GET HIM A JOB

It would redown honor to the fair name of the state of Oregon to enact a labor law, giving the Labor commissioner complete control over the "Employment Agency" business, taking the same out of the hands of "the sharks" that are found in the larger cities of the state, have a branch state employment office in each town, where our citizens may get help and work for the asking.

If there is a state wide system of employment given, every workingman may work all the year.

Think of the many homes that will be gladdened and troubles averted.

HURRAH FOR P. U.!

This office has received a copy of the Alumni edition of the Weekly Index of Pacific university. After reading the paper, it is inspiring to note that the same spirit predominates at "Old Pacific" today, that kindled the flames of achievement in the hearts of Thos. H. Tongue, Harvey Scott and a host of other illustrious students of the past.

Ada F. Taylor, editor-in-chief, and Zenas A. Olson, business manager, are to be congratulated on their good work for Pacific.

KEEP IT UP

Did anyone ever see such a hustling town for its size as Beaverton? Not an empty house in the city, some houses having two families; no "gossipers" here. Everybody pulls together and those good times! We have church services, parties, socials, dances, smokers, baseball games, something doing all the time. The editor has lived here all his life and the town seems better every day. A regular beehive of industry look at our payroll, our churches, our schools and our people. "Best place in the world."

SOCIETY.

Sheriff Reeves was down Friday.

Mr. Billstine, one of the hustling farmers east of town, gave us a good call, last of the week.

J. E. Berst and family have moved to their new home in Skookumville.

If you hired a fellow to haul ice and he brought in wood, wouldn't he be a daisy? Ask Pete Van De Hey.

There is music in Skookumville! Quite a number of the residents of Skookumville lately have been charmed by cornet solos, even the lilies have begun to bloom. Billy Berst has moved in.

Ross Finley, a prominent farmer of the Cedar Mill section, was over Friday.

Jake Reed and family were serenaded last Thursday night by the famous Whitwood quartette. The singing was sweet and the serenade charmed those present; you ought to see Scoovey smile.

St. Mary's Home has had the fence moved back and the street widened between the buildings and the Southern Pacific track.

S. W. McIlvaine residing west of town, has built a new wover wire fence in front of his residence, which is a big improvement.

And they tell us the wedding bells will soon ring again. We didn't miss the other guess did we.

Born to the wife of W. V. Uptegrove, a daughter.

Rigolo Rossi was laying plank along the lane across the beaverdam Friday. Good work.

We have received a carload of Utah land plaster. Beaverton Mercantile Co., Beaverton, Or.

Some kind of an animal broke into the barn at St. Mary's Home last week, and made away with a large sheep, possibly the animal had two feet.

Joseph Finta and rest of the boys were busy Friday, unloading two cars gravel at St. Marys, the same to be used for the foundation of the new barn.

John Doane of Haynes station visited his son Leslie here, Friday evening.

Joseph Laus of Swedville scalded his hand badly while butchering his hogs.

Everything is fine at Crystal Springs. No snow. Perry Ellis is ploughing for spring grain.

Morg Hardy, Beaverton's famous boxer, will play baseball this season. The fans will be glad to see this old boy step up to the plate again for a "home run."

Mr. and Mrs. Otto of Portland were up on a visit Saturday.

Arthur Ball of Cedar Mills bought a Sharples separator from Beaverton Hardware Co. this week.

The officers of the Beaverton Deuches Verin are: W. F. Desinger, president; Wm. Matzke, vice-president; Theo. Doring, secretary; Alb. Muessig, treasurer.

Beaverton Mercantile Co. just received a large shipment of nice enamelware from the East Saturday. Great big pieces at 10c.

Mr. Prickett of Skookumville bought a large Sharples separator of Beaverton Hardware Co., Friday. Shows, hardware and implements can be bought cheaper in Beaverton than in Portland.

Aug. Poulson and neice drove through the city, Sunday.

W. F. Desinger and Sons have been busy this week overhauling the Toggery.

Fixing up the wooden water mains around the city seems to be a steady job.

John Vanderwal, the old-time insurance man, was down from Hillsboro, Tuesday.

W. P. Congdon of Huber was in town, Thursday.

Some of the fireboys attached 100 feet of hose on the hydrant one day last week, and put a stream of water on top of the large Morse hall building. At the present time there are 50 to 60 pounds pressure.

Eugene Dant, the pioneer thresherman of Reedville, was a Beaverton visitor Tuesday.

Quite a number of East End gentlemen held a council Wednesday night on the bridge east of town, discussing some of the important questions of the day catching cayuses, etc.

Deuches Verin

The Beaverton Deuches Verin meets at the residence of A. H. Spraner Sunday, March 15. A full attendance is desired.

W. F. DESINGER, President

THEO. DORING, Secretary.

"Big Three Meet"

Sunday, three of Beaverton's big sports met. They were Morg Hardy, the champion welterweight boxer of the Pacific coast; Henry Aiken, one of the best first basemen in Oregon; Joseph Fitzpatrick, the champion high jumper of the world. "Here where they live."

Sheep Do Well Here

This section of the Willamette valley is a good locality for sheep. A. A. Pike has a band of 41, and this spring he has counted 30 lambs to-date and many twins.

March Jurors

Clerk Luce and Sheriff Reeves this week drew jurors for the term of Circuit court, beginning Monday morning, March 16. Of the thirty-one on the venire, all are farmers, excepting four. Of this quartet, one is blacksmith and three are merchants. The list drawn:

"Put on a Hat"

Not on your head, but on the top of each water valve casing around town. You have noticed, no doubt, in front of each place, where city water has been installed, a wooden box open on top, near the sidewalk down in the bottom of which is the valve to turn on, or shut off city water for said customer. Now it is not the policy of this paper to find fault with anything. We are here for boosting only, and to help make this town the best. There is a danger of somebody after dark stepping in one of these open boxes and getting a limb broken.

A 7-inch cutoff of a 7-inch board, nailed to a 4 inch cutoff of a 4-inch board, will make the "hat," and a 3c strap hinge with six screws will hold the "hat on." The Owl believes it would be a good plan to "put a hat on" before somebody gets hurt.
