the field, for one who is loyal to the interests of democracy, will be equally true to the interests of the office he holds in trust for the benefit of the people.

—The Century for March is a very fine number, containing among other things another paper by Theodore Roosevelt describing ranch life in the West; a rarely beautiful poem, "The White Tsar's People;" additional chapters of "The Graysons;" the conclusion of "Au Large;" the biography of Lincoln, which reaches the "Call to Arms;" further details of the prison life of Russian revolutionists, by Kennan; a finely illustrated article, "Col. Rose's Tunnel at Libbey Prison," giving an account of the escape of 109 prisoners from Libbey, by one of their number. We have only enumerated a few of the leading features of this handsome magazine, which should be in every home.

—Jos. Hudspeth's dance on last Friday night was much enjoyed. The names of persons taking part in the evening's pleasure:

Mr. and Mrs. Parsons,
Mr. and Mrs. J. Bennett,
Mr. and Mrs. M. M. Cushing,
Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Buchanan,

[illegible]
Meadows, Jno. Cates, and Jas. Varien.

Third Meeting of Burns Club.

The "Burns Democratic Club" met, and was called to order by the president, Chas. Ziegler. The minutes of the previous meeting read and approved. The resolutions of the club were read for the benefit of new attendants, and a number of names were added to the roll, which increased the membership to 70 in number. On motion by Dr. S. B. McPheeters an assessment of 25 cts was levied upon each member, for the purpose of defraying expenses of the club, and the amount deposited with the secretary. The assembly was entertained in an interesting manner by Messrs. McPheeters, T. A. McKinnon, and D. L. Grace. The meeting was then adjourned to meet the first Saturday in April at 2 o'clock p m.

J. E. McKINNON, Sec.

Burns Band Dance.

Considering the very short notice given, this was quite a lively affair, last Friday evening, and the attendance good. The supper was very good; the music by Messrs. Adkin and Cavin, good; the following is a list of those present:

Mr. and Mrs. W. Parker,
Mr. and Mrs. Tice Adkins,
Mr. and Mrs. T. D. Harris,
Mr. and Mrs. Lee Caldwell,
Mr. and Mrs. M. N. Fegtly,
Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Vaughn,
P. S. Early and Mrs. Jas. Copshall,
A. Hostetter and Miss Mary Waters,
John Howe and Miss Elma Perkins,
W. E. Grace and Miss Emma Munjar,
Ed. Hanley and Miss Arvilla Bunyard,
John Newman and Miss Lizzie Garrett,
Robt. McKinnon and Miss Eva Waters,
Wm. Shackleton and Miss Cora Harris,
J. E. McKinnon and Miss Carrie Allison,
Jasper McKinnon and Miss Laura Galloway,

Harney's Ball and Oyster Supper.

Van. Curtis' Ball at Harney on the evening of 16th instant, and advertised in THE HERALD the past three weeks was as promised one of the most successful affairs of the season, although few of the Burns pleasure-lovers participated, on account of the Band dance and a ball in the country taking place the same evening. The oyster supper was excellent. The music, by Messrs. Clark, Wood, and Gilliam, was fine; among those present were:

Mr. and Mrs. Canfield,
Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Leasy,
Mr. and Mrs. Geo. Stovall,
A. Page and Miss Viola Clark,
Ed. Henry and Miss Belle Wyatt,
Thos. Bain and Miss Mary James,
Frank Davis Miss May Catterson,
Chas. Rush and Miss Anna James,
Ed. Lynn and Miss Viola Alberson,
Jno. Loggan and Miss Annie Briferly,
N. McDonald and Miss Ina Alberson,
Geo. Briferly and Miss Belle Claypool,
Geo. S. Sizemore and Miss Alta McGee,
Mr. Cotegworth and Miss Annie Ward,
Thos. Houser, and Miss Rosa Loggan,
Geo. Heckathorn and Miss Jennie Page,
Chas. Brandon and Miss Maggie Loggan,
J. W. Johnson and Miss Luella McDonald,
Wm. McGlynery and Miss Grace Canfield,
Messrs. Geo. Buchanan, Frank Conn, James Brandon, Jno. Carey, Jno. Canfield, Wm. Alberson, Wm. Stovall, Miles Riley, Ralt. Houser, Paul Brookter, Jno. Hall, Wm. Morrison, Chas. Roper, Phil. Bruner.

Bloomington Nursery.

A fine lot of trees were bought a year ago from the above nursery by Geo. Hays, and set out on his timber culture claim in Lake county, and stood the severest form of cold winter weather that has ever visited Eastern Oregon, without loss. We had every assurance of the hardihood of the goods sent out by this house, before soliciting advertising from it. The terms are reasonable (being freed from the agents' commission when ordered through THE HERALD), we believe entire satisfaction will result in every instance where purchases are made with this nursery; Mr. Crane (whose address is "G. W. Crane, Box 1216, Bloomington, Ill.), furnishes plain directions for planting and caring for the goods bought of him, and the packing by this house we know, cannot be surpassed.

Mr. Hays sustains us in this assertion as he says he has received plants by mail in the winter from this nursery, that were so well put up that none were damaged, and all were thrifty.

"Vanity," or "Greed?"

Nothing can bring to the front a vain man's egotism more unmistakably than to place him in an official position. If he has capably performed the functions of his office, the people are as willing to have him re-elected to serve them a second term, as he can be to show them that familiarity with the duties of his office enables him to even more capably serve them in the second than in the first term; if, after the second service, he, like a good democrat, recognizing the fact that as good material may be had where he came from, (from the rank and file of democracy), at all times, retires cheerfully to give place to other of his fellow-citizens, he has made a political record for fair-play that the people are not slow to remember. But, if, on the contrary, he permit his vanity to so far get the upper hand of his common-sense, as to demand a third, or fourth term of the same, or to step out of that into another office, his undemocratic spirit is at once characterized by a rougher word than "vanity": by the straight-out word "hoggishness," and, when in future campaigns, his name is favorably mentioned, the reply is: "No discount on his capacity to do good service, but he's like a republican, once he gets the public teat between his gums, you can't rope him off." "Rotation in office" is a fundamental principle of democracy, and no man should be allowed to forget it. A second term in office where the service has been faithfully rendered, is a ruling acceptable to the people, from the office of President of the Nation down to coroner for a county, but a demand for more should relegate the applicant, together with incurable "sore-heads" and "kickers," to the obscurity to which their actions prove they belong.
