OUR LATE NEWS

FROM ALL PARTS OF THE WORLD

Political, Social, Religious, and Educational Events.

Murders, Suicides, Thefts, Accidents, Losses by fire, Blood, Rail, Cyclone and Blizzard.

Jay Gould says 1890 will be a prosperous year.

A storage dam, in Arizona, gave way, doing damage to property and drowning about 60 persons.

A fine oil portrait, mounted in gilt frame, of Ex-President Cleveland, is to be hung in the White House.

A hurricane swept over the northern portion of Texas; destroyed about twenty buildings and injured several persons.

Sillcott, the absconding cashier of the sergeant-at-arms of the National House of Representatives, is thought to be somewhere in Washington.

The women's crusade in Missouri was a failure. They succeeded in demolishing one saloon. They were found guilty of disturbing the peace and fined.

The Prince of Wales, it is said, has reformed. He has quit visiting prize-fights and horse-races, in fact his general conduct is said to be very commendable.

The Senate Committee on finance has agreed to lay aside Windom's silver bill, recommending one making it compulsory upon the Secretary of the Treasury to coin $4,000,000 per month instead of $2,000, as now provided.

James Gilbret the Mexican eight-foot giant with Barnum's show two years ago, and Miss Gwennie Williams, lately lieutenant of the Salvation Army, aged 19, height scarcely five feet, were publicly married at the armory in Scranton on the evening of Feb. 20th. Over 700 people were present each paying 50c admission.

The Chicago Times (Independent) thinks the outlook for the Democratic party in Illinois is most excellent. It says "the Republican party is torpid; there is no party approval of the Harrison administration; the Cook county organization has gone to pieces; the Illinois senators are at variance with the White House; Gov. Fifer's appointees in the railroad and warehouse board are notoriously controlled by railroads and warehouses, and the State administration is received with suspicion."

The change of Rev. Thomas S. Childs, from the Presbyterian to the Episcopal church is causing harsh feelings among the divines. Rev. John P. Carter speaking of the proposed revision of confession of faith said: "I look upon the revison as disloyalty, equal to the rebellion in the southern States. These ministers who advocate revision, who continue in the church, and draw $10,000 salaries, are obtaining money under false pretenses."

Sensational development, Feb. 24th, followed by an accident to a workman named Pietzhkjoffgj, who fell a distance of 100 feet breaking both thighs, near Pierre, S. D. Pietzhkjoffgj thought he was going to die and made a confession. He is an exile from Russia, and was implicated in the plot to blow up the Czar two years ago, and gave the names of several high Russian officers who were concerned. He has important documents in his possession to substantiate his assertions.

National Democrat: The Senate committe on privileges and election on Saturday, began an investigation of the credentials of several claimants for seats in Senate from Montana. Colonel Halbert E. Paine presented the case for the Republican claimants; Messrs. Sanders, Powers and ex-Solicitor-General Jenks, presented the case for Messrs. Magin and Clark, the Democratic claimants. The committee adjourned for two weeks, without considering a request by Col. Paine, to be permitted to meet applicants, introduced by the Democrats.

The noted actress, Mary Anderson, is in poor health, and too weak to accompany her friends to England, Feb. 15.

Two young colored men, James and George Alexander, Feb 19, were drowned at Victoria, while skating on a pond near that city.

THE calls of the State central committees of both political parties, to arrange for their conventions, shows that the campaign of this State will soon be opened.

The fight between Jack Dempsey and Billie McCarty, which come off in San Francisco, Feb. 18, resulted in a complete victory for Dempsey. He knocked out Billie in twenty-six rounds.

John Jacob Astor, died at his residence in New York, Saturday, Feb. 22. He was the eldest son of the late Wm. Astor and grandson of the original John Jacob Astor, who founded the fortune of the family.

A remarkable freak of nature is to be found in a spring in the western part of N. C. When stooping over the spring to drink, a frightful face is seen to approach the surface apparently from the bottom of the spring. No one has had the courage to drink.

Two men called at the house of Mr. Danmon Smith, of Harrisburg, Feb. 27, and requested him to go to the drug store to fill a prescription. After entering one of the men covered Mr. S. with a revolver, and demanded the safe opened, which was immediately done and the safe robbed of $900 and a gold watch. The robbers escaped.

The deadlock which has existed in the lower house of the Iowa legislature for sometime, ended on the evening of the 19th ult. The Democrats get the speaker and several assistant clerks. The Republicans the speaker pro tem, and the other officers, also, the chairmanship of the most important committees. Hamilton selected Speaker, and Wilson, speaker pro tem.

Miss Regina Rothchild, of Port Townsend, will leave, March 17, on a trip around the world in less than sixty days. Citizens have subscribed $3,000 and it is a proposal to beat George Francis Train, of Boston, who leaves Tacoma the same day, going west. She will go by way of Canadian Pacific to New York, thence embarking on the French steamer La Normandie, for Harve, France; thence to Brindisi, Italy, by train; thence by steamer past Hong Kong to Yokohama. Fourteen days later she will be expected arrive at Cape Hatteras, where an American steam-tug will be waiting to convey her to Port Towsend.

The inventor of a new bogus coffee is putting his article on the Eastern market successfully at present, merely on the strength of the remarkable resemblance the spurious coffee bean bears to the real article. It has not the taste of coffee, but is mixed freely with good coffee. The shape, color and varied sizes of the bogus coffee bean when mixed with natural coffee is not readily detected by the ordinary retail dealer, but the experienced wholesale dealer will detect the imitation at once. With it alone, no coffee drinker could be deceived, but with enough good coffee with it, he would only know "it took a great deal of coffee to make a man a cup of good coffee."

The case against Mrs. Sarah Althea Terry, in the U. S. court for resisting the attempt of a U. S. Marshal to arrest her at order of Justice Fields, (as related at length in THE HERALD) was not dismissed because she had been ejected by the Marshal before the oral order was reduced to writing. The illustrations of the manner in which the lady had been seized, while Judge Terry was struggling with six men, to get to her aid; of how she "clawed" with kid gloved hands; of how guardedly the acts of the U. S. officials that day were covered by witnesses, "I don't know," are amusing to any one conversant with the Terry troubles. Mrs. Terry's case was still under way Feb. 25.

STATE NEWS.

—A cyclone at The Dalles.

—The glove contest between Jas. Sullivan and Wm. Whitney postponed.

—Fruit men of The Dalles fears the cold weather will cut the fruit crop short.

—The Upper Columbia is having a freeze up; ice is floating and navigation will doubtless be suspended.

—East Oregonian's difinition of protection: "It is taking from a thousand men what they need and deserve, and giving to one man who neither needs nor deserves."

—A carpenter at Salem, on the night of Feb. 23, was taken to the city jail, drunk, and at breakfast he was found dead. Coroner's jury verdict: death by a drunken fit.

—The thermometers in the Hamilton section, so the Eagle says, proved themselves to be far too inferior to register the weather, last Wednesday morning, all freezing up and bursting, with exception of J. H. Hamilton's which registered the mercury at 38 degrees below zero.

—The accident on the Southern Pacific railroad, on the 29th of last July, by which engineer, Jack Miller, and fireman Quint Guthrie, lost their lives, is made the basis of two damage suits; Emma Miller brings suit for $5,000 and W. A. Guthrie for a similar amount.—Albany Democrat.

—Not long since a man took to Salem a skeleton, said to have been found when on a cruise from Willapa on Shoal-water bay to Astoria. A ring worn on the third finger bore the engraving, "To E. V. from E. B." The remains are supposed to be those of Miss Eva Burbank, a beautiful and accomplished lady who was drowned in the surf several years ago.—Albany Democrat.

Bedrock Democrat: The two convicts Whitson and Wilde, sentenced Monday forenoon to one and a half years in the penitentary for larceny, broke jail Monday night at 7 o'clock and are still at large They used a crowbar and are supposed to have had outside assistance. Smith and Roundtree remain in jail and await transportation to Salem. Every effort is being made to recapture the fugatives, who, it is believed are making toward the Wallowa valley.

—From late information, Henry Egli, of Silver lake, went out some time in last month to hunt out some horses in the mountains; was overtaken by a storm on his return. Drove the horses as long as was able to get them on; left them and went on as far as his horse would bear him without food; became bewildered and lost, and was out eight days before reaching habitation, having subsisted in that time on the flesh of his saddle horse, which hunger had obliged him to kill.

—Feb. 27, a party of young ladies and gentlemen were returning from a skating pond, near The Dalles, were overtaken by a freight train, on a trestle. One young man, with cool presence of mind, placed all the party in a sitting posture on the end of the sills just as the engine swept by them. Air brakes were set, but not until the engine and two cars had passed them. The party climbed on top the cars and were taken to the freight depot.

—Two boys, sons of T. B. Clark, aged 11 and 13, were badly burned, Feb. 22. The boys were playing near a powder house where they had found some powder they supposed wet; they built a fire to dry it when the powder exploded, setting fire to their clothes. Their cries attracted their mother, who seized the youngest and threw him into a pool of water; the other boy started to run, faning the fire into a flame; she finally caught him and treating him the same. Hands and face severely burned. They will probably recover.
